Lured from her job as cashier in the McKeesport Y. M. C. A. cafeteria by a "Dr. J. P. Henry, of Connellsville," on a promise of $20-a-week wages to care for his baby, Lena Beller, 17, of Sylvan avenue, McKeesport, found in Morals Court today that "Dr. Henry" was Ralph A. Hazlett, 34, of Allison Park, who, police said, created a commotion in Bellevue a week ago with an avalanche of worthless checks. Hazlett, married and a graduate of the University of Pittsburgh, was arrested with the girl yesterday in a rooming house at 208 Brownsville road, Mt. Oliver, where, police declared, the two had been ocupying adjoining rooms since Tuesday. Hazlett is pictured in the inset.

DANTE described the damned in Hell biting at each other's skulls. The horror seems impossible, but isn't.

In Raymond street Jail a prisoner secretly ground a soup spoon handle to razor edge and with it savagely stabbed a fellow prisoner, "Red" Moran. In prison, or in Hell, bitter hatreds endure.

THIS "Red" Moran, who killed two policemen, said at his trial, "I want to boin in de chair," meaning that he wanted to be burned in the electric chair. Talking the language of the gutter that bred him, stabbed by another criminal, "Red" Moran, 24 years old, shows how poor a chance such men have in life.

AMERICANS talk today of many things—prosperity, politics, assorted crimes, sports.

Today's only news that will interest future generations is the news that on Wednesday actual moving pictures of human beings were sent through the ether, without wires, across the Atlantic Ocean.

HUMAN BEINGS actually saw each other, separated by 3,000 miles of water.

If that is done by a race only 17,000 years from the Stone Age, who can doubt that a million years hence our race will see pictures, coming through the ether, of life on other planets!

SECRETARY KELLOGG, home from Canada, says, "Every question will be adjusted between us, by respect for each other's rights, tolerance and patience."

THAT'S TRUE of Canada and Great Britain. That empire, instead of objecting to our building of fast cruisers and making other common-sense preparation, should be delighted.

BRITAIN and the United States are friends.

Hunt Girl's Grave

NEW PHILADELPHIA, O., Feb. 10.—The confessed slaying by William D. Herron, 41, of his sister-in-law, Miss Viola May, 22, was the culmination of four or five years' intimacy between the two, Herron has admitted, according to his chief counsel, Russell C. Bowers, former prosecuting attorney.

Following his first interview with his client, Bowers today announced a plan previously considered to seek the confessed slayer's release on habeas corpus proceedings had been abandoned.

Even though a murder charge would not hold until the girl's body is found, the attorney said the state could place an assault charge and fix the bail so high it could not be obtained.

FEAR MOB REVENGE

Fear that an aroused populace might seek to wreak vengeance on Herron is also said to have militated against the plan to ask for

Warn Merchants To Beware Of Fraud

Following the receipt of numerous bills for goods they did not order or receive, the S. Hamilton Company, 815-17 Liberty avenue, issued a warning to merchants throughout the city to beware of a man, impersonating an employe of the company, who has obtained goods from various stores. His method is to call a store, say he is employed at Hamilton's, place an order, and then go to the store and get the goods.

BLAST ROCKS TOWN

BEAVER FALLS, Pa., Feb. 10.—Seven men were burned, one probably fatally, in the explosion of cork dust in the cork mill of the Armstrong Cork Company plant here shortly before 1 o'clock this afternoon.

With a roar that shook the entire town one wall of the structure, which occupies almost an entire block, was blown out.

The explosion occurred in the cork mill on the third floor. All the injured were in the room.

FIRE FOLLOWS BLAST

The injured taken to Provident Hospital, Beaver Falls, are Nick Ferline, 32, 1410 Second avenue, probably fatally burned; Robert Simpkins, 35, Eighth avenue, and Edward Mitchell, 25, Eleventh avenue. Those in Beaver Valley Hospital, New Brighton, are Arthur Tanner, 32; Arthur McGeary, 39; John Curutte, 19, and Louie Goiffre, 40. All but Tanner, who resides in New Brighton, live in Beaver Falls.

Immediately after the explosion fire occurred, but it was quickly extinguished. Roy Horning, superintendent of the plant, estimated the loss at $10,000, mostly on equipment.

Henderson Loses Oil Case

By International News Service.

DOVER, Del., Feb. 10.—Finis was written to the long drawn-out court controversy between William H. Henderson, wealthy Pittsburgher, and a number of stockholders against the Plymouth Oil Company over $45,000,000,000 worth of stock when the State Supreme Court ruled in favor of the oil company today.

Henderson and a number of other stockholders charged the oil company with defrauding them of 700,000 shares of stock now valued at more than $445,000,000, but lost their case in the lower courts after several months of continuous court battles. Then they appealed to the State Supreme Court and lost finally when the court ruled against them today, refusing to reopen the case.

Silent Grief, Bravado Satisfaction Exhibited by "Fox" Murder Principals

MRS. EVA HICKMAN

OVERCOME by grief, Mrs. Eva Hickman wandered out into the street at the verdict where she was found a short time later, standing on a corner which rang with the shouts of newsboys.

THE "FOX" LAUGHS

"I'M SATISFIED—satisfied and wanting only to forget," Perry M. Parker, father of the mutilated victim of the "Fox" remarked listlessly as he heard the verdict. Mrs. Parker made no comment.

FATHER OF VICTIM

"THE DIE is cast and the state wins by a neck"—thus the "Fox" faces the gallows whose shadow engulfed him after the jury had returned the verdict placing a noose around his neck. "Of course I'm sane and I know I'll hang. What about it?" he added.

SNAGS FACE CONCERT FOES

There is a possibility, it developed today, that opponents of Sunday concerts will be blocked by a legal technicality in their efforts to carry the Pittsburgh Symphony Society case to the higher courts. But the discovery of the obstacle was not welcomed by the other side, anxious to have the question pass to the highest tribunal for judgment on its merits, and disposed to waive purely technical rights standing in the way. If final adjudication of the controversy cannot be obtained through the present case, it is planned to start the litigation anew in another jurisdiction, where a decision upholding the "blue laws" might be expected from the Common Pleas Court.

William H. Pratt, attorney for the Sabbath Association of the Pittsburgh Area, admitted today that he is disturbed over a recent opinion of the Superior Court which raises a doubt as to whether that body will consider the commonwealth's appeal, filed Wednesday, from the County Court's decision. That decision, written by Presiding Judge Richard A. Kennedy, with the concurrence of Judge David M. Miller, reversed the conviction by Alderman Samuel McKinley of George E. Benson and eight other members of the symphony society found guilty of having violated the "blue laws" of 1794 in having given a Sunday concert last April 24, and sentenced to pay a fine of $25 each or serve 30 days in prison.

The decision that disturbs Pratt was handed down in the case of Charles H. Preston, convicted by a magistrate of having violated the child labor act, but whose conviction was reversed by the County Court. The commonwealth appealed to the Superior Court, which ruled that it had no right to appeal. Pratt said he had considered the decision before filing the appeal in the Sunday concert case, but that he had found other cases which put a different complexion on the matter. Moreover, he said, there is a possibility that the Supreme Court may entertain an appeal, for, in a parallel case, that body, while saying that no appeal could be taken, added "unless the court specially allows it."

While the right of the commonwealth to appeal is debatable, there is no question of the right of a defendant to appeal; and that is what

Fox Sane, Noose Dangles

By ARTHUR L. MAREK,
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Feb. 10.—While the specter of the gallows hovered over the head of William Edward Hickman, awaiting sentence for the kidnaping and killing of 12-year-old Marian Parker, a new fight for his life was launched by his attorneys today.

Declared by a jury of four women and eight men to have been sane when he stole and slew the little schoolgirl, Hickman's only hope of escape from the noose lies in the appeal which Jerome Walsh, his chief attorney, announced he would make from Superior Judge J. J. Trabucco's expected sentence.

The remorseless youth who bartered the mutilated body of his little victim for $1,500 ransom, will be brought before Judge Trabucco tomorrow morning to hear sentence imposed. His sentence will be either death on the scaffold or life impris-

STRIKE STUDY BEGUN

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—The Senate Judiciary Committee may undertake an extensive inquiry into alleged misuse of injunctions against union labor, Chairman Norris indicated today following testimony by President William Green, of the American Federation of Labor, at a hearing on the Shipstead anti-injunction bill.

Norris said he might go to the coal fields of Western Pennsylvania to investigate an injunction issued by Judge F. P. Schoonmaker against striking union miners.

By GLADSTONE WILLIAMS,
Sun-Telegraph Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—An appeal for the adoption of his resolution calling for a comprehensive investigation of the soft coal strike in Western Pennsylvania and the other two states was made before the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee today by Senator Hiram Johnson, of California.

The committee, it is contemplated, will establish headquarters in Pittsburgh and from that city will make personal inspections of the mine fields.

Take Testimony Here

Testimony will be taken, probably in the Pittsburgh Federal Building, if a sufficiently large hearing room is available. Hundreds of witnesses will be brought to Pittsburgh, and in this way the committee will obtain more and fuller testimony than if decided to bring these witnesses to Washington.

A personal visualization of strike conditions was urged by Philip Murray, of Pittsburgh, vice president of the United Mine Workers, and indorsed by Senator Burton K. Wheeler of Montana, who recently visited the strike area.

As the first witness to appear at the opening of hearings on the resolution, Johnson declared that he had received "hundreds of letters" from the strike area, urging him to press his fight for an inquiry. While the communications represented the various viewpoints involved, including operators, he said there was a practical unanimity of opinion that the investigation would be ordered.

The hearings are scheduled to last one day, following which a favorable report will be reported, according to an informal agreement already reached by members of the committee.

At the outset of his remarks, Senator Johnson said that while he

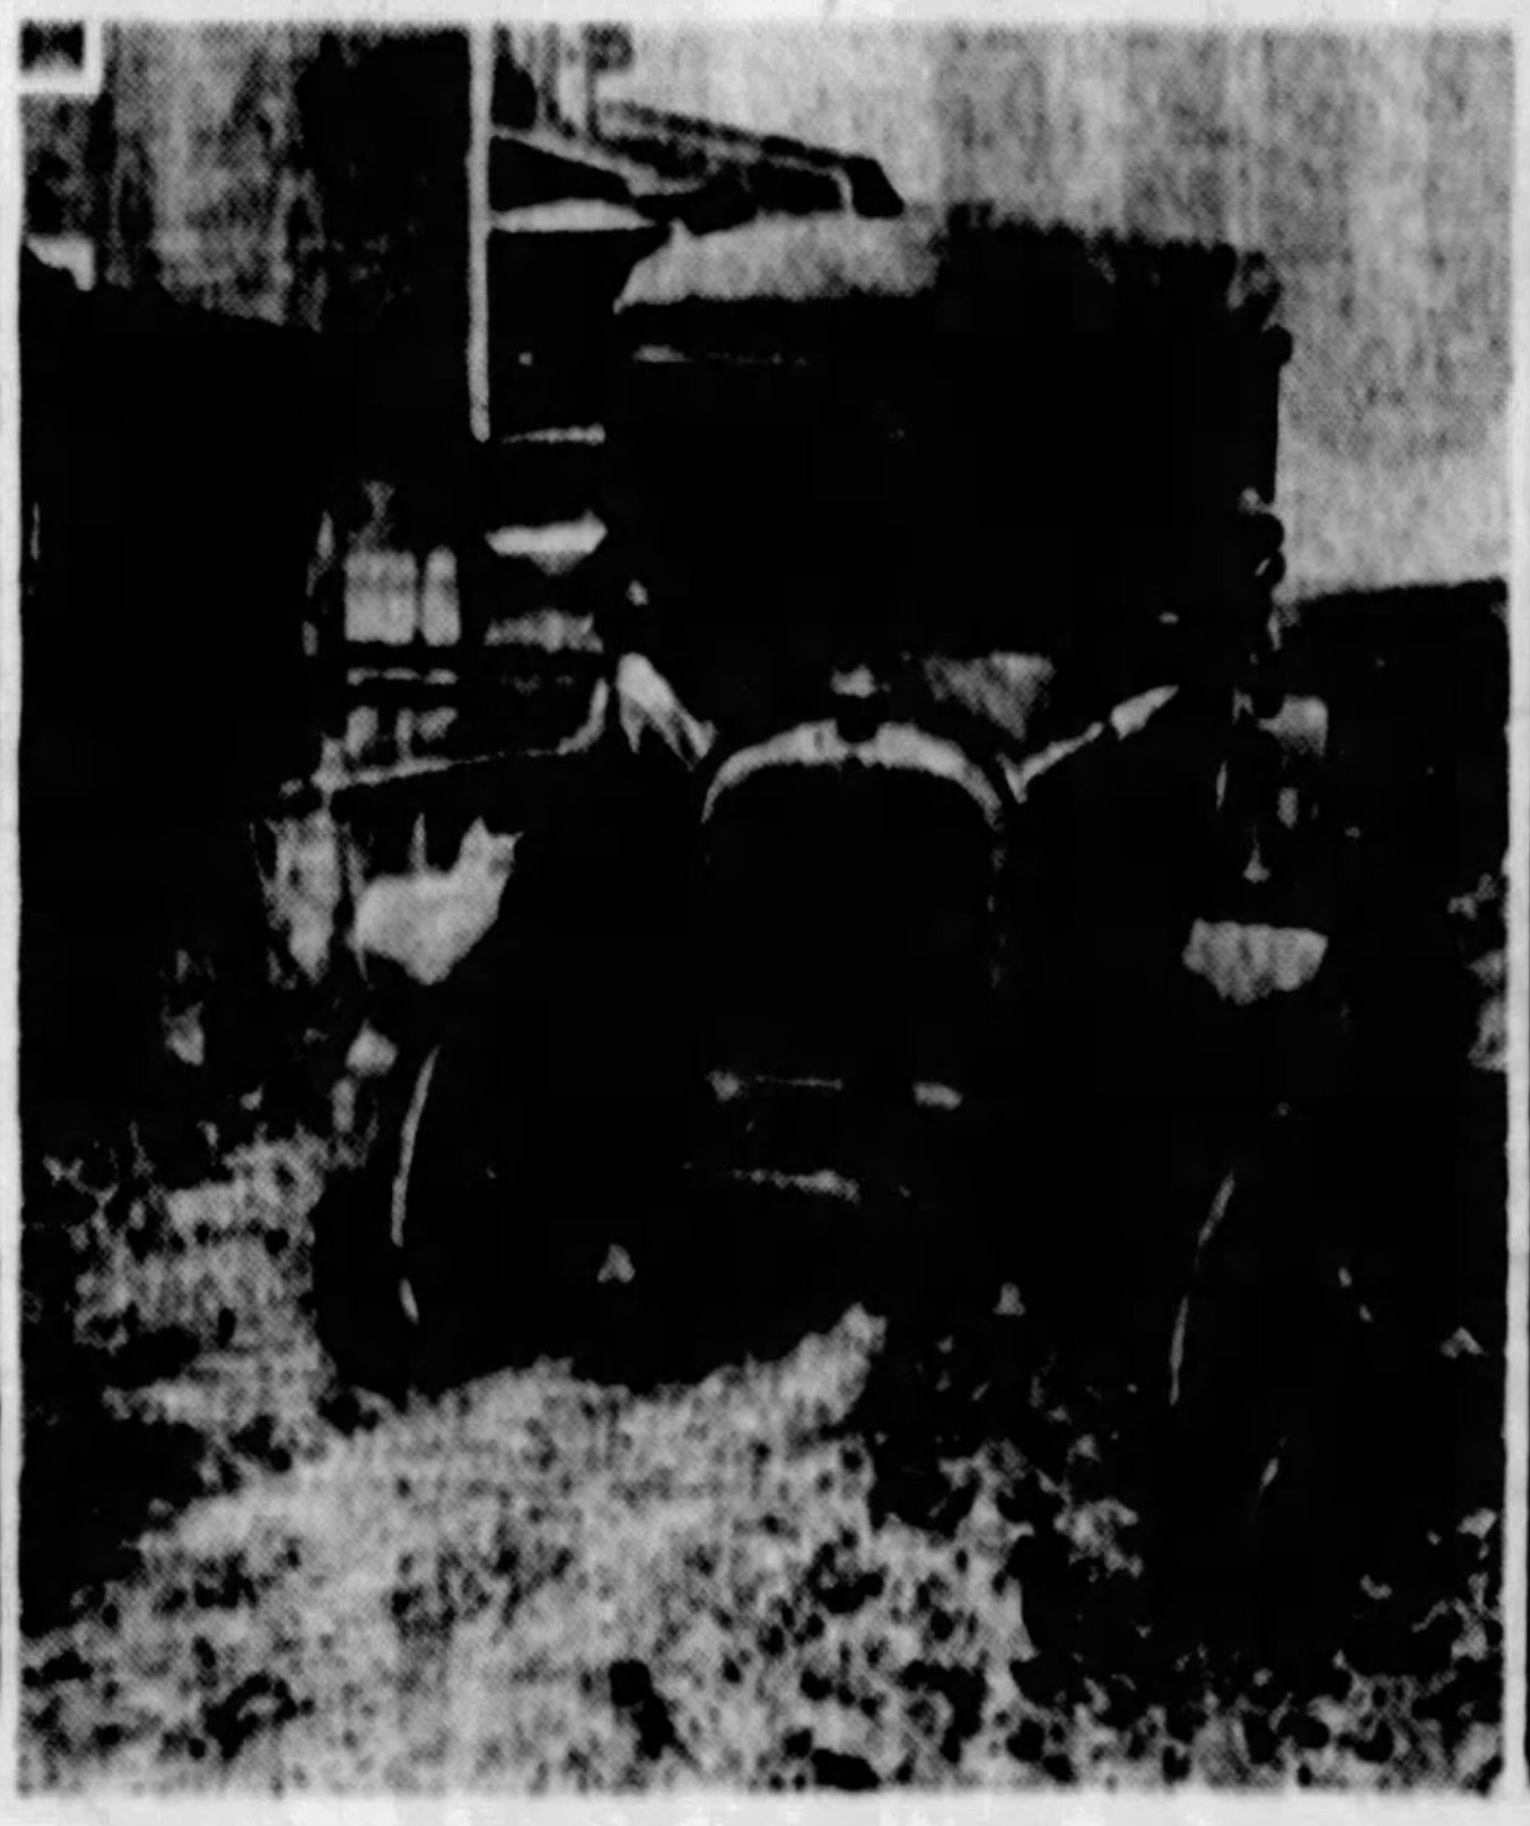
TAXI THIEVES CAPTURED -:- IN CLAIRTON -:- AFTER GUN BATTLE

JOHN MAKROWKA WALTER CORNISH

Walter Cornish, 31, of 918 Ridge avenue, McKeesport, and John Makrowka, 26, of 1213 Bank street, McKeesport, were arrested after a gun battle with McKeesport police in Clairton today, after they wrecked a taxicab they had stolen.



WRECKED

A chase from the Gulf Refining station, McKeesport, ended in North Sixth avenue, Clairton, near the Clairton park, when Cornish, said to have been driving the cab, ran the machine into a ditch. Cornish was shot in the arm as he was fleeing from the wrecked machine.

PATROLMAN LEO VENNEBUSH

Patrolman Leo Vennebush of the McKeesport police department, and Lieut. William Kreiling arrested Cornish and Makrowka. The thieves stole the taxicab in Webster avenue when the driver, Fred Miller, left his car standing to call a passenger.

PGH. TERMINAL COAL DENIES PEACE OVERTURES

UNWILLING TO MEET MINERS

The Pittsburgh Terminal Coal Corporation is "standing pat." It is satisfied with its present arrangements, and has no intention of meeting the United Mine Workers in conference. It has made no overtures of peace, and does not propose to make any.

This was the answer of G. F. Osler, vice president, to a report that the company was willing to meet the strikers to discuss a wage scale.

Osler was quoted in an interview to the effect that while it would not renew the Jacksonville wage agreement nor agree to pay a fixed wage over a period of years it would be glad to consider an arrangement for a sliding scale, which would provide for an increase in wages proportionate to any increase on the selling price of coal, or for a corresponding decrease if the price of coal should fall.

Osler denied categorically that he had made the statements attributed to him.

"I made no offer to discuss wages with the union," he declared. "I have no authority to make an offer. I did not offer to meet the strikers to discuss anything. All that I said was that we proposed to the union at the Miami conference to establish wages on a sliding scale, based on the price of coal; and this has been twisted, without warrant, into a statement that we are making such an offer now, which is far from the case."

The purported interview with Osler aroused keen interest; for it looked like a rift in the adamantine determination of the larger operators to have no further dealings with the union. The Pittsburgh Terminal Coal Corporation is the second largest of the bituminous companies in this district, and its struggle with the strikers has been marked by great bitterness on both sides. Only a few days ago Horace F. Baker, president of the company, declared it had won the battle, and that the time for compromise had passed. Osler's alleged statement accordingly excited surprise and was hailed as highly significant and encouraging. But Mr. Osler's denial leaves the situation as it was before, in a state of deadlock.

MISQUOTED, HE SAYS

A reporter, Mr. Osler said, called him by telephone and asked him what he thought of the arrangement of the Allegheny River Mining Company under which its employes' wages are determined by the current market price for coal, being raised when the price goes up and reduced when it goes down. Osler said he told the reporter he considered it a good plan, and that his company had proposed it to the union when the Jacksonville wage agreement expired on March 31 last year.

This, said Osler, was unjustifiably construed by the interviewer as an offer of the same terms to the strikers at the present time, and as paving the way for a resumption of negotiations with the United Mine Workers.

Osler stated that the Pittsburgh Terminal is now paying its men slightly more than the 1917 scale. The base average is $5.75 a day, he said. Skilled workmen are paid higher wages than common laborers, and when there is a good demand for coal, as at present, he continued, loaders are paid a little more than at other times.

Horace F. Baker, president of the company, is at Danville, Ill. A telephone call to the home of Frank Taplin, who holds the controlling interest, at Cleveland met with the response that he was out of the city.

The reporter who had the interview with Osler quotes C. E. Lesher, executive vice president of the Pittsburgh Coal Company, as saying, when asked if he would be willing to meet the strikers to discuss a sliding wage scale: "I wouldn't meet the union to discuss the time of day."

Philip Murray, international vice president of the United Mine Workers, the strikers' local spokesman on matters of policy, has been in Washington all week, attending the American Federation of Labor's conference on injunctions, and is not expected home until tomorrow.

WINANS TO GIVE BOND

Coal and Iron Policeman Ashley Winans, who is accused of paying Negro strikebreakers to fire shots into barracks occupied by union miners at Broughton a week ago, will surrender and post $1,000 bond before Justice of the Peace J. M. O'Rourke at Broughton this morning, it was announced last night. Attorney D. M. Evans, counsel for the Pittsburgh Terminal Coal Corporation by whom Winans is employed, arranged to have the bail posted today.

Declaring that the filing of charges against Justice of the Peace J. M. O'Rourke, of Curry, were "outrageous," United States Senator Burton K. Wheeler, Democrat, of Montana, who made a one-day tour of the Pittsburgh strike area last Sunday, announced his intention of returning here tomorrow to investigate Squire O'Rourke's repeated arrests.

While visiting Curry and Bruceton, where numerous shooting affairs and other mine disorders have occurred, Senator Wheeler met Squire O'Rourke and heard part of his story.

Nine charges have been filed against the squire and he is at liberty under $7,500 bond. The charges include aggravated assault and battery and pointing firearms in connection with clashes between striking union miners and coal and iron police.

"FOX" WILL HANG, JUDGE INDICATES

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 10.—Indications today were that the state of California will exact the extreme penalty for Hickman's crime.

Although he would not say specifically what sentence he had in mind, Judge Trabucco indicated, attorneys said, that the maximum sentence would be imposed.

"It would not be proper for me to state at this time what will be the sentence," Judge Trabucco said, "but there need be no uneasiness. All the law allows awaits the defendant."

FOX IS SANE; MUST HANG

onment, depending upon Judge Trabucco's determination of his degree of guilt.

TO ASK NEW TRIAL

Walsh has announced that he will move for a new trial when Hickman is arraigned for sentence. This motion is expected to pave the way for an appeal from the convictions implied by the jury's swift verdict that the Kansas City youth was sane at the time he kidnaped the Parker girl and sane at the time he killed her.

In conformance with the instructions of the court, the jury, after less than 40 minutes of deliberation, brought in two verdicts, the first that Hickman was sane when he kidnaped Marian Parker and the second that he was sane when he murdered her.

A tense, but undemonstrative courtroom heard the verdicts.

Mrs. Eva M. Hickman, mother of the kidnaper-slayer, was not in court. Alfred Hickman, brother of William Edward, sat near the judge's bench, his back to the spectators.

Judge Trabucco took his place on the bench at 1:59 o'clock. At 2:20 he finished reading his instructions to the jury.

He told the jurors that, if they were convinced that Hickman kidnaped and killed Marian Parker while unaware of what he was doing, then the verdict should be "insane;" if, on the contrary, they believed Hickman was fully cognizant of his acts, then the verdict should be "sane."

JUDGE WARNS SPECTATORS

When Judge Trabucco finished speaking he removed his nose glasses, pointed them at the spectators and uttered a warning against open expressions of approval or disapproval with the verdict. Any persons, the judge said, who disregarded his warning, would be arrested.

The wheels of justice turned swiftly. At 2:22 o'clock the court swore in the deputy sheriffs and placed the jury in their charge. The jury filed up the stairway, the same stairway which Hickman had used in entering and leaving the court.

Thirty seconds after the jury retired a buzzer stopped the low hum of conversation in the courtroom. Spectators learned that the jurors had asked for a copy of the court's instructions.

At 3:03 o'clock the jurors returned to the courtroom and took their place in the jury box.

In an unemotional tone, contrasting with the repressed excitement of the spectators, the court spoke.

"Ladies and gentlemen, have you reached a verdict?"

Almost as one voice, the jurors answered:

"We have, Your Honor."

READ VERDICT

The written verdict was passed to the bailiff, who handed it to the judge. The judge read it and handed it to the clerk of the court, to be read aloud.

A hushed tenseness overcame the actors and audience of the dramatic court spectacle. Spectators strained forward.

But the high suspense of the moment seemed not to affect the one chiefly involved. Hickman watched the clerk with an impersonal stare.

Facing the jury box, the clerk said:

". . . And we find the defendant, William Edward Hickman, was sane."

This covered the indictment of kidnaping. Again the verdict was repeated, this time for the killing of Marian Parker.

Alfred Hickman slumped down in his chair. But William Edward Hickman maintained his immobile attitude. His glance swerved from the clerk to the judge, who, in routine legal phases, thanked the jurors, dismissed them and announced he would pass sentence Saturday.

The 195-pound guard tapped the 110-pound defendant on the shoulder, slipped handcuffs about the slender wrists of his charge and led him out of the courtroom.

"What did you think of the verdict?" Hickman was asked.

"The state won—by a neck," he grinned.

Herron's release from the Tuscarawas county jail.

Because of the breakdown of a motorboat, flagship of the river craft dragging the Tuscarawas near Dover for the body of the girl, search was impeded this morning, but was renewed vigorously this afternoon.

Police at Dover this afternoon reported that Rush Hiller, dragging the Tuscarawas River 200 feet south of the White Bridge, from which Herron said he had thrown the body, brought to the surface what he believed to be the girl's corpse, but that the dress which had been caught by a grappling hook slid off and the object sank.

Wire nets have been stretched across the bottom of the river near Dover at two places three-quarters of a mile apart to keep the body from being washed beyond recovery by the swollen waters, if it was thrown into the river, as confessed by Herron.

DIGGERS FAIL

Diggers who sought a possible burial place of the girl near a gravel pit where articles of her clothing were found have unearthed nothing.

Old garments found imbedded in mud near a gravel pit where Herron admitted attacking the girl were not those of Miss May, Sheriff Abe Laird said. Her stockings, handkerchief and shoes had been found previously in the pit.

Coroner J. F. Lewis doubts Herron's story of throwing the body into the river and believes it may be found in a shallow grave near the scene of the crime, committed Tuesday night.

Herron, agitated to a high degree, shouted at photographers to "hurry" when Sheriff Abe Laird permitted them in the Tuscarawas county jail late yesterday to snap the confessed slayer. "Only nervous, but not insane," commented the sheriff.

Herron was almost completely recovered today from an attempt to end his life by slashing his throat and wrists with a razor blade following his confession. The cuts were slight.

Twice married, Herron is the father of four children, one by the sister of the slain girl.

In his confession, which has not been made public, Herron told of choking his sister-in-law after attacking her twice. He was taking her home from a party at the Herron home, he said. He repudiated a former story of the girl being kidnaped by two men on the journey home.

originally agreed to the amendment proposed by Senator David A. Reed, of Pennsylvania, which would embrace a study of railroad rates in connection with the general investigation, he now feels that this would retard rather than facilitate the work of the committee. Still, he said, he would leave this question entirely to the Senate.

Senator James E. Watson, of Indiana, chairman of the committee, said also that he would see where the injection of the rate issue would cause the whole inquiry to become too deeply involved.

It was indicated, consequently that this phase of the inquiry would be eliminated.

After hearing brief testimony by Philip Murray the committee adjourned until 2:30 this afternoon in order to permit Republican members to attend a caucus called for the purpose of considering the pending legislative program.

Murray Makes Plea

Making a vigorous plea for a senatorial inquiry into the bituminous deadlock, Murray told of the activities of "coal and iron" police in the Western Pennsylvania fields. He characterized the system prvailing in the state as an "outrage on civilized government" and denounced Pennsylvania authorities for permitting it to exist.

"Men strikers and their wives," he declared, "have been shot down like animals and killed in cold blood by these renegade officers who roam about the coal fields under authority of the state government."

"We have several hundred witnesses who are prepared to appear before the committee if an investigation is ordered," he added, "but many of them would be unable to come to Washington. It would be far better if a part of the hearings at least could be transferred to the fields, where members of the investigating body would be able to obtain a first-hand view of conditions."

Assails Railroads

The Pittsburgh labor official charged that the three important railroads serving the soft coal district of the state, including the Pennsylvania, the New York Central and the B. & O., have taken an undue advantage of the situation, and have acted as a barrier to any settlement of the long-standing dispute. Aided by the Pittsburgh Coal Company, one of the largest of the operators, he said they were seeking the destruction of the United Mine Workers.

"Not only," he testified further, "did the Pittsburgh Coal Company and the Pennsylvania Railroad Company influence the wholesale repudiation of the Jacksonville agreement in Western Pennsylvania, but this powerful influence was used also to direct and control the policies of coal operators in Ohio as well."

In brief, Murray reviewed the charges filed with the committee by the miners' union recently in its demand for an inquiry.

Later in the afternoon when hearings are resumed he will continue his testimony with a further recital of conditions in the Pittsburgh district.

So far as could be learned at the committee this morning, no one is prepared to take the stand in opposition to the resolution, although representatives of the operators or the American Mining Congress may appear. Chairman Watson said he was not informed of the plans of any one to consume the hour of time allotted to the opposition.

Walsh Acts to Halt Taxi Robbery Wave

The cab companies, the drivers and the police will maintain a system of checking up under Walsh's rules, and in this manner it is believed that all classes of criminals will be under a close ban.

Hitch Seen In Concert Appeal

Pratt had in mind in saying that if the Sabbath Association fails in the present case it will seek to have a test case tried in "a friendly jurisdiction," where there will be some assurance that conviction of violating the Sabbath law will be sustained in the Common Pleas Court. Outside of Pittsburgh, Philadelphia and Erie, he said, public sentiment is favorable to the "blue laws," as has been shown by the refusal of the Legislature to repeal them.

He is encouraged, too, by a decision just handed down by the Supreme Court in the case of Bothwell against the city of York, in which the tribunal upheld the constitutionality of a recently enacted city ordinance forbidding Sunday concerts and many other kinds of diversion on the Sabbath, an ordinance which in some of its provisions is more drastic than the legislation of 1794.

Pratt reiterated that the Sabbath Association is fighting Sunday symphony concerts vigorously, not so much because they are harmful in themselves as because it is felt they would be the entering wedge through which the way would be opened to Sunday movies, Sunday baseball games and general commercialization of the Sabbath.

Both sides in the litigation are hopeful that the Superior Court will consider the appeal, since they feel that otherwise the money and labor that have been expended on the case will have been more or less wasted.

ROSS, WHO MET JOHNSON, FINED

Tony Ross, former heavyweight boxer of New Castle, remembered here especially for his fight with Jack Johnson at Duquesne Garden in 1909, was fined $200 by Judge F. P. Schoonmaker in Federal Court today for sale and possession of liquor. The case dated back to February 8, 1925, when the Motor Square Hotel was raided, Ross being bartender there at the time.

Charities Backing "Chest"

Notwithstanding opposition by some of the clergy and refusal of certain social service agencies to participate, the Welfare Fund of Pittsburgh, popularly known as the "community chest," soon will be functioning as a going concern, it was learned today.

Participation of 21 societies is definitely assured, their applications having been reviewed by the Committee of Fifty, promoting the project. Applications have been received from seven other organizations also, but have not been acted upon yet. Still other agencies, requesting further time to consider the matter, have been granted an extension until February 22.

The Welfare Fund will start with the following members:

Children's Aid Society of Western Pennsylvania, Allegheny County Auxiliary.

Associated Charities.

Public Health Nursing Association.

Pittsburgh Milk and Ice Association.

Pittsburgh Federation of Social Agencies.

Soho Community Center.

Sewickley Fresh Air Home.

Pittsburgh Skin and Cancer Foundation.

Conference of Catholic Charities.

Pittsburgh Home for Babies.

Public Charities Association.

Pleasant Hill Farm Association.

Junior League.

Federation of Girls' School Societies.

St. Ann's Nursery.

St. Raphael's Home.

Urban League.

Boys' Club of Pittsburgh.

Woods Run Settlement.

Children's Service Bureau.

The procedure, said Wilbur F. Maxwell, director of the campaign for establishment of the community fund, will be to approve formally the applications for membership, then to ask the participating agencies to select delegates to a meeting at which a permanent organization will be formed.

The Committee of Fifty will turn over to the organization the affairs of the Welfare Fund, a corporation chartered by the courts last December. Each of the constituent societies will be entitled to two delegates. The Committee of Fifty will nominate additional delegates as representatives of the general public, but not more than the number of constituent societies. The civic and luncheon clubs will also be asked to name one delegates each, with the further proviso that the total number shall not exceed the number of constituent societies. The latter are thus assured of control.

At the organization meeting the period to be covered by financing will be determined. Pressure is already being exerted for a spring campaign to raise funds. There are some, however, who think it would be better to postpone action until fall.

"Though all of the social welfare organizations in Pittsburgh have not applied for membership in the Welfare Fund," said Mr. Maxwell, "enough are in, and they are of a character sufficiently important to provide some relief from the confusion caused heretofore by competitive financing. The plan for contributing to the Welfare Fund is so drawn that no contributor need give to an organization with which he is not in sympathy. He can designate the agency to which he wants his money to go."

USED MYTHICAL JOB AS LURE, THOUGHT INSANE

Ralph A. Hazlett, alias Dr. J. P. Henry, 34, married and a graduate of the University of Pittsburgh, was arraigned in Morals Court today with Lena Beller, 17, cashier at the McKeesport Y. M. C. A. cafeteria, whom he lured away on a promise of $20-a-week wages to "act as nurse for his baby."

Hazlett and the girl were arrested yesterday in a rooming house at 205 Brownsville road, Mt. Oliver, where, police say, they had occupied adjoining rooms since Tuesday. Their capture followed a search for the girl instituted by her family.

"BROKE," SPENDTHRIFT

Last week, police say, Hazlett created a furor in Bellevue when he passed numerous checks on a Bellevue bank, after opening an account there with a worthless check on a Tarentum bank.

In duping the girl, police say, Hazlett represented himself as a Connellsville doctor, said his wife was dead and that he needed a girl to care for his baby, which was ill. Police say Hazlett is separated from his wife, who now lives with her family in Bellevue, and that they have no children.

Attorney D. S. Thomas, representing the Hazlett family, appeared at the hearing and said that Hazlett had disappeared from his home in Allison Park about 10 days ago. He said the man had spent much of the last 10 years in institutions, and at his request Magistrate A. D. Brandon held Hazlett over until arrangements are made to place him in an institution again. The Beller girl was turned over to her family.

Tear Gas Bomber Ousted

A coal and iron policeman scattered a crowd of 40 miner pickets at Daisytown today by dropping a tear gas bomb in their midst.

Fifteen minutes later the policeman, employed by Vesta Coal Company, was discharged. The company announced that it felt he had used bad judgment, although one report received was that the bomb had been dropped accidentally.

It was at Daisytown several days ago that two coal and iron policemen were shot in mine warfare.

WATCH DOG TRAPPED IN HOLE IS KILLED

"Amor," a shepherd dog that acted as watchman for John Waldorf at an unoccupied house, 1041 Shreve street, City View, is dead. Out for its romp this morning it fell into a 15-foot excavation. Rescued three hours later, it was injured so badly that a policeman shot it.

In other words, there has been no effort to skimp at any point.

NEW ELECTION CALLED BY SMALL

By Universal Service.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Feb. 10.—United States Senator-elect Frank L. Smith tendered his resignation to Gov. Small last night.

The governor immediately appointed Smith to serve for the unexpired term and issued a proclamation calling for a United States senatorial primary on April 10, and a senatorial election in November.

When Senator-Elect Smith, whose seat was declared vacant by the Senate because of utility subscriptions made during the primary election, tendered his resignation to the governor, it was recorded in the office of Secretary of State Emmerson.

An instant later the reappointment of Mr. Smith became a matter of official record together with the call for the special primary and special election. His petition as a candidate for renomination and election will be filed next week.

B. McRoberts, was damaged $1,000. The flames threatened a large storage tank containing several hundred gallons of gasoline.

HEINZ EMPLOYES PAY TRIBUTE TO DEPARTED

Preceding a banquet given by H. J. Heinz Company for its veteran employes in Heinz auditorium, Progress street, North Side, last night, a period was devoted to the memory of departed associates. The roll of the dead was called while taps was sounded and the veterans stood with bowed heads. R. F. Seifert served as toastmaster at the dinner, and A. M. Ferguson, for 37 years connected with the company, was the principal speaker. Joseph M. Hite, who has been with the company for 55 years, is president of the Veterans' Association, and J. G. Bennett is chairman of the entertainment committee.

DOG ATTACKS POLICEMAN

Motorcycle Patrolman Thomas Morley, assigned to the North Side station, was bitten on the left hand, and his clothing was torn by a dog that his motorcycle had struck unexpectedly at Irwin and Taylor avenues last night. The officer turned the corner and drove through a pack of dogs. He was treated at the Allegheny General Hospital. The dogs escaped.

Sore throat? Gargle often

Even children know that at the first sign of throat irritation, the use of Listerine as a gargle will often ward off colds—or worse.

Sore throat is a natural warning that should always be heeded. It is Nature's way of telling you that disease germs are fighting for the upper hand, and that prompt measures are necessary.

Listerine, as you know, has been the standard family first aid in these matters for more than a half century.

Being antiseptic, it immediately attacks the countless disease-producing bacteria that lodge in the oral cavity. Time and time again, it has nipped a serious complication in the bud.

Honestly, now, isn't it worth while to take this pleasant morning-and-night precaution every day during the cold weather, when so many people are laid up? Lambert Pharmacal Company, St. Louis, Mo., U. S. A.

It puts you on the safe side

BARCLAY H. WARBURTON

Society matrons and debutantes played the part of "ward heelers" in the landslide election of Major Warburton as mayor of Palm Beach. Warburton neither campaigned nor solicited support, but the total votes cast for him were more than four to one for his opponents.

M'CASKEY HEIRS WIN $23,000 DISTRIBUTION

By a decree of distribution in Orphans' Court, each of the five children of the late John G. McCaskey, former oil man, has been awarded $23,000, accumulated income. They are: John A. McCaskey, W. Rhodes McCaskey, Mary Louise McCaskey, Margaret J. McCaskey and Irwin Willetts McCaskey, the latter three minors.

The decree was granted upon the two older sons' petition asking for a rule on Harrison Nesbitt, trustee, to show cause why $124,828.63 income should not be distributed. Mr. Nesbitt explained that the five heirs had been paid $1,000 a month, and their homes maintained, but that, owing to legal difficulties, the income had not been distributed. He declared that he was ready to distribute the income if the court granted permission.

DRIVER SPEEDS, ROUTS BANDITS

Stepping on the gas when two armed bandits jumped on the running board of his auto, L. D. Hemphill, of 616 Kirkland street, outwitted the highwaymen when they attempted to rob him at Dallas avenue and Willard street last night. One of the bandits, however, shattered the windshield and caused a cut on Hemphill's left hand.

The sudden lunge of the car as Hemphill speeded up hurled the bandits to the street. Hemphill raced to the Frankstown Avenue Police Station and notified officers of what had occurred.

Two automobiles without lights were parked near the place where the thugs jumped on his car, Hemphill said. As he passed the second of these cars, the highwaymen leaped forth. They flourished revolvers as they shouted through the door to stop. But Hemphill stepped on the accelerator as the bandits beat the air with their hands in a vain attempt to keep their balance, and then sprawled in the street.

VOTING MACHINE HEARING HERE TUESDAY

Voting machines as a cure for election evils will be considered by a state legislature joint committee, headed by Senator R. C. Schantz of Allentown at public hearings in the City-County Building next Tuesday. Citizens of Allegheny, Beaver, Butler, Lawrence, Westmoreland, Fayette, Armstrong, Washington and Greene counties will be permitted to present their views.

The committee will arrive Monday night. Its members will be entertained at luncheon Tuesday by Senator Frank J. Harris, sponsor for the voting machines amendment to be up for a state-wide vote at the November election.

Senator Harris is vigorously campaigning for the amendment. He will give a talk on it tonight at a meeting of the League of Women Voters in Dormont. Next Monday night he will address the Carrick Board of Trade at a meeting in the community room at the Carrick car barn. He also has an engagement to speak before the League of Women Voters at Rennerdale in Collier township.

SEES GERMANY GAINING FAVOR

"The German Republic is gaining favor every day, both at home and abroad," declared John George Bucher, newspaperman and traveler, in his address today on "Modern Germany" at the Pennsylvania College for Women.

Mr. Bucher said that when von Hindenberg was elected president of the Republic many persons felt he would be representative of a monarchial faction. "However, von Hindenberg was a soldier and patriot, not a politician," Mr. Bucher said, "and he has been what he took an oath to be—president of the German people. And the country is prospering under a liberal, democratic form of government."

TWO TAXI THIEVES CAPTURED IN GUN BATTLE

CHASED FIVE MILES BY POLICE

Worsted in a running gun battle, two taxicab thieves were brought to bay near Clairton Park early today, one with a bullet in his arm. They are said to have stolen a cab in Webster avenue, driven to McKeesport and attempted to steal gas at a filling station. In a wild chase of five miles, the stolen machine was wrecked and the men captured after they had shot it out with McKeesport police.

The men, who are being held in the Clairton Police Station for Pittsburgh police, are Walter Cornish, 31, of 918 Ridge avenue, McKeesport, and John Makrowka, 26, of 1113 Bank street, McKeesport. Cornish was struck in the left arm by a bullet fired by Patrolman Leo Vennebush, of McKeesport.

Fred Miller, driver of the cab, employed by the Yellow Cab Company, reported that his cab was stolen when he left it standing to call for a passenger.

The men stopped at the Gulf filling station in McKeesport, and after an attendant filled the tank they refused to pay, telling him the cab was stolen and threatening him with revolvers.

Kiwanians Honored

HOMER H. SWANEY

The Beaver Falls Kiwanis Club now numbers among its membership three officers of the Pennsylvania Kiwanis district. Homer H. Swaney is the district governor, William F. Waxenfelter is the district treasurer, and Dr. John S. Wells is the district secretary.

Harry Hartzell, a watchman of the Duquesne Light Company, notified McKeesport police and then gave chase in another machine. The bandits forced Hartzell's car between two poles on the Clairton road, wrecking it.

Lieut. William Krelling and Patrolman Vennebush chased the fleeing cab along the Clairton road. Several shots were exchanged.

Hailed in Bedford avenue near Herron avenue by two Negroes, L. W. Croswell, a cab driver of 522 Arch street, was robbed of $15. The men drew guns when Crosswell stopped his machine and made him step to the pavement while they searched his clothing. He was ordered to drive away and the robbers ran.

The search for the men who hired John G. Nesslein, Jr., a cab driver, in Butler street, Etna, a few hours before shooting him to death along the Bairdsford road near Culmerville, yesterday morning, was continued today by county detectives. The proprietor of a restaurant in Butler street, Etna, is to be questioned, as the slayers called the taxi from the restaurant. John G. Nesslein, Sr., the victim's father, who identified the body at the morgue yesterday, could assign no motive for the murder.

L. W. Crisswell, 522 Arch street, a cab driver, was robbed of $15 by two Negroes who called to him while driving in Bedford and Herron avenues.

Admitting that he had "framed" a story of being robbed by two fares on the South Side early today, William Morrison, a cab driver, of 709 Fifth avenue extension, told police that he had spent $11 of the cab company's money for a party last night in East Liberty. He was arrested on a suspicious person charge and today was fined $10.

$30,000 ESTATE LEFT BY HAMPTON TWP. MAN

John G. Hoffman, late of Hampton township, by his will probated today, devises his $30,000 estate to his three sons and a daughter in equal shares.

W. Frank Hibbetts, late of Pittsburgh, leaves his estate, valued at $20,000, to his son, Edgar C. Hibbetts.

M'CANDLESS WILLS ESTATE TO SISTER

John H. McCandless, late of Pittsburgh, left the income on his $20,000 estate to his sister, Rebecca McCandless, during her life time and at her death to his brother, George A. McCandless, according to the will. Catherine Freiberger, late of Franklin avenue, Wilkinsburg, left her $6,000 estate to her daughter, Rhetta Freiberger.

MAN FINED $70 FOR TRAPPING RIVER FISH

Fines totaling $70 were imposed upon Ignace Pochulski, 35, of Main street, Sharpsburg, last night by Justice of the Peace James Hernon, before whom he was arraiged on charges of trapping fish in the Allegheny River at Sharpsburg. The charges were preferred by W. C. Shaffer, state game warden. Counsel for Pochulski protested against the fines being imposed and posted bond for a court hearing.

STOLEN CAR DRIVERS FINALLY ARRAIGNED

Seven months after they crashed into two autos with their stolen car on Washington boulevard, Philip Bacco, 21, of 6318 Joseph street and Ralph Coscoio, 21, of 6361 Dean street, were arraigned in Frankstown Avenue Police Court today.

They fled following the collision, police testified, and were finally arrested yesterday. Magistrate William J. Soost held the pair, who admitted the charges, for further investigation.

ARE YOU a "TOXIC"

A Gripping of the Heart

A sudden gripping of the heart, then a feeling that it has stopped completely—that's a serious sign. Many people today suffer heart trouble as a result of system-poisoning. It comes from our abnormal living habits, which put too great a strain upon the "purification" organ, the liver. The liver becoming sluggish and congested fails to cleanse the blood of poisons formed in food waste. The whole system then becomes toxic, with stomach, kidneys, heart and blood vessels affected. The liver, especially at middle life, needs a little help, and there's nothing better for this, as physicians today know, than a little ox gall. Ox gall is a great natural stimulant for the human liver, promoting its normal active functioning, so essential to health and vitality. Dioxol tablets are genuine ox gall in dainty and tasteless form, each tablet representing 10 drops of pure ox gall. They cost less than 2c each at good druggists, and one or two days' use will prove itself. To be sure of getting the genuine ox gall, be sure of getting Dioxol.

You Meet Septics in the movies!

There is a certain fastidiousness which habits of cleanliness cannot achieve alone. The person you sometimes suspect of carelessness may have bathed within the hour.

If you are a septic, soap and water will not solve the difficulty. Nor will any refreshant neutralize unpleasant vaporings of the body or the breath for any length of time.

Nobody is septic by nature. It is a condition anyone can correct. Just a few days are sufficient to take the taint out of perspiration, and render one's breath as pure as can be; and this perfect personal cleanliness made permanent. Ask any doctor—or nurse—about calcium.

You may not know whether you are a septic. Try some calcium wafers, and see! If there is any stagnant matter in the system, everything will speedily be sweet and clean. Your skin will be less acrid; color improved; calcium correction even brightens eyes and whitens teeth! And you will never need another harsh cathartic from the time you have learned to prevent even semi-constipation by just occasionally taking a tiny calcium tablet.

A five-day test will prove to you very conclusively the system's need for calcium, and the decided benefit from these little wafers. Your druggist has them—the test size for pocket is 10c. Or the family size 60c.

REALTY DINNER LARGEST IN HISTORY

More than 500 realtors last night attended the sixteenth annual banquet of the Pittsburgh Real Estate Board at the Hotel Schenley. It was the largest gathering in the history of the board.

A plea to stop the flood of legislation which threatens to throttle individual enterprise was made by Merle Thorpe, editor of "The Nation's Business." The costly attempt to control natural economic laws with man-made laws is creating a burden which the taxpayer will soon be unable to bear, Mr. Thorpe said.

Knute Rockne, athletic coach at Notre Dame University, spoke on the lessons of football as applied to the game of life. Ability to think quickly is more necessary than giant strength in present day football, he declared.

The Rev. Paul E. Campbell delivered the invocation. James C. Wilson, president of the board, introduced the toastmaster, the Rev. Dr. Carl Wallace Petty. Short addresses were delived by Charles A. Waldschmidt, representing Mayor Charles A. Kline, and by R. F. King, president of the Pennsylvania Real Estate Association.

Call Oil Men to Sunday School, John D. Urged

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., Feb. 10.—Did you read young John D. Rockefeller's plea to the oil men? He implored them to tell the truth, or tell something whether it was the truth or not, but to please not just sit there, as that made the whole industry not only look dumb but guilty. Poor young John D. he is trying to do what is right, but his Bible class should include all his holding companies' officials. Yours,

Will Rogers.

MARKET RENT RAISE LOOMS

An upward revision of stall rents to make the Diamond Market self-sustaining is being considered by a councilmanic committee surveying the market situation in Pittsburgh, it developed yesterday when committee members conferred with representatives of the lease-holders. The lease-holders urged a number of improvements, including the installation of an electric refrigeration system.

At the conference Councilman P. J. McArdle expressed the opinion that the present Diamond Market has outlived its usefulness and that its site could better be used for some other purpose. He said the market served only a small percentage of the citizens and is a financial burden to the city.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

by Royal S. Copeland M.D.

U.S. Senator from New York

Have Regard for the Simple Rules of Hygiene

"IF is a little word with a big meaning." So said a small boy to me the other day. We were talking about the strong bodies we might have if we were to do certain things. Then it was he commented in the words I have quoted.

DR. COPELAND

"If" is indeed a word big with meaning and importance. What wonders we could accomplish if—! What vigorous health we would have if—!

The truth is that the average individual knows more about how to live than he admits even to himself. Certainly he knows more than he admits to his friends.

If this is true, and I believe it is, the average person could have better health and be more useful if he would live up to the knowledge of the things necessary to do in order to have perfect health. In short, he would be better off if he did his full duty to himself.

Too much of our time is spent in making excuses. A friend of mine says he never admits or denies anything. I am not quite sure about the morals of this mental attitude, but I declare I would rather put up with the mistakes some of my friends make than to listen to their excuses for what they have done.

If you were to go to bed an hour earlier than you usually do, and make it a practice to get up an hour earlier than you do now, you could spend that hour profitably by exercise in the open air before you sit down to breakfast. Of course you won't do this. Even though you know it is a good thing to do, it requires effort, and you are not willing to make the effort. If you would do it, your health would be better and your chances of long life would be increased, but that "little word with a big meaning" stands in the way of a sensible undertaking.

If you would eat a little bit less of the things you know are not good for you, and a little more of the things that will improve your bodily vigor, you could increase your chance of long life. It requires self-control and sacrifice to do this, and you are unwilling to make the sacrifice. The "little word with a big meaning" stands in the way of your welfare.

How easy it is to drift along with the current of life, taking things as they come. We are unwilling to make the effort necessary to breast the current and to insure our landing in a safer harbor. If we were willing to fight against those inclinations which tend in the direction of the cataract of disaster, we would be better off in every respect. But the "little word with the big meaning" interferes.

If you don't do anything else to improve your physical welfare, I beg of you to give regard to the simple rules of hygiene. You need not buy expensive apparatus or visit a gymnasium every day. You need not join an expensive golf club or ride a spirited horse. But if you will cultivate these simple habits which everybody knows are conducive to good health and long life, you will have the strength and vigor to make your career a more useful one.

"GAVE ME ALMOST INSTANT RELIEF"

North Side Lady Tells How Ten Herbs Ended All Her Health Troubles.

"I was in very poor health—all run down in every way—but Ten Herbs gave me almost instant relief," was the statement of Mrs. Katherine Bottles, popular and well-known lady, living at 1244 Rush Street, North Side, Pittsburgh, to the

MRS. KATHERINE BOTTLES

Ten Herbs Man, who is at May's Main Store, 529 Liberty Avenue, Pittsburgh, where he is daily demonstrating this great natural medicine. "I was so badly constipated that I had to keep taking laxatives, but instead of doing me any permanent good, they seemed to make me worse," Mrs. Bottles continued. "Then my stomach became so disordered that I was hardly able to eat anything. Sometimes just the smell of food would nauseate me. What little food I ate would lie in a hard lump in my stomach, and would sour and cause terrible indigestion and gas pains. I was continually troubled with pains in my back and side.

"Ten Herbs made an immense change in my condition, and my health is better now than in years. My stomach and kidneys seem to have been thoroughly cleansed of all waste matter and impurities that were causing me so much trouble. I can enjoy a hearty meal without fear of indigestion. Gas spells don't bother me any more, and my bowels have been regulated. I am regaining lost strength and vitality, and even my complexion has improved. Ten Herbs proved so satisfactory in every respect that I can conscientiously recommend it to the public."

Many others in this section are making similar claims for Ten Herbs, the purely herbal compound. They say it gives prompt and surprising results in relieving disorders of the stomach and liver. It also benefits the kidneys, regulates the bowels, and has a cleansing, soothing, correcting effect on the system in general. Ten Herbs has helped others and why not you?

The Ten Herbs Man is at May's Main Store, 529 Liberty Avenue, Pittsburgh, where he is daily meeting the public and explaining the merits of this medicine. Free sample given.

GOOD FOOD FOR STOMACH TROUBLE

"Eat good foods and plenty of them," says a well-known medical writer. Dieting in many cases is almost criminal. Your body needs the proper nourishment for health and strength that food alone can give it. Most so-called attacks of indigestion are merely indications of too much acid in the stomach. Get rid of this acid and the pains will stop and your stomach will digest three square meals a day without pain or trouble. Neglect of acid stomach may lead to ulcers if not cancer, while pepsin pills or other artificial digestants act like a crutch and weaken your natural powers of digestion. To dissolve stomach acids there is nothing better than pure Bisurated Magnesia which can be obtained from May Drug Co. or any drug store. Test it after your next good meal. Take a teaspoonful of the powder or two tablets of Bisurated Magnesia in a little water. Acidity will vanish, the food will digest perfectly and your stomach will feel fine. Thousands do this daily. They have said goodbye to indigestion.

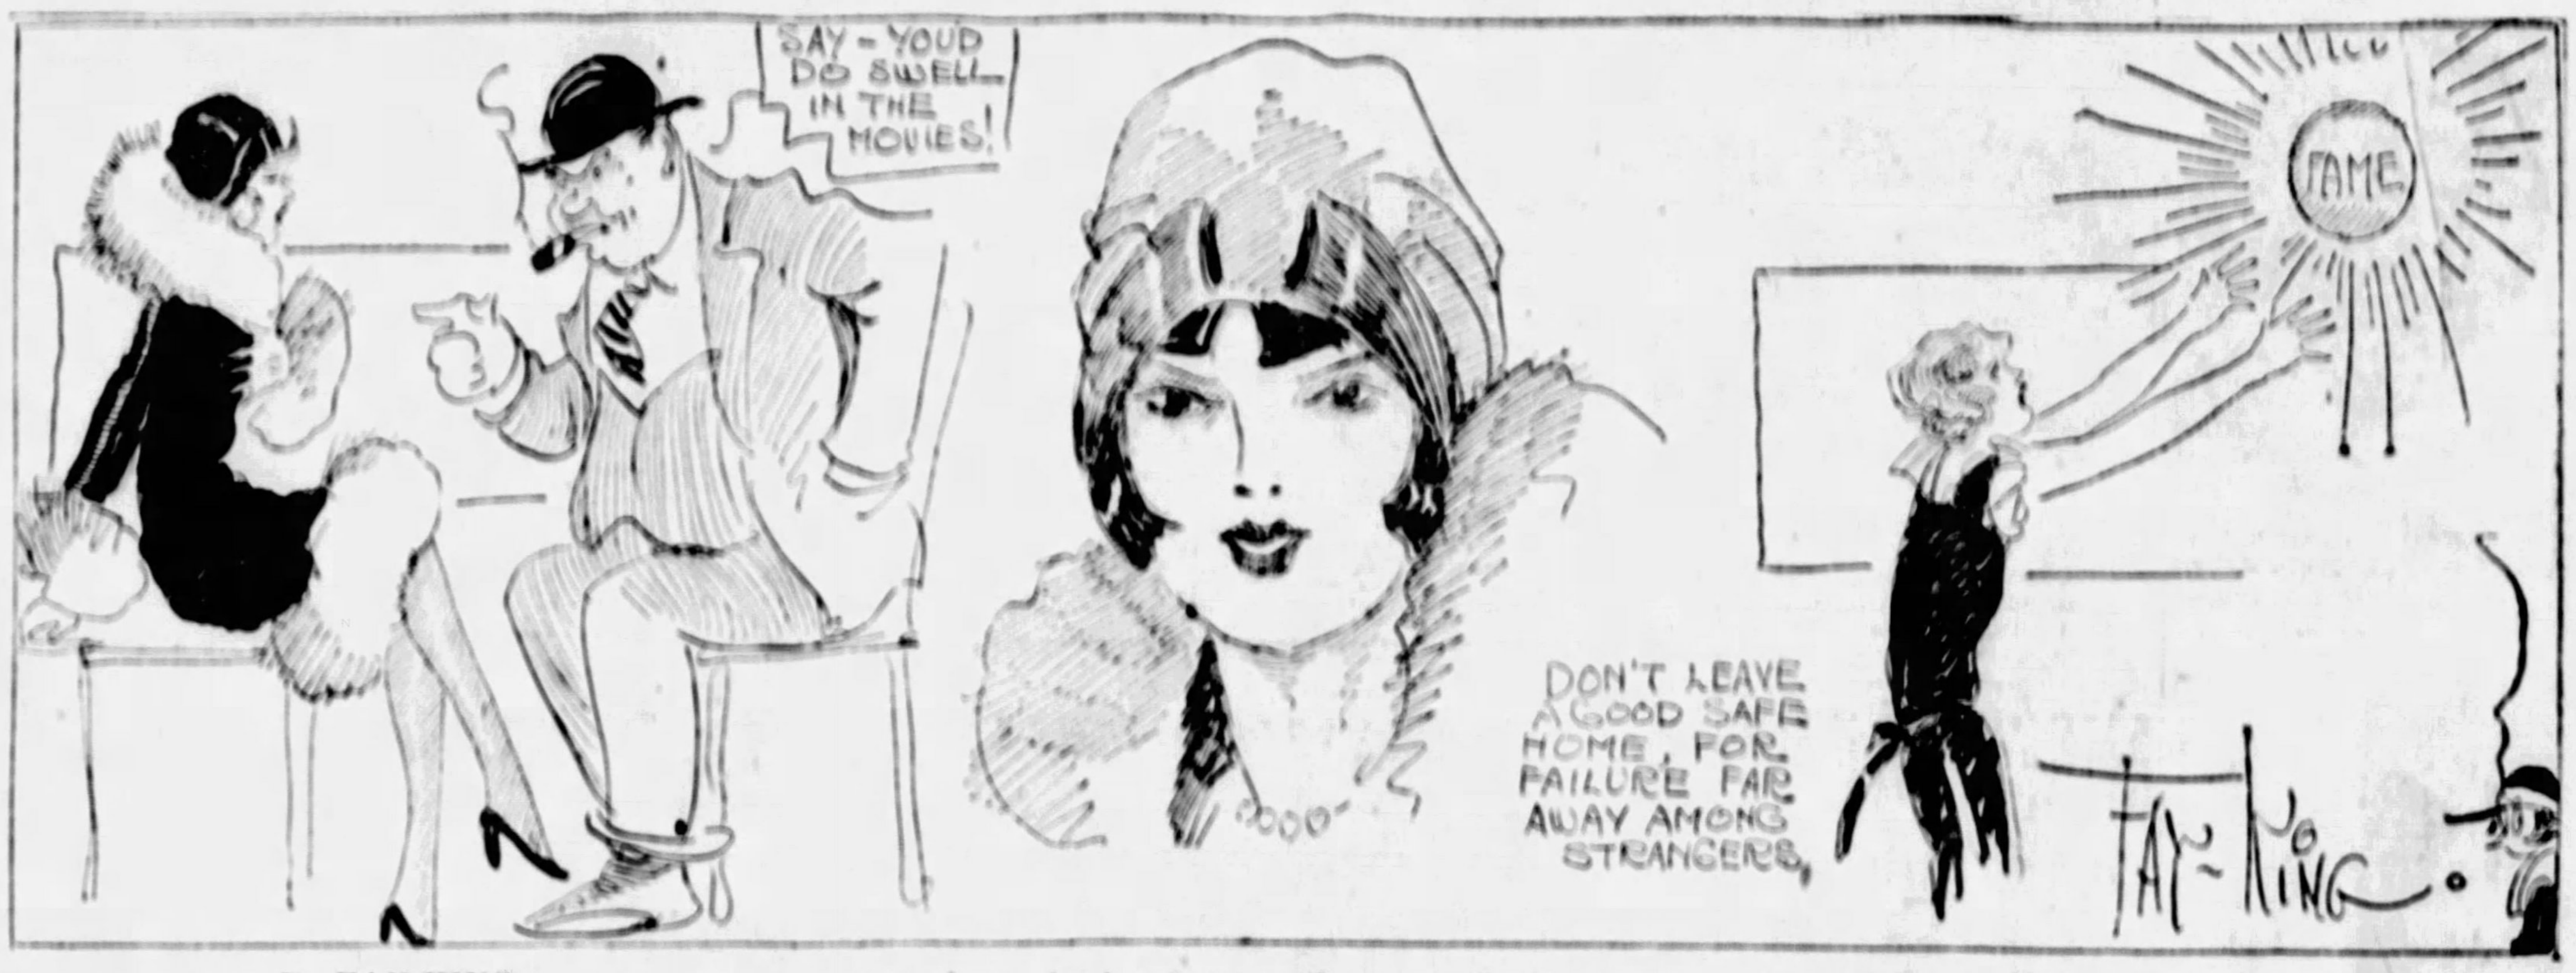
Girls, Watch for Movie Traps, Says Fay King



SAY—YOU'D DO SWELL IN THE MOVIES!
FAME
DON'T LEAVE A GOOD SAFE HOME, FOR FAILURE FAR AWAY AMONG STRANGERS.
FAY KING

By FAY KING

HOW foolish girls are to leave good and happy homes in search of fame and fortune.

How often it ends in failure and despair among strangers.

Fame at its best is not the path of roses and sunshine that press agents paint it.

One has only to study the faces of those who are enjoying the very greatest success to see in them traces of care and worry.

Just now the movies seem to be the goal and ambition of every pretty girl. How ready she is to believe the glib promise of some man who promises her a career on the screen. How she hangs on every word he says when he tells her that he knows this star and that star.

All of which has nothing at all to do with his ability to put her into pictures.

It is not often true that these fellows know any of the stars, but even if they do, even if they are associated with one of the big companies, that does not mean that they can place a girl with that company.

It is wise for a girl to remember that hundreds of girls with all the pull in the world are not getting a chance. Even well-known picture players whose past performances should be a help to them are given the run-around by studio directors.

Girls even have married producers, directors, cameramen and stars and not got on in pictures!

So don't believe these men who promise you such a lot of help to get camera tests.

Don't be so quick to leave home and those who love you best to find tears and disappointment among strangers who are too busy with their own troubles to sympathize with yours.

MEDITATIONS of a MARRIED WOMAN

by HELEN ROWLAND

GETTING THE JUICE OUT OF LIFE

YOU can bluff yourself a long way toward happiness.

You can "smile, smile, smile," and be SO "peppy" that half your neighbors will think you have come into money, and the other half will wish you would run into a lamp-post and end it all!

But, there is not much comfort in repeating, "Every day in every way, I am getting better and better!" when you know in your heart, that every time you say it, you are lying harder and harder.

HELEN ROWLAND

What IS happiness, anyhow? Most people have the fantastic notion that it is all a matter of getting the things you want in life.

"If only I could afford that car, own that house, win that woman, marry that man, have all that money—I should be perfectly happy!"—this is the sigh that comes from "the secret places of the heart."

Airy dreams! Delusions! Piffle! Possessions have nothing to do with happiness.

Happiness consists in just ONE THING. Creating the thing you love!

Every human being is a born CREATOR. In that sense, alone, is he made in the Image of his Maker.

The happy man is the one who is doing the thing he wants to do, making the thing he wants to make, becoming the thing he wants to become.

Mothers, artists, inventors, poets, actors, writers—these are the people who get the greatest KICK out of life. These are the people who never ask, "What is it all about, anyhow?" These are the people who squeeze all the juice out of the orange.

Happiness comes up smiling with every new-born child.

Is there any happiness on earth half so glamorous as that in the eyes of the new mother? Oh, yes, there is! Worlds of it! A hundred varieties of it!

There is the tingling happiness of the painter as he watches the thing of beauty, the child of his heart and brain, grow under the touch of his magic brushes. There is the poignant happiness of the poet as he catches the rhythm of his song; of the inventor as he puts salt on the tail of a new idea; of the musician as he brings harmony out of the keys.

Creators—all of us! From the sculptor to the cook, from the prima donna to the laundress, from the architect to the carpenter.

It doesn't matter much WHAT you are, so that it is what you WANT to be; nor what you DO, so that it happens to be the thing you LOVE to do—you'll be happy.

And you may take me literally and say that what you wanted to be was a pirate. Well, how do you know that a successful and conscientious pirate isn't HAPPY? Nobody ever said that Captain Kidd had melancholia!

Victory and defeat every man gains or sustains not at the hands of another but of himself.—PLUTO.

THIS day's planetary configurations point to opportunities for great gains and advancement if small anxieties and complications be carefully disposed of. Those in the employment of others are under a good sway for seeking preferment or increase of salary, and all may approach superiors or those in authority with confidence of an indulgent hearing and recognition of abilities.

Those whose birthday it is may prepare for a year of recognition of abilities, honors and advancement, especially if in employment. There may be some minor anxieties, but these may be manipulated to advantage by tact and discretion.

A child born on this day should be endowed with talents and capacity to rise to high places in employment or in authority, but it should be careful in handling all papers and writings and as to veracity.

Hemorrhoids Disappear

All Pile Misery Banished Without Cutting or Salves.

External treatments seldom banish Piles for the very good reason that the cause is inside—bad circulation in affected parts, veins are flabby and bowel walls weakened.

To quickly and safely rid yourself of piles you must free the circulation—send fresh, healthy blood to the raw, sensitive membranes. Internal treatment is one safe method. Ointments and other external treatments can't give lasting relief.

J. S. Leonhardt, M. D., a specialist, set at work some years ago to find a real internal remedy for piles. He succeeded. He named his prescription HEM-ROID, and it has proven successful in thousands of cases—so successful that now HEM-ROID is sold by druggists under a money back guarantee. It is a harmless tablet, easy to take, and can always be found at May Drug Co., who will promptly refund the purchase price if you are dissatisfied.

Once a School Teacher—Later a Famous Physician

A young man who was brought up on a farm in Western Pennsylvania qualified for district school teacher. Further pursuing his studies and teaching, he managed to save enough money to put him thru medical college. He began the practice of medicine in the new oil section of Pennsylvania, and often rode horse-back through the woods to reach and relieve those who were seriously ill. He was a student of nature, knew and easily recognized most of the medicinal plants growing in the woods.

Finally, he moved to Buffalo, N. Y., where he launched his favorite remedies, and, in a short time, they were sold by every druggist in the land. Today, the name of this man, the late Dr. R. V. Pierce, is known throughout the world. His Golden Medical Discovery is the best known general tonic for building up strength, restoring impaired tissues and enriching the blood. More than fifty million bottles have been sold in the U. S. If your druggist does not sell it, in liquid or tablets, you can obtain a trial pkg. of the tablets by sending 10c to the Dr. Pierce Clinic, in Buffalo, N. Y.

TANK BODY NOT IDENTIFIED

To the denial of a brother and two sisters, that the body found in the Equitable Gas Company's tank on Wednesday was that of their brother, Peter Scharf, of Sewickley, was added the denial of Mrs. Scharf. The widow came last night from Connellsville and after looking at the body declared that it was not that of her husband.

A leg previously was identified as being part of Scharf's body, but the remainder never was found. Friends of Scharf also say that the body in the morgue is not his, and point out that Scharf was at least six inches taller than the body found Wednesday.

SCIENCE Discovers Amazing Beads of Soap

Revolutionary new Octagon product made in tiny thin-walled "beads" now replaces both flakes and chips

UNLIKE any soap you have ever known. No more scrubbing and extra rinsing. Say good-by to your washboard. New patented* process makes possible these remarkable results

A NEW way to make soap has been discovered! A way that banishes once for all the hardest part of washday drudgery . . . that brings a new household blessing to 30 million American women.

It's an entirely new type of soap that makes clothes whiter than ever before. That dissolves instantly. That rinses quickly. That washes dishes in much less time, with far less work.

The name of this remarkable new product is Super Suds. It's an Octagon creation . . . developed by the oldest soap manufacturer in America.

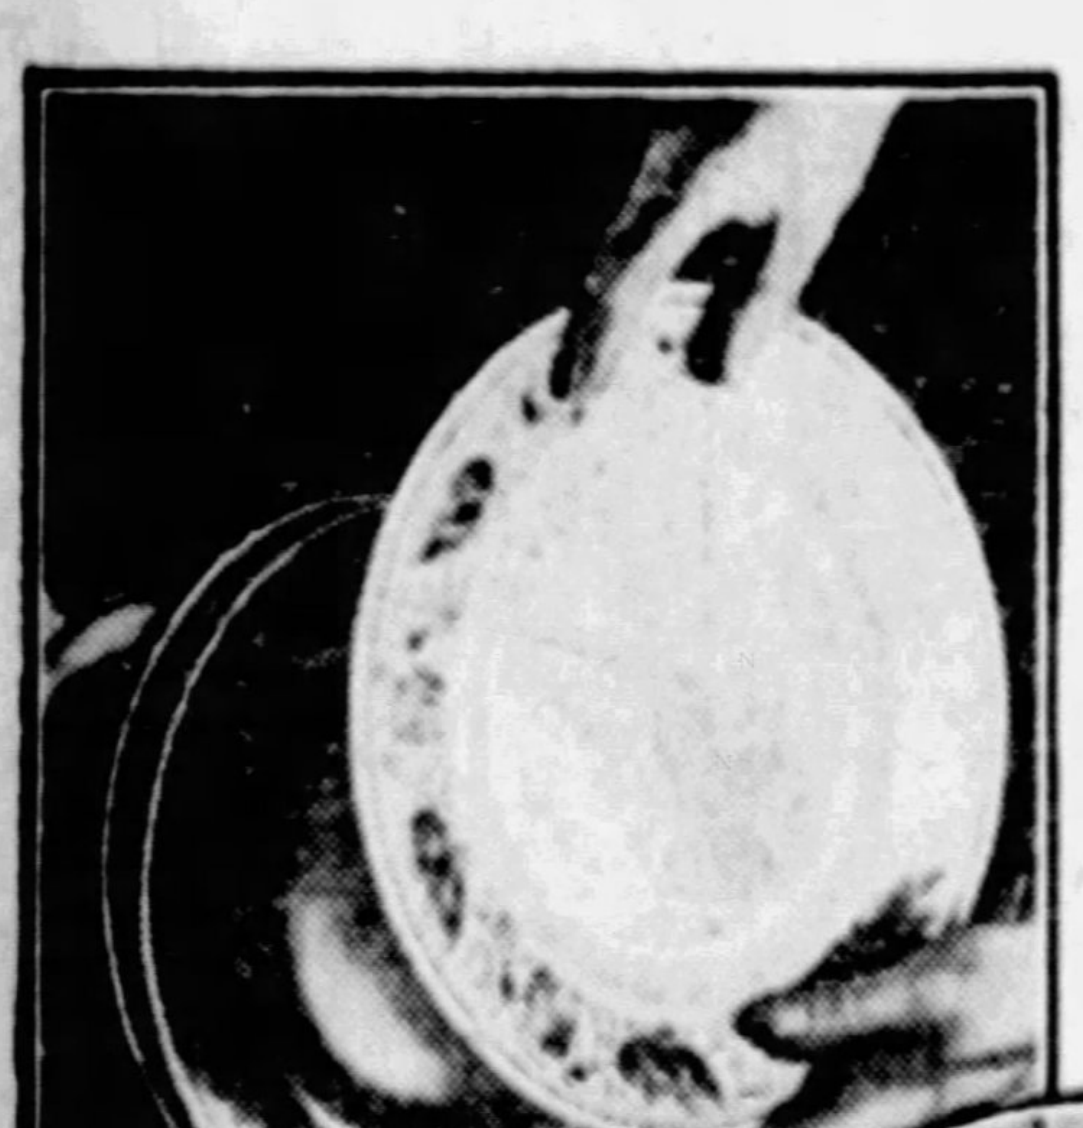
What it is—what it does

Super Suds is an entirely new type of soap . . . different in form, action and result from any you have ever known before.

You can see the difference under a magnifying glass. See it in the whiteness of your clothes. See it in the lustrous polish on your dishes and in the velvet smoothness of your hands.

It is actually soap in tiny thin-walled "beads" . . . the result of a revolutionary manufacturing discovery.

Scientists developed it. Found the way to make soap of microscopic thinness. Four times as thin as chip soap. By far the thinnest type of soap ever discovered. Tests show it is by far the most completely soluble in the shortest time.



Throw away your dish towels! Super Suds rinses off completely and leaves no sign of film . . . china and glassware gleam and glisten as though they'd been polished with a cloth.

Just pour a little Super Suds into your tub or electric washer . . . Quick as a flash you get rich, lively suds. Super Suds dissolves quicker than any soap you've ever used before.

DISSOLVES COMPLETELY
GIVES
SPARKLING DISHES
Super Suds

Super Suds Demonstration in New York Domestic Science Class.

The minute these tiny beads touch water—active suds result. No stirring or shaking is necessary. They dissolve instantly! Like magic! No other type of soap is like it. No other type of soap can give you such astonishing results.

We make this statement without reservation . . . for both chip and flake soap are Octagon products. We know from countless scientific tests that this is the soap of the future. Without question, it will make all others obsolete.

For every household use

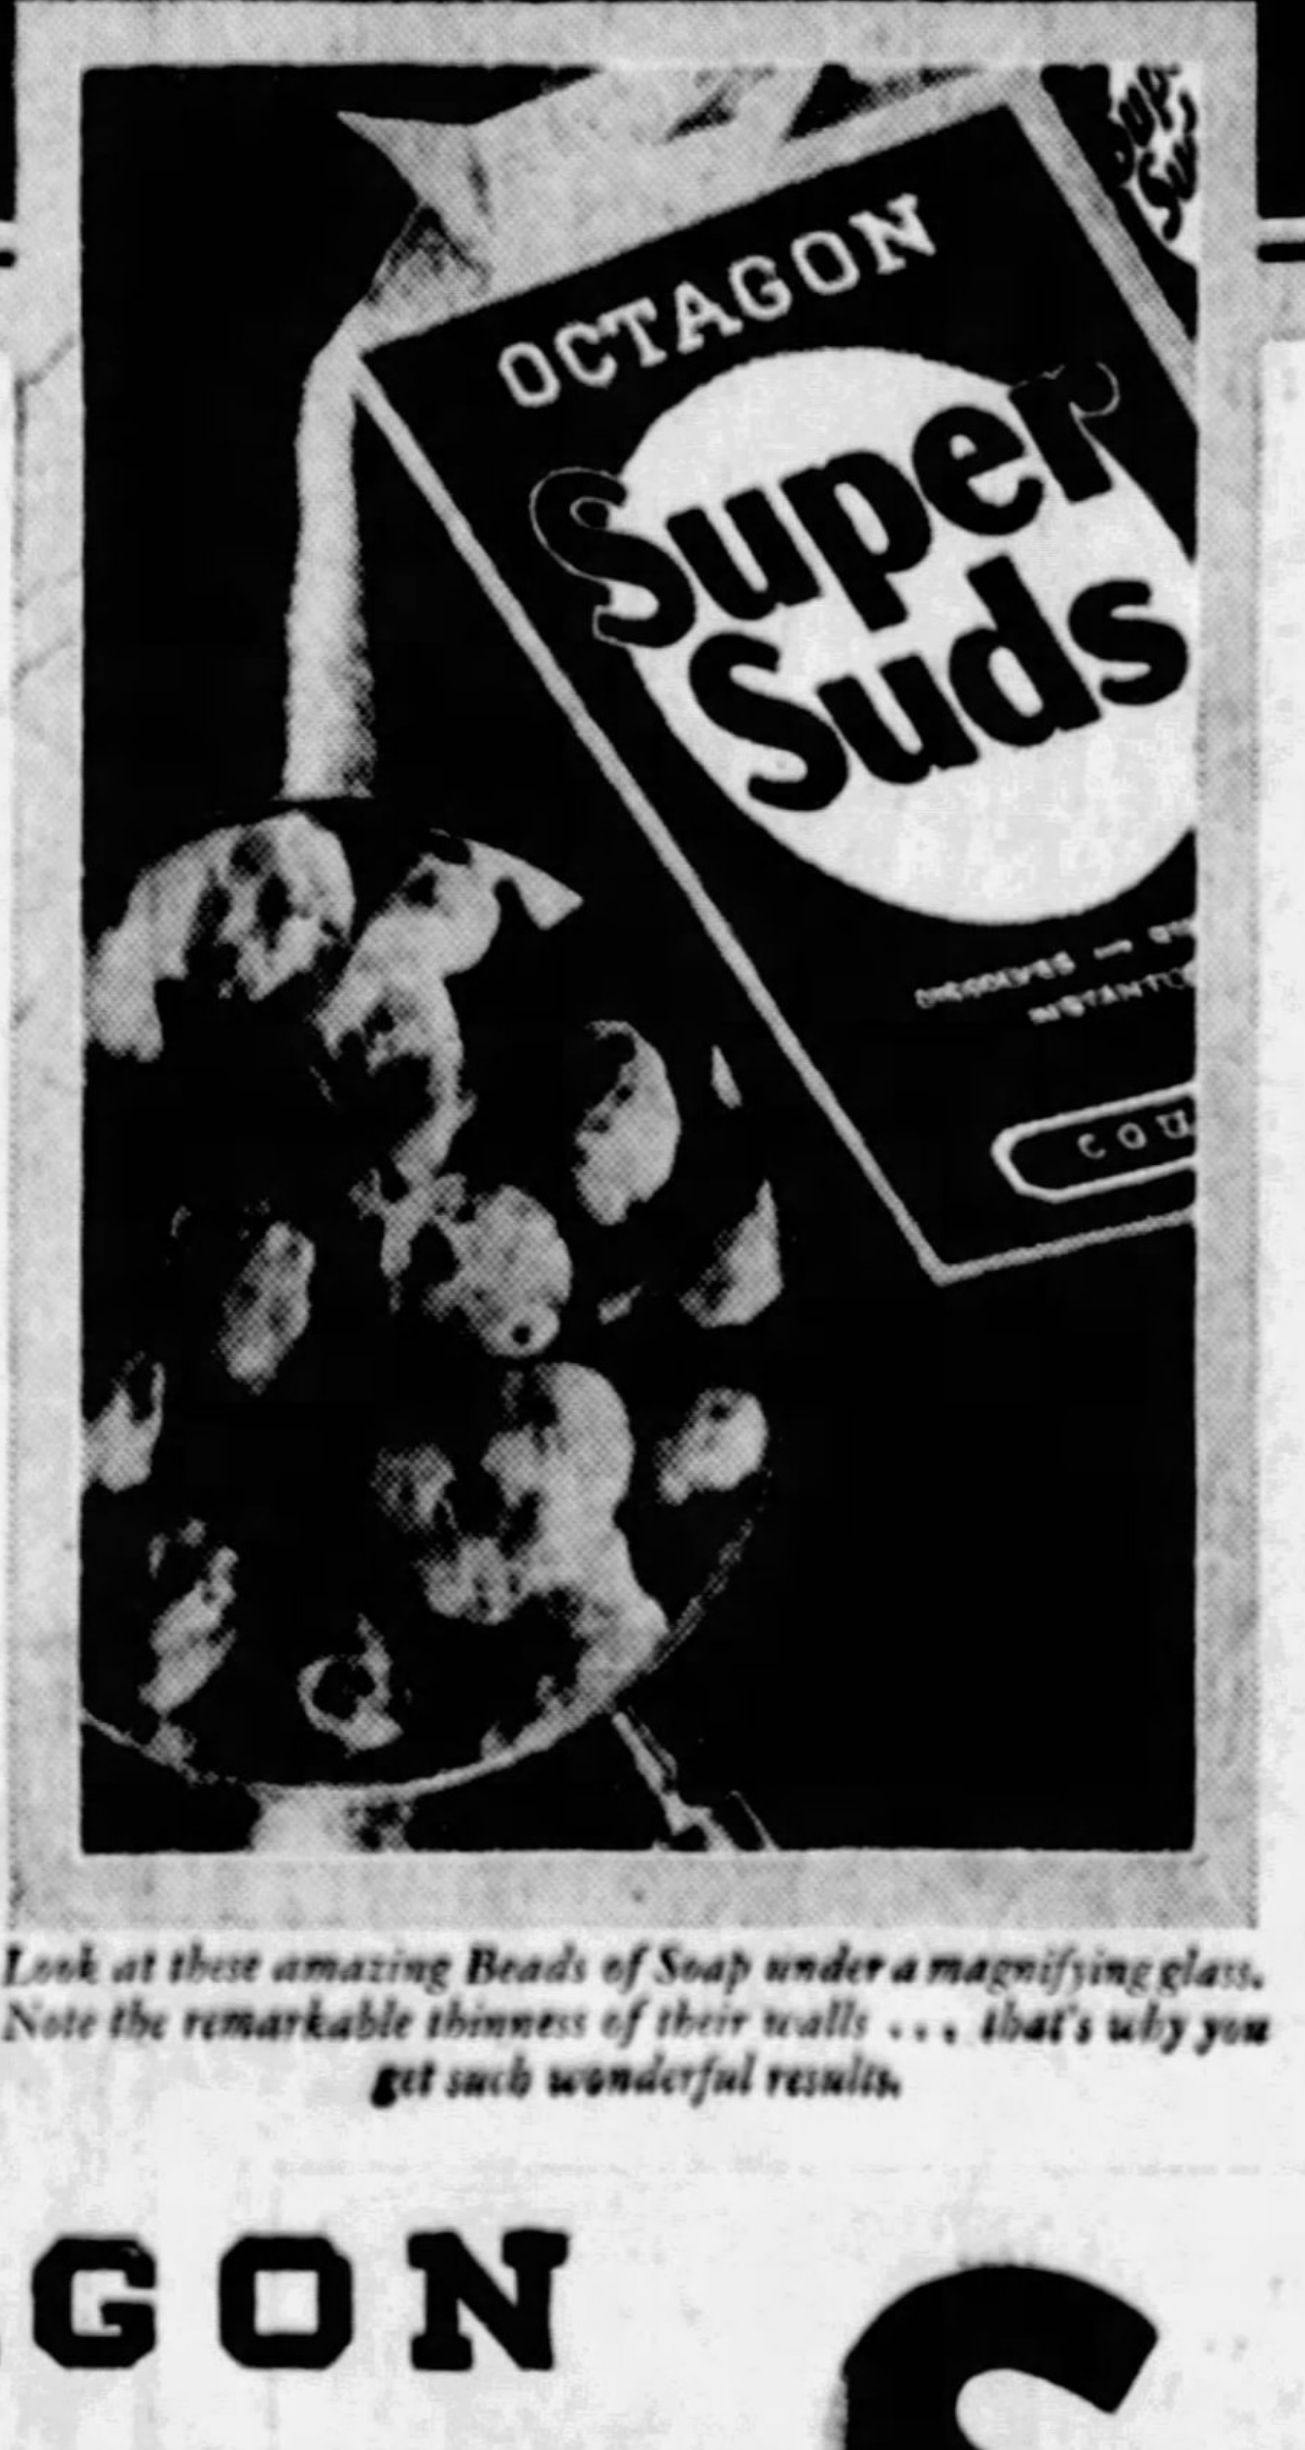
And now comes the best news of all. Super Suds was especially designed for general household use—created for fine fabrics, laundry . . . and dishwashing, too. Thus one soap now does everything you want a soap to do.

Super Suds cannot harm the daintiest fabrics . . . washes lingerie with complete safety. And for the heavy work on washday, it is absolutely without a rival. These facts are based upon highest scientific authority . . . the result of test after test in laboratories and the home.

Super Suds dissolves more rapidly than any soap you've ever used before. That's the secret of its quick suds and its cleansing magic.

Instantly—it bursts into a rich, running suds. Action suds! Suds that actually swish about in the washtub—penetrating every fold of cloth—seeping around every fibre—washing away all grease and grime.

There's no need to use your washboard now. No need to scrub and rub until your back just aches from the strain. Leave it to Super Suds to soak out the dirt without this tedious work.



Look at these amazing Beads of Soap under a magnifying glass. Note the remarkable thinness of their walls . . . that's why you get such wonderful results.

With Super Suds you'll save much time and effort in rinsing alone. That's because it dissolves so completely. No soap particles are left clinging to fabrics.

Clothes dry out with lovely new whiteness. There's never a trace of "soap stain." You simply won't be able to realize that a soap can make such a difference in the color of your wash.

New way to wash dishes No film—No reddened hands

Smooth, lovely hands . . . in spite of three dishwashings a day. China, silver, and glasses . . . that sparkle like diamonds.

That's what Super Suds offers you . . . a new and better way to wash dishes that's faster . . . easier . . . than any you've ever known before.

THESE AMAZING BEADS

bring to 30 million American women a soap in the form they have always wanted; making possible these wonderful results:

1 Whiter clothes

2 Less rinsings

3 Dishes that sparkle like diamonds

4 Softer, daintier hands

Simply because these thin-shelled beads dissolve completely they leave no soap particles to sour and discolor clothes; to cling to china or glassware; to irritate and redden lovely hands.

It rinses off so easily that no soap film is left on glassware or china . . . just give them a hot rinse and let dishes drain and dry themselves. It cuts dishwashing time . . . gets dishes gleaming clean with complete safety to your hands.

Super Suds, you see, is scientifically blended to give efficient results and still remain kind to your skin.

Try it, please . . . Note the difference

Now that we have told you the remarkable story of Super Suds . . . will you try it in your own home?

Test it in comparison with any soap you have ever used before. See how much whiter it makes your clothes . . . how clean without the usual drudgery. Try it . . . we know you'll like it . . . and when you do, please tell your friends . . . for we are anxious to spread this good news among the women of America quickly.

The whitest clothes you ever saw . . . out on the line in record time. No need for rubbing and scrubbing.

Super Suds is surprisingly inexpensive . . . its 10-cent price is based on quantity production. If for no other reason you should buy it for economy . . . it's the biggest 10-cent box of soap on the market.

SINGER HALTS EARTHQUAKE PANIC

MEXICO CITY ROCKED BY SHOCK

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 10.—(AP.)—The songs of a Spanish soprano averted a panic in the Iris Theater here last night, when the severest earthquake in several years rocked the city.

So intense was the tremor which occurred at 10:40 p. m. that seismographs were thrown out of order and no official record of the movement was available today. The earthquake lasted for several minutes.

Angeles Ottein, Spanish soprano, was giving a concert in the Iris Theater when the building commenced to rock. Terror-stricken spectators jumped from their seats and started for the exits, but the soprano sang on, averting a stampede.

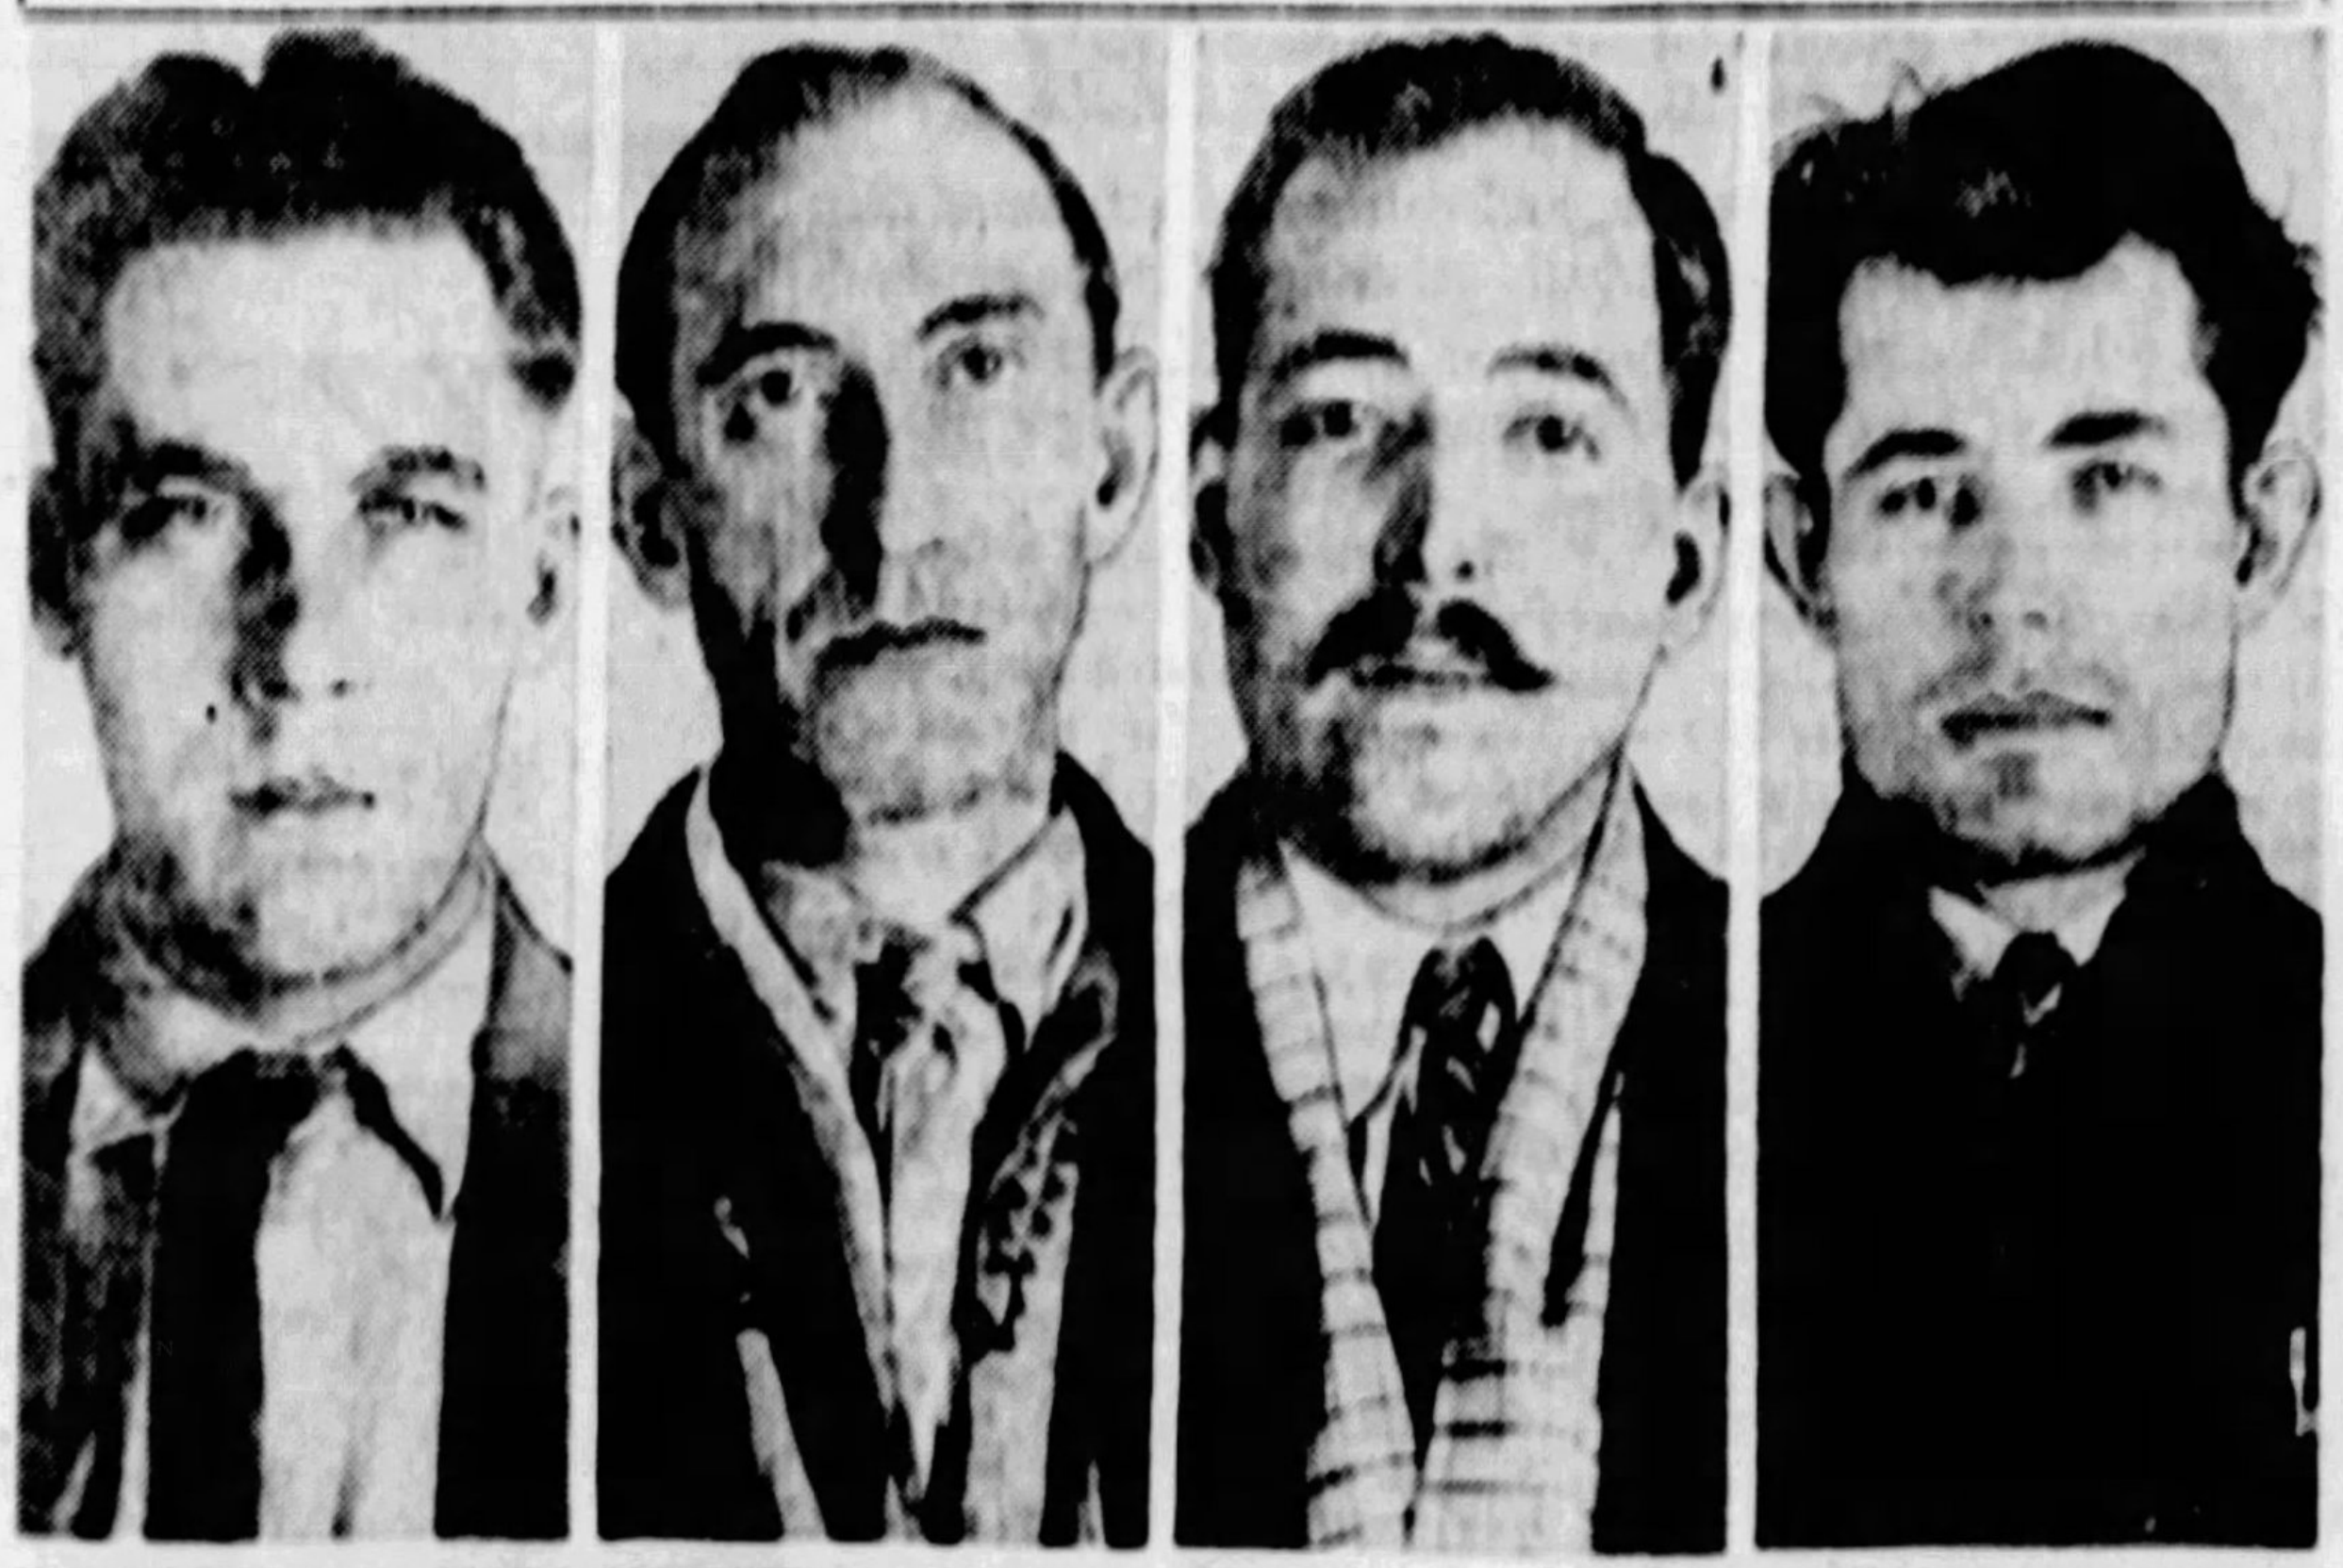
At various motion picture theaters people rushed through the darkness for the exits and fought frantically to gain the street. No casualties have been reported, however.

The jail at Midcoac, one of the suburbs of Mexico City, was damaged.

ELLWOOD CITY BOYS NEAR DEATH AS AUTO STALLS

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., Feb. 10.—Five local boys had a narrow escape from death when the automobile in which they were riding stalled on a railroad track near Mars and was demolished by a fast Baltimore and Ohio Railroad train. The boys are Edward Fike, Albert Phillipone, John Sanders, Don Johnson and Charles Demas. The boys were en route to a basketball game and while crossing the tracks the front wheels became wedged between the rails and the ties. They were forced to break the glass in the window to escape.

HELD IN CHAIN STORE ROBBERIES



THEODORE LIPPZER, FRED CRAVER, TONY CAPPADONA, MARK LESTER

A series of five Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company store holdups in McKeesport, Homestead and other nearby towns is charged to four suspects being held by county detectives. Theodore Lippzer, of 223 Fifth avenue, McKeesport, and Fred Craver, 27, of 1821 Cliff street, McKeesport, are said to have admitted participation in four of the holdups. Tony Cappadona, 31, of 618 Juanita street, McKeesport, and Mark Lester, 33, of 124 Pear alley, Duquesne, deny knowledge of the holdups in which loot estimated at $3,000 was obtained from store managers and customers.

THE DIVORCE MILL

WOULDN'T WORK

Her husband wouldn't work but would get up in the wee morning hours to steal milk for their baby, Elizabeth Dickey, 24, of Lincoln avenue, testified in her divorce action against John Dickey, 28. But eventually he even tired of that, according to the wife, and in 1925 deserted her.

ROW OVER MISPLAY

Mrs. Esther T. Ganter, 29, of Bellaire avenue, Brookline, testifying in her divorce action against John A. Ganter, Jr., of 2500 Perrysville avenue, declared that when she tried to correct him on a misplay at bridge he knocked her from her chair to the floor, unconscious; that he provided barely enough money for food and that she was forced to get clothing expenses from her mother, and, finally, that Ganter allowed friends to view a substantial Christmas check he gave her, and then tore it to pieces.

PITTSBURGHER WINS CASE

CINCINNATI, O., Feb. 10.—(AP.)—Claims of John H. Lesley, of Pittsburgh, Pa., and Ann Schoen, Des Moines, Ind., that the Monarch Tool and Manufacturing Company, of Cincinnati, had infringed upon a patent held by them, were upheld by Judge Smith Hickenlooper, in District Court, in a memorandum decision handed down yesterday.

The decision was in regard to a patent pertaining to the operation of mechanical musical instruments by insertion of a coin.

The case was referred to a master for assessment of profits and damages. Another case regarding a patent known as the Lesley and Enz, was held invalid for lack of invention.

ARREST THREE IN BLACKHAND MURDERS HERE

BAG BOMBING SUSPECTS IN HILL RAID

Alleged by police to be members of a blackhand gang responsible for numerous killings in Pittsburgh and vicinity, Mike Anteri, 35, Crafton; Guiseppi Ranieri, 32, of 1314 Gilmore street, and Sam Milosi, 35, 2613 Webster avenue, were arrested last night in the latter's room.

The raid followed an investigation into the attempted bombing of the home of Conradi Martino, McKnight street, West End, on January 20. Following the Martino outrage, police made several raids in the Hill District and the one last night was the outcome of an investigation made by the postoffice department. Postoffice Inspector George Craighead, obtained threatening letters which Martino had received and these, it is said, led to the arrest of the three men. They were held over when arraigned before Magistrate George H. England this morning.

ARREST HOMESTEAD MAN IN 10-YEAR-OLD MURDER

Accused of a murder that occurred more than 10 years ago, Pasquale Z. Gucarell, 40, of 1203 Sylvan avenue, Homestead, was arrested today by Police Chiefs Michael Maroney, of Homestead, and Griff Williams, of Munhall, and is being held pending word from Chicago, where the murder was committed. Gucarell said he was tried and acquitted of the murder charge and that his arrest was prompted by blackhanders. He has been employed in the blacksmith department of the Homestead Steel Works for almost 10 years.

PRIZES AWARDED AT ART EXHIBIT

Artists, friends of artists, and patrons of art, more than 1,000 of them, attended a private showing of the eighteenth annual exhibition of the Associated Artists of Pittsburgh in the galleries of Carnegie Institute last night and a general expression of satisfaction prevailed.

The work of the local artists displayed this year, though indicating a freedom and individuality, shows less of inclination towards the blatant modernism in art which has been characteristic of several of the recent exhibitions.

Although the first, second and third prize winners were done in modernistic manner, the public gave them but casual attention and centered its interest on what it liked. Norwood MacGilvary's "Circe," first prize award, has a whimsical charm about it; M. J. Vick's third prize picture, "A Family Group," showing numerous trees leaning in friendly attitude, has vibrant color, but it was the second prize award, won by the erstwhile house-painter, John Kane, that created most discussion of the jury's taste.

Kane not only won second prize of $150, but he had all of his six submitted paintings accepted. There were many who gave them serious appreciation and others who smiled and passed along, but nevertheless, John Kane, who first came to notice by having a painting accepted for the international exhibition last year, has "arrived."

William R. Shulgold, one of the promising younger artists of the city, secured the largest prize of the show, the Carnegie Institute prize of $250 for the best group of three or more oils. His four canvases show a variety of feeling and a definiteness of purpose that are the results of understanding.

Other prizes include the Art Society's award of $100 to S. Rosenberg for the best portrait, the A. W. Smith, Jr., prize of $50 to Sarah C. Wilson for the best floral painting, the Camilla Robb Russell memorial prize of $25 to Willard Perkins for the best water color, the Pittsburgh School of Design prize of $25 for the best painting by a woman member of the association given to Elizabeth R. Robb and the award of $50 to William Wolfson for the best work in black and white.

Everett Warner, now an instructor of Carnegie Tech art school, displayed a highly skilled quality in his one-man exhibition, a group of paintings that show maturity and surety. His subjects ranged from local landscapes to views from airplanes and New York's waterfront.

For sheer outdoor happiness and warmth the work of Christian J. Walter, president of the association, was pronounced and his daughter, Nancy, presented four colorful and charming landscapes.

Noticeable at the exhibition is the almost uniform smallness of the canvases and the largeness of scope of theme. The show opens to the public today and will continue on view until March 9.

At the county morgue it was said that death apparently had been caused by apoplexy. At the Pennsylvania Railroad Station it was said that Collins was employed there as a brakeman, but had not been working since Saturday.

Aim To Live 100

An Easy System To Follow For People Half Dead Around the Age of 40.

We only begin to think of our health when the human machine staggers and falters under a load of disease.

Millions of people who suffer needlessly from constipation, sour stomach, indigestion, liver, kidney and impure blood ailments should follow this proven advice: Go to your druggist, ask him for a box of the famous Bulgarian Herb (Blood) Tea. Here is what the tea is guaranteed to do for you. It will remove the toxic poisons from the bowels, stimulate and tone the liver, flush and cleanse the kidneys, kill off stomach gases, improve and enrich the blood—thereby putting your entire system in a first class healthy condition.

Begin right now to purify your system. Put back power and health into your blood. Take a cupful of the rich vitalizing juices of these precious herbs at least once each week. No cheating. Remember, once a week regular, that's the system. In a very short time you will begin to feel like a new person.

Further, just to break up a cold quickly and avoid "Flu" or pneumonia, Bulgarian Herb (Blood) Tea is worth ten times its small cost. Remember, see your druggist at once. Don't put it off.

PROGRAM

Sonata, quasi una Fantasia.....Beethoven
C sharp minor, opus 27, No. 2
Adagio sostenuto,
Allegretto,
Presto agitato
(Without intermission.)
Fantasia, quasi Sonata..............Liszt
(After reading Dante)
Fantasia..............................Chopin
Scherzo, Polonaise in C minor, Polonaise, E flat major.........Chopin
Fairy Tale, opus 24, No. 1..........Medtner
Prelude.......................Rachmaninoff
Valse Caprice, No. 1.........Strauss-Tausig

The magic circle of musician's names that have become household words now certainly includes Sergei Rachmaninoff. Looking about Carnegie Music Hall last night, I could see how this Russian pianist's renown had attracted all types, those who know the man as a composer, those who like his piano fireworks, and those who play his prelude which he kindly omitted from his group of encores. After a program composed of almost entirely warhorses, the audience was wildly enthusiastic, and with good reason.

For me Rachmaninoff's great appeal lies in his tremendous vigor and the extreme clarity of his music, never in his tone. Too often his tone is not truly pianistic, never disagreeable on account of its brilliance and force, and frequently, as in Chopin, of astonishing variety. But his superb intelligence as absolute musician brings into all the music he plays transparency that is never overdrawn nor forced beyond the bounds of good taste. His reading of the Liszt Fantasia was a proof of his genius for finding the intention of the composer far beyond the meaning of the notes, for in all the literature of piano music there are no duller pages than these. And Liszt wrote them after a reading of Dante when he and Marie d'Agoult were the envy of all lovers. This fantasy represents Liszt, the showman, at his worst, yet Rachmaninoff imbued it with real music.

One could justly question the tempo of the second movement of Beethoven's Moonlight Sonata, but in other respects the composition remained not only faithful to text but lost all sentimentality and gained considerable charm, especially by means of the bell-like announcement of the first theme. We hear the F Minor Fantasy of Chopin all too seldom; tremendous color contrasts and descending chromatics like falling rockets characterized its interpretation. Had Chopin been physically able, he would have liked to play his polonaises as we heard them last night, for they had all the revolutionary spirit of Poland with a dash of Russian thrown in. Medtner is a colleague of Rachmaninoff and little known in America. His Fairy Tales (some of them appeared on Rachmaninoff's last program) are well worth study; they are full of fancy and very pianistic. The Strauss-Tausig valse is not the most interesting nor tuneful from this pair, and looked for all the world like a juggler's act. A Chopin nocturne in E flat and Liszt's Valse Oubliee were the only encores.

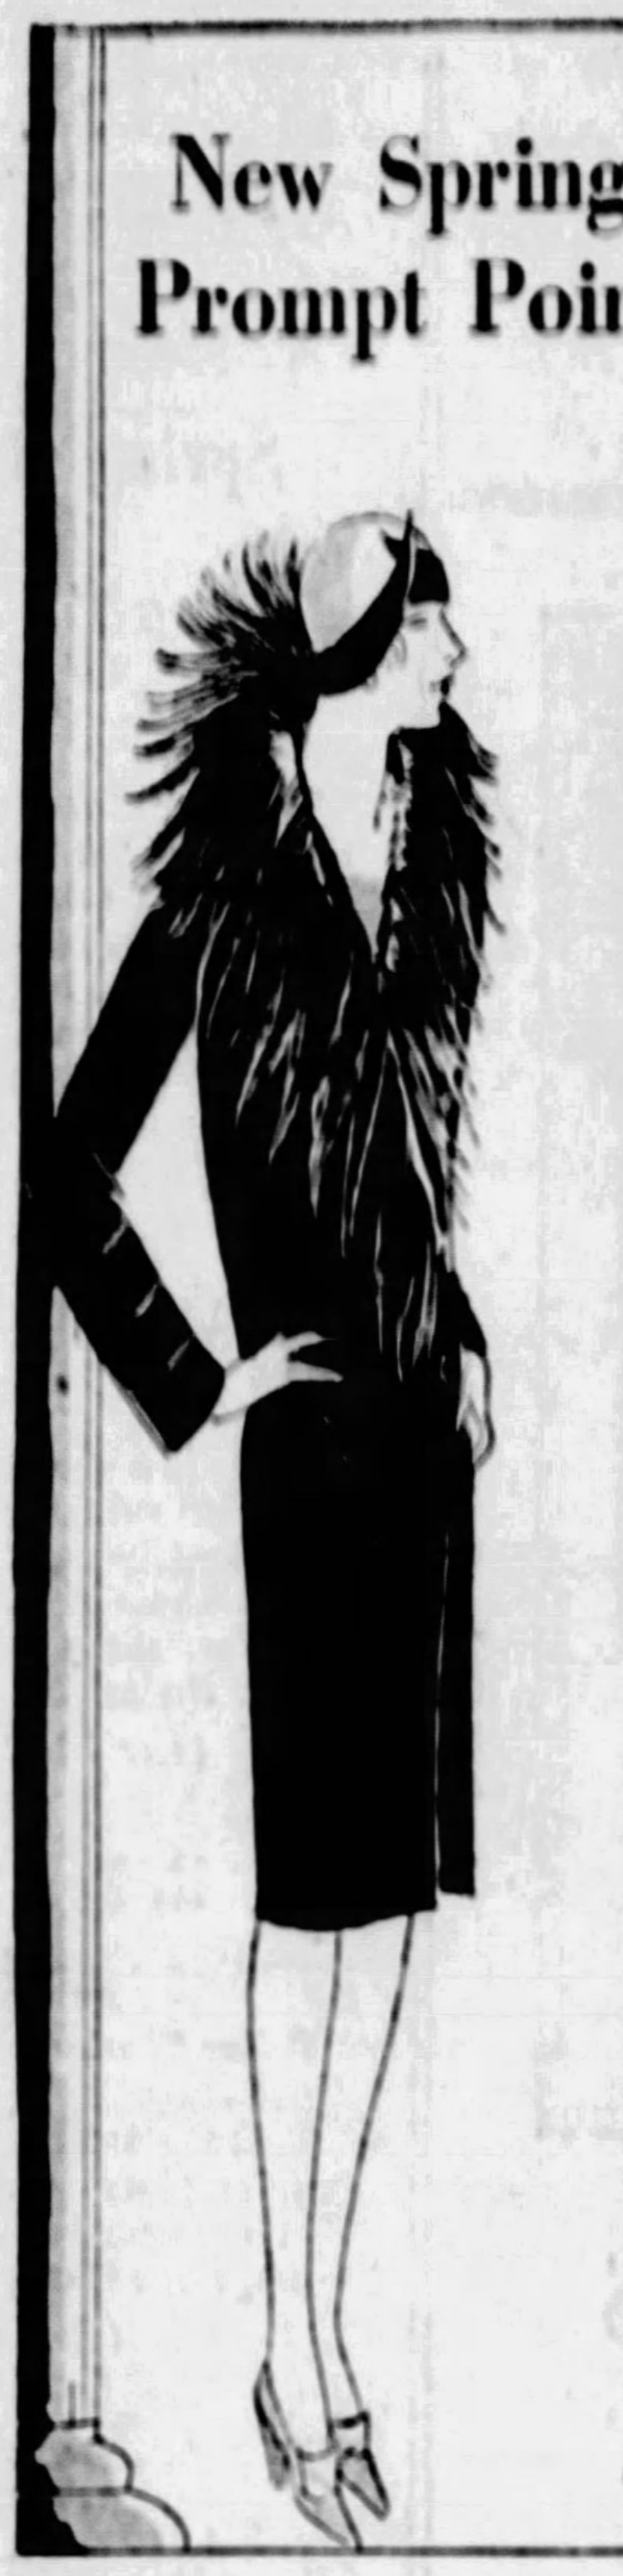
New Spring Coats Carry Prompt Points of Interest



$59 $79 $95

Sizes For Women

The new coats are here—and looking interestedly toward Spring! Trig and fashion-favored in fabric and line. For instance, there's a beige silvia cloth with fox collar. An all-black coat turns up a monkey-fur collar, sleek and smart. A grey kasha uses tiny tucks to form diamond-shaped motifs.

Cape collars, you know, are among the newest notes for Spring...and you'll like a beige kashmir with the cape collar. The tailored types use stitching and slot seaming to give new lines.

Many Are Furless

And Fashion is very impartial towards fur this Spring. Every bit as smart as the fur collar—is the coat that affects a swagger neck-throw. One model has lining and matching scarf of print. The stitched collar that turns up carelessly in the back is very youthful.

The shoulder-line is a bit different this year — and more attention is given to smart-looking backs. And every line is slenderizing.

M'KEESPORTERS DEFY WEATHER TO HEAR GOSPEL

GUARDS AND PRISONERS VANISH

EVANGELIST AND AIDES

WHERE THOUSANDS HEAR "GLORY GOSPEL"

The huge tabernacle is the rendezvous nightly of thousands who go to hear the Gospel as expounded by Mr. Sproul. The sermons are broadcast and among thousands of postcards already received were two from points as distant as Long Island, New York, and Kentucky. The subject for last evening's service was "Faith Healing," when a score of those attending services told of how prayer routed illness.

"COME DOWN THE GRAVEL TRAIL"

Mr. Sproul snapped in action as he appeared when he opened the pathway to the altar down which hundreds marched. The "Glory Barn" aisles are covered with gravel but aside from crunching they are identical with the famed "sawdust" trail of "Billy" Sunday.

BUCKET BRIGADE SAVES TOWN FROM FIRE

SECOND NEWS SECTION THE SUN TELEGRAPH SPORTS FEATURES
FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 10, 1928

BLAZE AT SLOVAN CHECKED

BURGETTSTOWN, Pa., Feb. 10.—Fire which raged for two hours in the Horovitz department store, in the center of the business district of Slovan, three miles from here, this morning, threatened the destruction of the town.

A bucket brigade held the fire in check until firemen from Burgettstown and Canonsburg arrived. After a two-hour battle the firemen got the blaze under control.

An explosion in a furnace is believed to have started the fire at 7 o'clock this morning. The building, a two-story brick, covered three lots and was well stocked. Several times the flames leaped to adjoining buildings, the Filiponi Brothers' grocery, on one side, and the feed store of Frank Testa on the other.

Horovitz, with his wife and four children, got out of the house safely.

The damage is estimated at $20,000.

FEAR PRISONERS KILLED GUARDS

By International News Service

KOKOMO, Ind., Feb. 10.—Sheriff Mose Johnson, of Tippecanoe county, Ind., receiving an anonymous tip, dispatched a squad of deputy sheriffs to a stone quarry near here to search with grappling hooks for the bodies of two deputy sheriffs, believed overpowered and slain by two prisoners whom they were conducting to a reformatory last Tuesday.

A mysterious letter, received by the sheriff, stated: "You will find the bodies of the two deputies in a quarry near Kokomo." The letter was unsigned.

A pair of mutilated handcuffs were picked up in South Chicago, and led authorities to believe the prisoners had eluded their guards, perhaps killing them.

The missing deputies are John P. Grove and Wallace McClure. They left Lafayette early Tuesday in an automobile with two prisoners, Sam Baxter and John Burns, both of whom had been sentenced for robbery to the state reformatory at Pendleton, Ind.

A score of citizen posses, state highway police and deputy sheriffs, recruited in Indiana, have been scouring the northwestern section of the state since the quartet failed to arrive at Pendleton.

Authorities fear the two prisoners caught the guards unaware, overpowered them, perhaps killed them and hid their bodies.

HEARST'S SON ENGAGED

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 10.—The announcement of the engagement of Miss Alma Walker to William Randolph Hearst, Jr., was made last evening at a dinner given by the bride-elect's sister, Miss Harriet Walker. The wedding will take place in the early spring.

Miss Walker is the second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton L. Walker, of Piedmont. She was graduated from Williams School in Berkely and afterwards lived at the Finch School in New York, while she was a student at the Art League.

Mr. Hearst is the second son of Mr. and Mrs. William Randolph Hearst.

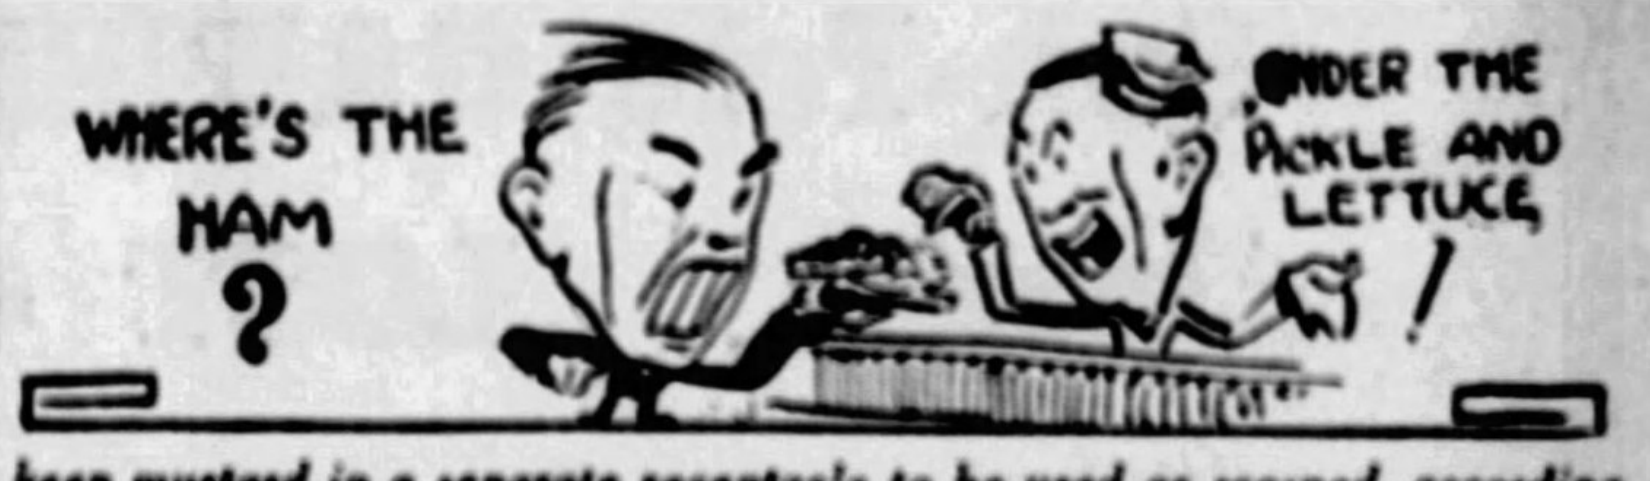
IN SPITE of a long campaign here it is still impossible to get a sandwich without (a) a pickle; (b) lettuce; and (c) dressing. True, in some restaurants it is possible to get a sandwich with just one of this extraneous triumvirate of non-essentials, but the trick of getting a sandwich with no trappings at all has yet to be achieved.

While most lunch places have achieved the point where they know some customers do not like mustard on their sandwiches, and therefore keep mustard in a separate receptacle to be used or scorned, according to the taste of the diner, there is still a general belief among chefs that everyone likes pickle, dressing and lettuce.



WHERE'S THE HAM ?
UNDER THE PICKLE AND LETTUCE !

SPEAKING of luncheon places in Pittsburgh, there is one restaurant, and so far as we know, the only one in the city, where only one meal a day is served—lunch. The profits coming from the breakfast and dinner trade are passed up.

HE TOLD us the story himself, not thinking he was talking for publication. He is in his forties and he exercises three nights a week by skating in the only Pittsburgh ice skating rink, Duquesne Garden. He has been doing this practically since ice skating indoors began here. He works up a good sweat every night, puts on his great coat, and hustles home where he takes a plunge. "And it keeps you in great shape?" we asked rhetorically, and he almost knocked us off the chair by saying: "No, I'm bothered a great deal with colds."

OF FURTHER interest, it seemed here, was the fact that this skating hobby brought him a serious accident in New York. He took a spill in a New York rink one night and injured his head and one eye. "Luckily," he said, "the shattered glass of my spectacles entered an eye already blind. Had it entered my remaining good eye I might be totally blind."

It struck us that here was a character who would have pleased Diogenes in his lighted quest for an honest man. For honest he is. Yet why he works so hard to win a physical condition that he does not attain is quite a puzzler.

THE picture at the top of this column bothers a correspondent, writing from the East Liberty Y and signing himself, L. K. Frank. "The picture makes you look too much like a sap," writes our interesting friend.

Well, we had thought of putting up there the picture of Richard Barthlemess, but dismissed the idea, fearing complications.

The man's enthusiasm is so great that in a few days we'll make another appointment with a photographer and see if he can do anything about it. We have our doubts.

IT'S too bad if Pittsburgh must lose its hockey team, a rumor that has been popping up frequently of late. Pittsburgh was the cradle of hockey in this country. Pioneers in the professional game, coming here as Canadians, remained to become Pittsburghers. Roy Schooley, coming here as a referee, liked the town so well, that he got work as a reporter, later delved into politics, and now holds a position on a prominent county board. The Sixsmith brothers and others came here to stay. Arthur Sixsmith became private secretary to A. W. Mellon, secretary of the treasury, and Garnet Sixsmith is an official of the Pennsylvania Railroad.

IF YOU get time read: "Count Luckner, The Sea Devil," as stirring a tale as you'd care to read. It is told to Lowell Thomas by a gay German seadog who in a sailing raider made merry with much Allied shipping during the war. A courteous buccaneer he was, never killing nor mistreating a captive. Sly, daring, and captivating was this German count who, Pittsburgh book sellers tell you, is reciting his story in many Pittsburgh homes. It is not fiction.

Richard Dix to Don Uniform Of Diamond and Do Baseball Drama When Big Games Begin

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS.

Motion Picture Editor of Univesal Service.

LOS ANGELES, Feb, 10,

The big leaguers who swing the baseball bats and don the gloves in the spring are beginning to figure more and more in motion pictures. Every time a film company has a baseball picture the schedule is arranged so that it will start when the big games are in full swing. That is when it is impossible to coax the big boys into the picture. Richard Dix's next film, a baseball drama, "Knocking 'Em Over," starts in the spring as soon as the big games get into action.

This drama was written by Sam Mintz. One of the best things Richard Dix ever did was "Knockout Reilly," a prize fight picture. He shines much better in athletic stories. I can never forgive Paramount for dolling him up in a sombrero and making a Spanish sheik of him. He looks too throughly American to ever be effective in any costume.

COMEDY, MUSIC NEW BILLS

The Alvin offers "The Student Prince" for five nights, opening Tuesday night, with matinees on Wednesday and Saturday. The Automobile Club of Syria Temple bought the entire capacity of the Alvin for Monday night and, finding that more of the membership of Syria could be seated in Syria Mosque, made further arrangements to move "The Student Prince" company, complete and intact to the Mosque for one performance.

The musical comedy, "Honeymoon Lane," will be the attraction in the Nixon next week, beginning Monday night. Its star is Eddie Dowling. The book of the play is by Dowling and James Hanley.

Phil White portrays the role of Solomon Levy in the Anne Nichols' comedy, "Abie's Irish Rose," which will remain in the Pitt Theater for one more week, beginning next Monday night, with matinees Thursday and Saturday.

Another musical comedy artist engaged for Keith-Albee vaudeville is Sidney Marion, who, with a new partner, Ottalie Corday, will present a series of dances in the Davis next week.

Musical Comedy Star

EDDIE DOWLING, star comedian in "Honeymoon Lane," musical comedy coming to the Nixon Monday, also is one of the co-authors of the book of the play.

NEW GONDOLA ROOM TO OPEN SATURDAY

Preparations have been completed now for the formal opening to the public Saturday of the new Gondola room in the Venice Restaurant, 219 Diamond street. It adds a seating capacity of 150 persons. At the opening Saturday night, Etzi Covato and his orchestra are to furnish music for the dancing, later to appear in the Flotilla Club. The Flotilla Club revue is to appear at 7:30 at the Venice and 11:30 at the Flotilla.

NOTED CONTRALTO IN CONCERT MONDAY

Sigrid Onegin, Metropolitan Opera contralto, will sing in the Young Men and Women's Hebrew Association, in the third of the "Y" major artists' series, Monday evening.

Drummond Gives Lily Everything, But, She Longs for Pat

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE

LILLY LEXINGTON, spoiled daughter of the CYRUS LEXINGTONS, is engaged to marry STALEY DRUMMOND, a rich bachelor much older than herself. She is fond of him, but realizes she does not really love him the day after she accepts him, when she becomes instantly and violently infatuated with a taxicab driver whom she sees down town when she goes to meet her chum, SUE CAIN. Forgetting all about Sue, she jumps into his cab and he drives her home. She learns that his name is PAT FRANCE and that he owns his own cab in a company headed by his friend, ROY JETTERSON. She marries Pat. Lily tried, and their domestic ship sailed smoother for a few months. One day Lily met SUE CAIN, an old friend, on the street. Sue invited her to a card party. Lily, without funds, went to a store and tried to charge some clothes to her father. She was informed her mother had left word that "Mrs. Patrick France could not charge things to Mr. Lexington." Drummond pays all her bills, she leaves Pat and goes back to her old friends at home.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

HE pushed her firmly down into a big arm chair, near the fireplace, at the back of the hall, and ran upstairs. It seemed less than a second to her when he was running down the stairs again with her evening coat over his arm—and she laughed again because he moved so fast. She laughed until she began to hiccough.

The next thing she knew some one was holding a glass of cold water to her lips, and she began to drink it.

Then, without knowing how she came there, she was at home in her father's house, stretched out on the flowered damask davenport in front of the grate, with her evening coat still wrapped around her.

She looked up. . . . The ceiling was whirling slowly above her head, and there was a buzzing sound in her ears. Above it she heard Staley's voice.

"Feeling better, dear?" he was asking, and she murmured that she was, except for that horrid dizzy feeling.

She looked around for him and finally saw him sitting beside the claret-colored reading lamp beside her father's old Morris chair. He was reading something written on a scrap of white paper.

"This note is from the maid," he said, bringing it over to her. "She has left you, she writes. Her beau wanted her to be a Christmas bride, and so she is one. She says that she will send for her clothes tomorrow." Lily nodded.

"That means you'll be here in this house alone all night," Staley went on, talking to himself more than to her. He seemed to be doing some hard thinking.

"No use trying to get Sue Cain to stay with you," he decided. "She was three sheets in the wind when we pulled out of her house. . . . How about Ann Barney? We could call her up."

Lily just shook her head. . . . "Hates me. Love with you," she said thickly, trying to explain to Staley that it wasn't fair to ask Ann to come and spend the night in the house with her when she was in love with Staley herself, and therefore hated Lily.

"Leave me right here," she went on, closing her eyes. She wished he would go. She was so comfortable, and she wanted to go to sleep with the sound of the fire crackling in her ears.

"I've got to think of someone to come and look after you. You can't stay here alone, whether you think you can or not," was the last thing she heard Staley say, as she closed her eyes.

She opened them to bright, yellow sunlight that made her blink for a moment or two.

She looked around her. She was in her own room, and the windows were open, letting in the crisp December air. There was a huge bouquet of roses on the table beside her bed, so that the whole room smelled like a rose garden in June.

The door opened and a trained nurse came in—a very competent-looking nurse, who rustled as she walked.

She had gray hair, a cold smile, and the coldest pair of ice-gray eyes that Lily had ever seen.

"How did you get here? Am I supposed to be sick?" Lily asked, getting up on one elbow, and then sinking back on the pillows as she began to be dizzy again.

"I don't really know, but I think not," said the nurse, with a chilly little laugh. "Mr. Drummond telephoned the Central Registry last night and I got the call to come here. You weren't just yourself, and he said you were alone in the house except for him. So I stayed and looked after you."

Lily's eyes widened. . . . Who but Staley would have thought of getting a nurse to stay with her, she wondered? He really was wonderful.

"He takes care of me the way I ought to be taken care of," thought Lily. "But when I'm with Pat I'm supposed to be taking care of him every minute. . . . He's really a selfish beast, with all his talk about marriage being a 50-50 partnership."

The nurse held up the roses so that she could see them.

"Mr. Drummond sent these to you a while ago, and he wondered if he could come and have supper with you," she said. "He said he would bring some things with him. . . . He's a remarkable man, Miss Lexington. He just about supports an orphanage in this town that I know about—"

"I suppose I ought to tell her that I'm not Miss Lexington, but Mrs. France," thought Lily, wondering why Staley had given the nurse her maiden name, as if it still belonged to her.

"Oh, well, what difference does it make?" she argued with herself. "I'll soon be 'Mrs. Staley Drummond' anyway." And the thought filled her with a glow. . . . To have everything she wanted! Everything! . . . The very thought of it was thrilling to Lily after her taste of poverty with Pat France.

That was at noon.

At 6 o'clock Staley arrived, and with him came Ito, the Jap, bearing two big baskets of good things to eat—chicken patties and shoestring potatoes and a jellied vegetable salad and a chocolate cake.

Mrs. Gray, the cold-eyed nurse, had helped Lily to dress in a warm challis house gown, and she and Staley had their meal on a tea wagon before the living room fire.

"Isn't this nice?" Staley asked, when it was over and he was clipping the end from a thick black cigar. "We'll spend many an evening like this when we're married, eh?"

"Yes, indeed," answered Lily, sturdily. The thought of quiet evenings spent in sitting before the fire and watching the dancing flames while waiting for bedtime, never had had a particularly strong appeal for her. She had spent too many evenings in just that way the last few months.

Staley went into the hall and took a folded newspaper from his overcoat pocket.

He brought it back into the living room and read the financial page. It took him a full half hour to do it, and during that time he never made a sound except when he cleared his throat.

"My, but he clears his throat a lot," thought Lily. The nervous little sound made her jumpy.

When Staley had finished reading the paper he began to tell her about a fishing trip he had made up in the Canadian Rockies.

He told it very well, but it did not stir Lily. . . . What did she care about a lot of fish, anyway? Or about the way Staley tipped his canoe?

It seemed to her that his voice never would stop. It ran on and on and on.

Suddenly, for her, he had stopped being the fascinating bachelor with money whom she had secretly met while she was living with Pat. . . . All of that excitement and the need of secrecy was gone now. He was just Staley Drummond, a good mixer and a fine person in a party.

"But I get no boot at all from listening to him when we're alone," Lily said to herself, when he was gone after trying frantically to kiss her and failing.

She was glad he was gone. Very glad.

The clock in the hall struck 10 silver notes. . . . Ten o'clock! That was the time Pat always came home when he worked late. He sat down at the dining room table and fairly wolfed his food, sometimes, in his hunger, and then went straight to bed after 14 or 15 hours of hard work.

"But at least, I loved him—and it was good to have him in the house," thought Lily, and suddenly, just as if a telegraphic message had flashed across her mind, she knew that she was making a mistake in leaving him and marrying Staley Drummond, no matter how much money Staley Drummond had.

What did the things he offered —the comfort, the soft lights and the flowers of his home, the imported automobiles, the clothes—matter, compared with Pat and his love?

"I'm going back to him, whether he wants me or not," said Lily, exactly like a spoiled child who yearns for a doll that she has discarded and thrown into the trash barrel. "I'll go to see him first thing tomorrow or—"

As she started upstairs to bed, the front doorbell rang sharply through the house.

CHAPTER XLIX.

THE nurse came running down the stairs.

"I'll answer the door," she said quickly to Lily. "You get into the other room—out of the cold air."

She had a crisp, commanding way of speaking, and Lily, who never had obeyed anybody, fairly jumped when she spoke and hurried into the living room.

She heard the squeak of the front door as the nurse opened it. Then she caught the sound of a man's voice, and then a thud and a bump. The door closed.

"Mrs. France!" called the nurse, after a moment, "your trunk is here. Do you want me to sign for it?"

"My trunk—" Mystified, Lily walked out into the hall.

There, in the center of the big blue-and-gold Chinese rug that was the pride of her mother's heart, stood a small green tin trunk. The second that Lily set eyes upon it she knew that it was Pat's little trunk. For months she had been dusting it off every day when she straightened up the house. It had stood beside Pat's bed and he had used it as a sort of smoking stand.

"But what's in it?" she wondered. Surely he had not sent her the rest of the clothes she had left at home. The cheap bungalow aprons and lisle-thread stockings that she had bought since her marriage.

It was not locked, and then and there, with the eyes of the nurse upon her, she knelt down and unstrapped it.

"My dear, I'm all-of-a-BIB-and-TUCKer! I mean I'm so exCIted I could BUTter BEETS at this point because I'm actually TOO imPRESSED with this odd BROTHer of ARab's, my dear! I mean he looks TERribly CUTE in his UNiform, my dear, and he's REALly a very sort of STRIking looking PERson and AWfully much a man-of-the-WORLD type, sort of, do you know what I mean? Well, ANYways, my dear, he said he understood PERfectly about the way I ACted when he tried to pick me UP those times down TOWN, my dear before I had any IDEA he was ARab's BROTHer and all, and he said that being in the NAvy you sort of got acCUStomed to surPRISE atTACKS from light CRUISers—can you BEAR it, my dear? I mean I s'pose it's a COMpliment to be called a light CRUISer, but ANYways, my dear, I ACtually wouldn't have b'LIEVED anybody in ARab's FAM'ly could be so TERribly atTRACtive because this BIMbo, my dear, is REALly rather inTRIguing-LOOKing, I mean, and he has TERribly good MANners and all, do you know what I mean? Gosh, he's dif'rent from ARab, my dear, because I mean he's got 'IT,' f'r instance, only I'd hate to FALL for anybody in the NAvy, my dear, because they always have a WIFE in every PORT or something. But I HONestly think ARab should have been the one of that FAM'ly to go in the NAvy, my dear, because he's so NATurally WET—I mean I ACtually DO!"

Madge Probes Deeper Into the Wolfhund's Attachment to Eleanor Lincoln

WHATEVER Mr. "George Logan Jackson's" secret belief as to my knowledge of Eleanor Lincoln's ownership of the dog, Fedor, he gave no betrayal of it aside from the uneasy look in his eyes which I had caught.

"It is a most fortunate thing for me," he said smoothly, "that Fedor has taken so violent a fancy to Miss Lincoln. The dog is not mine, as I explained before, and I am sure, Mrs. Graham, that he has twice demonstrated to you his reluctance to obey me. I have found it hard, moreover, to have him cared for properly at the hotels which are just now my home. Miss Lincoln has been kind enough to offer to care for him while I am in this section, and I am more indebted to her than I can say."

"It is nothing," Miss Lincoln said impatiently. "I am only too glad to have Fedor. Is not that so, old fellow?"

The great dog put up his head and adoringly nosed the slender hand passing over his face.

"We understand each other, Fedor and I," she went on. "I never shall be afraid even in this lonely house with Fedor beside me."

I was narrowly watching both her face and that of young Jackson as she talked. To my surprise there was not the slightest indication in the young man's eyes that he knew of any especial reason for her being afraid at The Larches. There was absolute sincerity in the light, amused laugh he gave.

"You may need Fedor as a cure for loneliness," he said, "but I cannot imagine you needing a watchdog in this peaceful countryside."

"Oh! but you're wrong," Mrs. Townsend interposed quickly, while I nodded my support of her contradiction. "I don't mean that she'd be in danger of her life, or anything like that, but there are plenty of sneak thieves around here in the summer time. They fight very shy, however, of any place where a large and powerful dog is in evidence. Be careful, though, Miss Lincoln, that poisoned meat is not thrown to him. That is a favorite trick of marauders who wish to gain access to a house. I lost a beautiful dog that way only two years ago."

Miss Lincoln turned pale, and her hand twined itself in the dog's silky hair.

"He sleeps on the locked veranda here, and he never will be left alone outdoors for a minute. Indeed, he will be with me most of the time, as he—"

She stopped abruptly, changed the pronoun to a noun.

"As my old Fedor was," the amended sentence concluded, and again I felt George Jackson's uneasy eyes upon me with fear that I had noticed her stumbling.

Unconsciously Mrs. Townsend, who, I knew, had noticed nothing amiss in the colloquy, came to the rescue of both her hostess and her escort.

"I am sure, if I were in your place, I wouldn't ever be separated from him," she declared enthusiastically. "He is the most marvelous thing, and besides when you and he are standing together as you are now, you look exactly like a picture. My word! I've seen a picture somewhere for which you and Fedor might have posed!"

I wondered if the others saw the start which both Miss Lincoln and Mr. Jackson gave, and the lively terror which was reflected in their eyes.

Convince yourself as thousands of others have
— by this personal health test
THE thousands who have made this test were not invalids. They considered themselves well, just as you do. But they realized that something was slowing them up, interfering with their sleep, robbing them of some of the joy in life that should have been theirs.
So they did this: They dropped caffein beverages from their diet for thirty days—made Postum their mealtime drink instead. Before the thirty days were up, they were convinced!
Convinced that Postum is a great drink in its own right—a drink with a delightful flavor all its own. Convinced that Postum is a wonderful aid to health—a drink that never keeps you awake, never jangles your nerves, never causes headaches or indigestion, as caffein beverages do. On a basis of results—because they knew Postum helped them—they made it their mealtime drink for life!
Try it yourself!
Set aside the next thirty days for your health test! Let Postum take the place of caffein beverages in your diet. Then watch your improvement! See how much better you feel! Your grocer has Postum in two forms—Instant Postum, prepared instantly in the cup, and Postum Cereal, the kind you boil. Both are made of roasted whole wheat and bran—no trace of artificial stimulants in them. Both have the flavor millions prefer. Both cost much less than most other mealtime drinks. Order today!

PATRICIA PITT'S COMMENT ON SOCIETY HAPPENINGS

Capital Wedding Gives Society Chance to Chat

JUST when one thinks the seemingly eventless days of February aren't going to offer a single social event to chat about, something always happens. All the social world, including the "stay-at-homes" and the winter-time devotees of Florida and the Mediterranean, will be interested, I know, in an unexpected, and, needless to say, important wedding.

The William C. Dunningtons of the nation's capital have announced the marriage of their daughter, June, to William Dermitt Grimes of South Negley avenue.

The marriage was an event of February 1. After a trip in the East Mr. Grimes will bring his bride to his South Negley avenue home.

Of course you must know that the bridegroom is the father of that young matron, Mrs. William Booth of Sewickley, and of Murray Bell Grimes. Recently, you will recall, the engagement of the latter to Virginia Corbus Patterson, one of the popular members of the younger set, was announced.

News of another wedding of much interest to society folk of Pittsburgh has reached our ears. Mary Elizabeth McKean, daughter of the William Cooke McKean of Uniontown, and Frederick Knightley Hogg, son of Mrs. William Hogg of Saint Davids, Pennsylvania, were married Wednesday in the chapel of the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church of New York. And the Rev. Dr. Henry Howard was the officiant.

Mary has many friends in Pittsburgh, where she has often visited.

One might be so misled as to pity the little debutantes of the season just ended. For a few misguided souls might imagine the buds, after receiving so much attention for several months, must be quite wilted without refreshing parties. The debbies are not being feted, to be sure, but they are certainly finding entertainment. They are nearly all "taking in" college proms or going to the South, the West or abroad. Really not such a dull outlook, you must admit.

Jane Foster, one of the popular buds, will leave next week for Philadelphia to be the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Frazer Harris. And in April she is going abroad. April 11 is the date, I believe, on which she'll sail. Her mother, Mrs. Charles A. Foster, now of San Francisco, will accompany her on her trip abroad. As you know, Jane has been spending the winter with her grandmother, Mrs. Harvey Childs, Jr., of Kipling road. Their trip to Europe is not limited to a few months. They expect to live abroad, I hear, for about a year.

Another bud, Mary Childs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Childs, of Albemarle street, is in Aiken, S. C., where she is visiting friends.

Mary and Jane, who are cousins, made their bow to society, you will remember, at a ball in the Pittsburgh Golf Club on December 26.

The marriage of Miss Eulalia Jones, of New York, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Bristowe Jones, of this city, and Charles V. McGinnis, of Pittsburgh, was solemnized last night at 6 o'clock in the Pittsburgh Athletic Association by the Rev. Dr. A. C. MacConnell. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore robe de style of duchess satin trimmed with satin roses, and her tulle veil fell from a cap of point lace embroidered with seed pearls. She carried white lilacs and orchids showered with lilies of the valley and sweetheart roses. Mrs. A. C. Campbell, of New York, matron of honor, appearing in peach blow satin and carrying Claudia Pernet roses. The flower girl, little Mary Stuart Campbell, wore a long-skirted frock of blue satin and carried a basket of Pernet and sweetheart roses. Lucius McK. Crumrine, of Washington, Pa., was best man, and the usher was Thomas A. Thornton, of Pittsburgh. Mrs. William F. Hessler, sister of the bride, sang, accompanied by Mrs. Crumrine. A reception and dinner followed the ceremony, and later Mr. and Mrs. McGinnis left for New York, from where they will sail on the Leviathan for a trip abroad. After their return, in March, they will be at home in the Ruskin Apartments.

Mrs. Harold F. Latham, who was Miss Phyllis L. Newlands before her marriage in December, and her mother, Mrs. R. R. Newlands, of Edgewood, are spending several weeks in Atlantic City. After her stay there, Mrs. Latham will join her husband in New York where they will make their home.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Harry O. Snyder, of Dickson avenue, Ben Avon, have sailed for a trip to Spain, North Africa and Italy.

B. P. W. CLUB PRESIDENT ANNOUNCES BETROTHAL

The Business and Professional Women's Club is agog with excitement today, for the president, Miss Mary Jane Clark, has announced her engagement to James W. Myers of Crafton, the announcement coming as a complete surprise at a dinner which Miss Clark gave last night for her executive board in the Congress of Clubs. Not only was the announcement a surprise, but Miss Clark followed it with the news that the wedding is to take place at 5 o'clock Monday in Trinity Episcopal Church and that the only guests outside the two families are to be the B. P. W. girls. The Rev. Dr. Percy G. Kammerer, rector of Trinity, where Miss Clark is parish secretary, will perform the ceremony, and upon the completion of an eastern trip Mr. Myers and his wife will live in Crafton, where they will be at home after May 1. Miss Clark is a daughter of Mrs. Martha Clark of Meriden street, Mt. Washington.

With "The Age of Self-Expression" as her subject, Mrs. John M. Phillips spoke to the Hazelwood Women's Club yesterday afternoon, giving one of those helpful talks so characteristic of the head of the State Federation's American home department. Mrs. Phillips spoke of the habit of letting children go their ways and express themselves without guidance or restraint and she made a stirring plea for family conferences at set times, believing that this will make for harmony and will solve many problems. Mrs. Phillips also advocated having instruction for parents, preferably from speakers of the finest types.

Miss Grace V. W. Henderson, of Meadville, founder of the Housekeepers' Club, was honor guest at the annual luncheon with which the club observed its eighteenth anniversary yesterday in the Congress club house. The other past presidents of the club and Miss Helen Grimes also spoke. The program included, in addition to the short talks, soprano solos by Mrs. Catherine Farrel Hargar, who was accompanied by Mrs. T. L. Jacques, readings and dance numbers by little Carmelita and Mary Jacques, and an historical talk by Mrs. J. W. Hanna. Announcement was made of a card party to be held by the club on February 15 in the home of Mrs. George Wise.

The Rev. Dr. John Haynes Holmes is to be the speaker for Rodef Shalom Sisterhood's reciprocity day, Thursday afternoon, in the Temple auditorium. He has chosen as his subject, "Race Prejudice." Dr. Holmes is an outstanding advocate of social justice. He has been minister of the Community Church of New York City for 20 years, is editor of "Unity," and a speaker and lecturer of note.

Mrs. Carroll Miller of the Women's International League for Peace made a stirring plea to the members of the Wilkinsburg Civic Club yesterday afternoon, asking them to write their Congressmen and Senators immediately protesting the proposed naval increase appropriation. Mrs. Miller's talk followed one by Mrs. L. N. Smith on "International Peace."

A valentine card party and dance, an affair that will me a purely social nature, will be given Tuesday night by the Aspinwall Woman's Club, 25 members of the evening department serving as hostesses.

JURY ACQUITS DEATH CAR DRIVER

A verdict of not guilty of involuntary manslaughter, but pay the costs, was returned yesterday in the case of George Darling, 1856 Witmer street, by a jury in Criminal Court before Judge James H. Gray.

Joseph Little, 23, of Murraysville, died of a fractured skull July 6, last, suffered in a collision in front of 8159 Frankstown avenue, between an auto in which he was riding, driven by John Lott of New Texas, and a truck driven by Darling, according to the testimony.

A charge of failing to stop and give assistance brought a directed verdict of not guilty, the defendant explaining that he had stopped and found the injured provided for and then reported to the Frankstown Avenue Police Station.

CHILLY SAUCE

By CHILLY DOYLE

IF Jimmy and Johnny Cooney were able to play regularly with the Braves they would prove to be one of the most popular family combinations ever in baseball. Jimmy has just been sent to the Braves by the Cardinals, while Brother Johnny has been a member of the Boston club for several seasons.

THE pitching member of the family met with a serious injury that kept him out of baseball all of last summer. Johnny's left arm, which is his pitching member, had to submit to the knife, the operation removing many small bones. Fearing he will be unable to pitch, the Boston directors have discussed the probability of making a first baseman out of the pitcher. The fact that he is a clever hitter has influenced this play.

JOHNNY COONEY is just about the last word in modest baseball athletes. The term doubtless is overworked in its many uses, but in this particular case the virtue is there in all its natural beauty. Pie Traynor seems to have analyzed the case of the quiet pitcher of the Braves while the Pirates were fighting the Tribe in their home town.

"THERE'S one of the finest boys I ever saw in baseball," said Traynor after the hard contest. "Johnny has such a nice disposition and he wants to do his part so well that he actually blushes when we make a safe hit off him.

TRIS SPEAKER, who gets an attentive audience when he discusses the art of outfield play, goes out of his way to pay his respects to the throwing ability of Babe Ruth. According to Tris, pitchers who switch to the outfield generally are lacking in the point of getting the ball quickly and accurately to the various bases. But Ruth is an exception.

THERE isn't much in baseball that's beyond Babe. He car-

Coslosky Still High

A THIRD wave of Pittsburgh bowlers made ready today to attack the money positions in the annual tri-state tenpin tournament on the Penn Recreation alleys in the third day of the tournament. Some good scores set up in the second day's competition are expected to totter and fall as the local maple smashers swing into action.

Only one position has remained unchallenged since the tourney opened, Coslosky's score of 594 in the singles competition remaining high. Second place in the singles, held by R. Muck with 573, will be one of the positions likely to be assaulted today.

The Ko-Ko-Mo Kids, riding along in the van in the five-men teams with a fine aggregate of 2,814, and the Votel-Palmer combination in the doubles were two of the new topliners to appear after yesterday's matches. Jarvis bowled a new high individual score of 241 yesterday and tops the lists for that honor at present.

The entire first five of opening day in the five-men competition were replaced by new teams yesterday. The first two high pairs in the doubles were sent scooting down into fourth and fifth places respectively. Hamilton and Adolphson, who were tied for second in the singles before tourney play opened yesterday, were forced down two notches by R. Muck and Rumberger, who turned in scores of 573 and 564 to edge closer to Coslosky's high 594.

THIEL DEFEATED

BEAVER FALLS, Pa., Feb. 10.—Geneva College passers took a dull game from Thiel College here last night by a 30 to 17 score. Thiel was no match for the Covenanters, who at times displayed a fine passing attack.

E. WASHINGTON FIVE FACES TEST TONIGHT

WASHINGTON, Pa., Feb. 10.—Sport interest throughout this district centers in tonight's basketball game between the unbeaten East Washington High School team and the quintet from Bridgeville High, to be played on the East Washington floor.

East Washington High presents a phenomenal team with nine straight victories recorded in as many starts, a record not equalled by any other team in the county and by few in this part of the state. In a previous game at Bridgeville East Washington won by 33 to 21.

The East Washington High athletes have established a record not surpassed by an school in the district since school opened last September. The football team won eight straight games last fall without having a single point scored against it and with its nine basketball victories it has a continuous display of 17 athletic victories without a defeat.

Both football and basketball teams are coached by Wally Parker, former Bellevue High School star.

MATTHEWS KAYOED

Nesbitt at center and Eighmy at guard also starred for the locals, while the leading point getters for the Lewisburg team were Frable and Klosterman.

PERFECT DUCKPIN SCORE MADE HERE

SPORT COMMENT by JAMES J. LONG

CAN you recall any instance of a release being handed to a major league baseball umpire in which the entire proceeding escaped the notice of the public?

Pete McLaughlin

Such a miss would appear to be next to impossible in these days, when the fans keep close tabs on every detail of big league doings, and the major league officials generally call special attention to changes, yet it has happened in the announcement of the National League umpires for the 1928 season.

Pete McLaughlin has been dropped from the National League staff, but unless you were particularly observing and went to the trouble of checking off the names, you would never have suspected it.

FOR all that President Heydler did was to announce that the senior league's staff of umpires this

GAMES TOMORROW NIGHT.
Montreal at Pittsburgh.
Boston at Les Canadiens.
Americans at Toronto.

WITH the Pirates and Montreal Maroons both at the door of a playoff position in their respective groups, tomorrow night's set-to on the Duquesne Garden ice promises to be the most hotly contested fracas staged here this season. A victory for the local skaters will cut down Detroit's lead in third place to one-half game, while a win for the husky visitors will put them into a tie with Toronto for the coveted position.

With so much at stake and both clubs playing their best hockey of the season the railbirds appear to be in for a rare week-end treat. Pirate-Montreal games always have been bitterly fought affairs, but tomorrow night's battle likely will develop into one of those rough and tumble set-tos, with the team getting the breaks coming out on top.

Not since their 2-to-0 defeat at the hands of Detroit January 7 have the Freebooters lost a game on the home ice, and in their last four games they have come through triumphant, all of which would indicate that Cleghorn's puckmen stood a good chance to increase their percentage at the expense of the Maroons.

Olympic Sleds To Be Kept Under Key

ST. MORITZ, Switzerland, Feb. 10.—(AP.)—For protection against tampering bobsleds to be used in Olympic competition are to be kept in sheds under lock and key.

The United States became a favorite for the bobsled event yesterday by taking first and third places in the annual St. Moritz derby. John Heaton, a New Yorker, was victor with his sled "Hell." Lambert, of Belgium, was next and William Fiske, of Chicago, third. Fiske calls his vehicle "Satan."

After the derby Lambert charged that someone had tampered with his sled, making a last minute readjustment necessary. All the sleds were placed in locked sheds forthwith. The Olympic championship for the event will be held on February 17.

The derby was held on the Olympic bobsled chute over a course some five yards short of a mile, each contestant making four trips down the winding incline. Heaton's aggregate time for the four trips was 6 minutes 22 9-10 seconds. His best single dash mark was 1 minute 34 4-10 seconds. Forty-four representatives of 22 nations competed.

There has been heavy betting on the Olympics event.

DR. PELTZER, JOIE RAY IN I. A. C. CARNIVAL

By HARRY MACNAMARA,
Universal Service Staff Correspondent.

CHICAGO, Feb. 10.—Dr. Otto Peltzer, the only living human that was ever able to show that flying Finn, Paavo Nurmi, a clear pair of heels, will attempt to show Chicagoans just how he turned the trick in the eleventh annual Illinois Athletic Club handicap track and field meet at the Riding Club tonight.

Peltzer, however, will be just one of the many featured magnets that are expected to draw the greatest gathering that ever witnessed an indoor track meet in this city.

Joie Ray, the greatest track athlete that America ever produced and in his heyday as great an attraction as either Nurmi or Peltzer will be, making his first start as a comeback after almost two years of inactivity in the two-mile run.

Ray, who has been in the bad graces of the A. A. U., was restored to good standing Wednesday and it is just possible that the chesty fellow may steal the show despite the fact that he will not compete against the German doctor.

Peltzer will compete in only one event—the 1,000-meter run. Ray Dodge and Ray Conger of the I. A. C., and Leo Larrvee of the C. A. A. will compete against him.

Mrs. C. B. Pike, of Kent, O., a former Pennsylvania trapshooter, will be a guest of honor at the Brookview Gun Club tomorrow afternoon at the club's bi-monthly shoot.

Ump Hildebrand Uses Skates In Training

By Universal Service.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 10.—An umpire will try almost anything once. He wouldn't be foolish enough to be an umpire if he wouldn't take a chance.

But it remained for George Hildebrand, umpire in the American League, to adopt the latest fashion in training—roller skates.

George shuns road work, principally because he fears he might be taken for one of Charley Pyle's transcontinental marathoners, which might detract from the dignity of his chosen profession.

OLYMPIC RIDERS TRAIN

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—(AP.)—The United States will send an equestrian team to compete in the Olympic games at Amsterdam, according to an announcement here today. Comish Calls Bud

CHICAGO, Feb. 10.—(AP.)—Paul Prehn, chairman of the Illinois State Athletic Commission, ordered Bud Taylor to appear before the commission's physician today for examination as to his claims of foul which terminated his sensational battle with Joey Sangor of Milwaukee in the seventh round here last night.

Taylor went down under a vicious left hook to the body and claimed a foul, refusing to get up. He lay on the floor six minutes and meanwhile was examined by Dr. Joe Russell, acting for the commission, who decided he had not been fouled. Sangor thereupon was declared the winner by a knockout.

O. S. U. TENNIS STARS ENTER NATIONAL MEET

COLUMBUS, Feb 10.—Two Ohio State University racquet wielders will take part in the second annual intercollegiate indoor tennis tournament, athletic officials have announced. They are Merlin DuBois of Columbus and John Poppleton of Youngstown. Both will compete in the singles and will later team in the doubles.

The tournament is an invitation affair, March 2 and 3, at Cornell University. Competition in the singles will be for the Larned Cup, won last year by John F. Whitbeck of Harvard. Clifford Harsh, Jr., of Williams College was runner-up. In the doubles, Eggman and Garretson of Cornell were victorious.

Teams of 11 colleges and universities participated in the 1927 meet. An even larger representation is ex-

Machine to Test Energy Used in Winter Sports

ST. MORITZ, Switzerland, Feb. 10.—(AP.)—A machine expected to settle for all time whether the physical fatigue and the shock to the nervous system is greater in a ski marathon of 50 kilometers or in a speed skating sprint of 500 meters has been installed in the headquarters of the Swiss Olympic committee.

The electro-cardiagraph is the name of the mechanism which has been placed in a hut close to the start and finish of all events of the winter Olympics. It is under the direction of Dr. Loewy, director of the Swiss Alpine Institute, and Dr. Knoll, chief medical officer of Switzerland.

By its use it is possible to obtain a clear picture of the effects strenuous competition has on the human system of athletes competing 6,000 feet above sea level.

ASPINWALL MAN ROLLS 300

George Albright, well-known Aspinwall bowler, has the distinction of joining the select few who have registered perfect scores in duckpins. Albright, in a match with a Sharpsburg rival on the Sharpsburg Amusement Company alleys at Sharpsburg last night, registered a perfect score of 300.

In the game before the perfect effort, Albright finished with eight successive strikes, which, with the 12 rolled in the perfect game, gave him a total of 20 straight strikes, which is believed to be a record for duckpins in this vicinity.

Albright, according to H. W. J. Miller, manager of the Aspinwall Recreation parlors, where he bowls frequently, is one of the best bowlers in the Allegheny Valley. He several times has just missed perfect scores in duckpins. Recently he started a match with two spares and followed with 10 successive strikes to give him a score of 279.

ROOT ACCEPTS CUB TERMS

CHICAGO, Feb. 10.—(AP.)—The gathering Cubs, preparing to set sail Sunday for their spring training camp at Catalina Island, were cheered today with the news that Charley Root, winner of 26 games on the hill for the Cubs last year, had come to terms with Manager Joe McCarthy at Los Angeles.

Root returned his contract unsigned, but President Veeck and McCarthy talked over the situation and evidently evolved a proposition that proved satisfactory to the Cub mound ace when it was delivered to him on the coast by McCarthy yesterday. It was for one year, but the terms were not made public.

One of the early arrivals of the Cub squad today was Cliff Heathcote.

ROBERT CARTER, representing Kalmer's in the Pittsburgh Three-Cushion Billiard League, succeeded in removing Billy Greenwood, of Ellis, from first place by defeating George Pitfield last night at Dimling's, 45 to 35. Greenwood has a chance to regain the lead tonight when he meets Harry Quinn at Kenny's. Eddie Smith, of Dimling's, turned in the best game of the season last night when he defeated Billy Eichenmiller at Rudy's, 40 to 24, in 40 innings. He had runs of five and eight. The victory enabled him to take third place.

The fourth annual tenpin tournament sponsored by Harry Votel on his alleys, 704 Electric avenue, East Pittsburgh, will be staged from February 27 to March 18, according to announcement today by the management. Teams from Pittsburgh, Greensburg, Jeannette, Tarentum, New Kensington, Irwin, Beaver Falls, Johnstown and other points of Western Pennsylvania have enrolled. Entries are being received by Harry Votel.

Two unusual feats in billiards and bowling were recorded this week at the Stanley parlors in Carrick. Emil Shoemaker, of John street, in a 100-point straight pocket billiard match had a high run of 72 balls, while Charles Schmidt, of Phillips avenue, Carrick, smashed 247 pins in a duckpin match.

VOTEL'S TEAM WINS

Ed Votel's Ko-Ko Mo-Kids of East Pittsburgh defeated Knights' team in a duckpin match game by a total of 55 pins. This team is managed by Eddie Votel, who was the ABC tenpin champion in 1926 and sponsored by his brother Harry, who is one of the old grads in the bowling game. The score:

Ko-Ko Mo-Kids.				Knights
Votel	145	172	111	Alex	134	120	173
McManus	140	136	210	Hoandt	141	140	140
Meros	116	148	165	Sands	174	132	129
Kim	182	213	180	Miller	121	121	147
Fred	182	94	106	Lease	129	147	94
Totals	728	761	788	Totals	735	688	[illegible]

That Ed Votel, ABC tenpin champion of 1926, is rounding into the form which won him the above laurels can be seen by a score rolled in a match game on Thursday night. He started off with a 220 score, followed by 228 and topped this by shooting 266 for a grand total of 714, which is within 25 pins of his high total of 739 at the ABC championship at Peoria, Illinois in 1926.

The Note Tellers scored three victories in the Bank of Pittsburgh Bowling League, thereby retaining their strong hold on first place in the standing. Clearing House was the victim. Haggerty's 215 score was the best of the season. Haggerty also holds the record for the best score for three games with a total of 516.

M'KECHNIE HONORED BY KIWANIS CLUB

William (Bill) McKechnie, manager of the Cardinals, was given a fine surprise party last night by the Kiwanis Club of Wilkinsburg. When Bill left with Mrs. McKechnie for the Penn-Lincoln Hotel he thought he was on his way to the "Ladies Night" affair of the organization, but when he reached the banquet hall he found everything arranged in his honor. He was completely fooled.

E. V. Babcock, county commissioner; Joseph N. Mackrell, register of wills; Samuel E. Watters, secretary of the Pirates, and Jack Onslow, who is to be McKechnie's assistant in St. Louis, were the principal speakers. E. E. Hicks was toastmaster. The invocation was given by the Rev. Harry N. Bassler, D. D.

Wayne Stiles Here For New Links

By VERNON A. SWARTSFAGER

WAYNE B. STILES of Boston, nationally-known golf course architect, is in Pittsburgh to personally supervise the construction of the new Wilkinsburg Country Club links. He says that nothing except the weather can prevent him from having the layout in playable shape by May 15.

"Don't expect to have the regular greens ready for play at that time, but we will have temporary greens that are good—nothing a man can't enjoy his putting on—while the regular greens are in the process of development. The greens will be built immediately, but it will take time if we are going to give the Wilkinsburg members what every golfer wants—good greens," said Stiles yesterday.

He further said that the grounds held by the club were of exceptionally fine soil, and that the course is in superb shape so far as the first nine holes are concerned. It will take a good bit more work before the second nine is opened for play.

Stiles is in Pittsburgh on two missions. Other than the Wilkinsburg Country Club, he has been asked to map out a golf course and look over certain grounds within the city limits with a view to presenting it to the city as a possibility for a second municipal links. An announcement may be forthcoming in the next few days.

"While the new county parks have tended to boost public links golf in this section, there is no doubt but that the district is lacking in municipal courses. I have just signed a contract to draw plans for three 18-hole public courses within the city limits of Atlanta," he concluded.

PENN STATE will begin its annual mid-winter sport invasion of Pittsburgh tonight. To amplify a somewhat plain statement of a fact, let it be known that the Lions' good basketball team, good despite two defeats, will meet the undefeated Pitt Panthers in the Stadium Pavilion at eight bells, and will furnish the fast-stepping Panthers just about as tough a ball game as they have been in, or will be in, all season.

After meeting Pitt, the Lions tomorrow will hop to the other side of Panther Hollow and hook up with Carnegie Tech, whom they defeated a week ago by a decisive score.

State, while able to knock the Tartans off with regularity during the past few years, has been correspondingly unsuccessful against Pitt. Not only in basketball, but in football as well. But that is an old story. Tonight these Lions hope to write a new chapter or two to Pitt-State athletic history.

The task of defeating the Panthers (for such is the hope of Penn State) is a serious one. Eleven teams have tried 1 so far, numbering among their list some of the best in the land. All have failed. Pitt's dozen victories, scored in succession and with no trace of defeat, is the big factor that makes them slight favorites over the Lions this night.

The Lions' record to date is as impressive as that of any team in the East, with the exception perhaps of Catholic U and Pitt. They have won some 10 games, losing but two. Syracuse bumped 'em off the night after losing to Pitt and Penn won a close game at Philadelphia a week later.

Andy Kerr Can't See Change

WASHINGTON, Pa., Feb. 10.—Head Coach Andy Kerr of Washington and Jefferson is not at all in sympathy with the move that will abolish the Central Board of Officials in football and the substitution of an arrangement that will place the assignment of arbiters with Walter Okeson of Lehigh. Kerr believes the action was hasty, at least, and was ill-advised.

"I get the impression," said Kerr, "that the colleges will be forced, either to go along with the new arrangement or select their own officials, the latter being an almost hopeless task and one that is bound to produce chaos.

"A much better plan, to my way of thinking, would have been the establishment of the new group, have it work coincidentally with the Central Board until such time as it could be firmly established and then allow the Central Board to die, if necessary. As the situation presents itself now, the move is one in a backward direction, and, as is natural, many of the schools do not and will not have confidence in it.

"It is a big job to select officials for the important games among the smaller colleges, unless there is a centralized effort as embodied in the Central Board. If I understand the new proposition correctly, the larger colleges comprising a group of 12 or 15 will derive all the benefits and 35 or 40 smaller institutions, who are important, however, in the football field, will be left out in the cold.

"Personally, I am strong for the Central Board. Its labors have always commended themselves to me, and I have always been satisfied with the officials it named for games in which teams I coached have participated. The arrangement in vogue for so many years was generally satisfactory to a majority of the institutions; the new arrangement will require a long time I am afraid to adjust itself to the needs and requirements of the colleges.

"The job of selecting officials is too big for one man, in my estimation. I prefer to depend upon a group of competent men to select the officials, the task being at best a ticklish and thankless one."

Lusty Youth of Today; Giant Tomorrow—Seattle.

By B. C. FORBES

SEATTLE, Feb. 10.—Most cities, especially our western cities, were founded and built up in the earlier stages by individualists, by men of brain and brawn, by the sturdy pioneer type. To them this nation owes much. Seattle was blessed by a rather unusual number of these he-men, men of faith and courage and vision—go-getters, as we would now call them. That is why a tiny settlement has been transformed into a 400,000 city in one generation. The United States has entered a new stage in its progress, its civilization. And new conditions call for new methods. They call, too, for leaders of a different type. How?

OUR cities, our industries, our enterprises have outgrown the one-man magnitude. Just as the powerful, dominating individualist best fitted the conditions of yesterday, the man best fitted for the conditions of today and of tomorrow is the teamworker, the co-operator, the leader who can carry along other men with him enthusiastically, loyally, harmoniously. Seattle does not differ from many other cities in that its progress in certain directions is somewhat retarded by the survival of old school stalwarts who cannot quite bring themselves to sinking their individuality into a group—either for civic purposes or for business growth. I mention this because it is a condition existing rather widely over the country and because it should be faced and, wherever possible, modified without unnecessarily hurting the feelings of the backward looking veterans. The attitude taken might fittingly be "Hats off to the past, coats off to the future—and co-operate."

CIVIC pride is priceless, said one local citizen. "Seattle is not going to be a great city—a great industrial city, it already has arrived." My observation has been that the individual who is cocksure that he has "arrived" is ripe for the return journey. Perhaps this applies in some measure to communities and to business organizations. Frankly I do not regard Seattle as having "arrived," but rather as an infant city that has made a healthy start and promises to develop into a husky giant. The Seattle of today is but an adumbration of the Seattle that is to be. The whole West is but a strapping, dynamic youth, full of life and zest and vim and ambition.

OF course, Seattle has reason for feeling that it has done things on a creditable scale. These facts come from absolutely trustworthy sources:

Between 1914 and 1927 wage earners per 1,000 population in Seattle jumped from 46 to 73, reflecting growth industrially. As a large, ideally equipped port closer to the Orient than any other of the important Pacific coast ports, as a foreign trade center, as the terminus of many shipping lines and four transcontinental railroads, as the distributing center for an extensive territory, as the gateway to Alaska, as a financial and commercial center through being the largest city in the Pacific Northwest, Seattle has a diversification in its commercial life beyond that of a purely industrial city. There are here 1,520 manufacturing plants, employing upwards of 30,000 workers and representing a capital investment of more than $120,000,000. Most industries here start on a small scale and expand out of earnings. The city's advantages for a manufactory include a bountiful supply of many basic raw materials, unsurpassed rail and water transportation, growing markets on the Pacific Northwest, Alaska and the Orient, the islands of the Pacific and the Atlantic and gulf markets now reached by intercoastal steamers and railways, abundant power at enviable rates, a climate conducive to unusual production per worker and a large percentage of native born labor.

FINANCIAL NEWS AND VIEWS

Steel Tonnage Up 303,000.

United States Steel Corporation's unfilled orders at the end of January showed an increase of 303,000 tons over the total reported the previous month. This increase was about what the Street expected, but publication of the figures was followed by a selling drive against the entire market. Stocks in all divisions sagged back, some of them rather sharply, but in certain instances good resistance appeared at slightly lower levels. Steel and General Motors were two of the pivotal issues in which strong support was evident. The rise in the Steel Corporation's forward booking is being accompanied by a gradual firming of prices which will be reflected to some extent in earnings of the current quarter and still more on those of the second quarter. Steel interests are confident that the first quarter reports of all producers will show marked gains over those of the closing quarter of last year and may in some cases exceed the figures of the corresponding quarter of 1927. At the rate steel production is increasing it is not improbable that a new record for output will be set this spring.

Loans at New Peak.

Loans to brokers by New York Federal Reserve member banks totaled $3,[illegible] on February 8, compared with $3,[illegible] on February 1, the Federal Reserve board announced. This is a new high record and surpasses the previous peak of $3,819,172,000 made January 11. The low for 1928 was $3,[illegible], made on January 18. The American Glass Review tomorrow will say that production schedules at plate glass factories were at or near capacity during the week, with the continued steady increase in demand on the part of the principal consuming industries showing no signs of recession. Not much change was to be noted in the window glass situation, however.

Detroit Employment Up.

S. O. New York Earnings.

Consolidated net income of Standard Oil Company of New York for year ended December 31, 1927, approximated $16,327,000 after interest, depreciation, depletion and Federal taxes, equal to 95 cents a share on 17,114,931 shares outstanding. After deducting $1.60 a share to cover dividend requirements the company had a deficit of about $11,072,000. This estimate is based on the letter of Herbert L. Pratt, president, to a group of bankers which purchased $20,000,000 4½ per cent serial debentures in which he stated consolidated net earnings for 1927 available for interest and Federal taxes were in excess of [illegible] times annual interest charges of $[illegible] on funded debt to be outstanding. This is the first time since 1921 that the company failed to earn its dividend. In that year it showed a deficit of $[illegible] after dividends.

S. M. Vauclain, president of the company, said: "Foreign business was satisfactory. Transfer of equipment and operations to Eddystone has been continued and will be completed by July, 1928. Due to obsolescence of machinery and tools that account has been depreciated $1,[illegible]. Standard Steel Works Company issued 29,000 shares of additional capital stock, which was purchased by Baldwin Locomotive Works at par. All outstanding bonds of the Standard Steel Works Company have been retired."

Many Brokers Bearish.

Not in months have brokers been so unanimous in their advice to customers to liquidate holdings. It would seem from a perusal of market letters that the only money to be made in the market is on the short side. By no means is this a sure sign that the course of the market will be downward. It is traditional in Wall Street that when a majority are bearish the market is sure to go up. But sometimes the latter theory goes awry. "Danger signals are out," "profit taking warranted on rallies," "exercise the utmost caution," "market headed for lower levels," "wait for distress liquidation to buy," and "buy on recessions," is what most market letters advise.

P. R. R. Loadings Increase.

NEW YORK BOND MARKET

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—(AP.)—Bond prices showed a firmer trend today, but the volume of transactions was again of average proportions. The advance yesterday in the Kansas City Federal Reserve rediscount rate was regarded as merely another item bearing out expectations that all the regional banks will have established the 4 per cent rate before many weeks have passed.

Demand for railroad liens was somewhat larger, Northern Pacific 6s and 5s and Denver & Rio Grande Western 5s receiving the most attention. Interborough Rapid Transit 5s were offered in rather large amounts, but Brooklyn, Manhattan Transit 6s continued to have good support.

Rather large buying developed in some of the Italian municipal issues, especially Milan 6½s and Rome 6½s. The foreign group as a whole followed a firm trend, with moderate selling of Tokio Electric Light 6s, possible in reflection of the offering yesterday of the New Nippon Electric Power Company issue.

Prompt oversubscription was reported of the $20,000,000 Standard Oil of New York 4½s, offered this morning.

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—(AP.)—Transactions in the most active bonds on the New York Stock Exchange today were as follows, (00 omitted in sales column) (United States bonds in dollars and thirty-seconds of dollars):

NEW YORK CURB MARKET

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—(AP.)—Bullish activities continued with a good deal of vigor during the early trading on the curb exchange today, but it was not long before the market narrowed down and became of a waiting character. In the interval of strength Deere & Co was the strongest feature, being taken by western interests and advancing 15 points to 275.

Aluminum issues were irregular, Aluminum of America advanced over 2 points while Bohn declined over 2 points. Chain Stores were again active and strong before noon, Sanitary Grocery making an advance of 4 points, and pronounced strength was shown in packing stocks, Swift & Co. moving up 2 points and Swift International rising a point. Safety Car and Light made a gain of 2 points. Lehigh Coal and Navigation, which had been under pressure for some time, had a rally of over 6 points.

Newmont, which dropped 3 points at the start, recovered most of its loss. Ford Motor of Canada had a drop of 5 points to 525. Cuneo Press yielded over 5 points in the early trading but recovered about half its loss later. Bancitaly dropped over 4 points, followed by a rally of 3 points.

Utilities were actively traded for a time, but were irregular in their movements, Electric Bond and Share and American Gas and Electric each dropped a point, while American Light and Traction rose a point. Commonwealth Edison, after advancing 3 points, yielded 6 points.

Oil stocks showed a wavering tone. Vacuum yielded more than a point and Continental, which was weak recently, rallied over a point. Standard Oil of Indiana was at a higher level but trading in that issue was extremely small.

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—(AP.)—Following is the official list of transactions on the New York Curb Exchange, giving all stocks and bonds traded (000 omitted in sales column in bond list):

SUGAR MARKET.

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—The raw sugar market was steady and unchanged early today. Operators continued to absorb the offerings of Cubas at the 4.27c level and purchased some 40,000 bags for February shipment at that level. Duty free sugars were available at 1-32 less or 4.24c, but found no buying interest.

Raw sugar futures were steadier on covering and increased outside demand promoted by steadiness of the spot market. First prices were unchanged to 2 points higher on covering of March, which was said to be for European account against sales in the London market. Houses with trade and Cuban connections supplied the demand. Fluctuations during the rest of the forenoon were narrow, with prices at midday about unchanged from initial figures.

A prominent local statistical bureau estimated the world's production for 1927-28 at 25,760,000 tons, and world's consumption at 25,697,000 tons. Last year's figures were 24,567,000 and 24,676,000 tons, respectively.

The refined market was unchanged at 5.90c for fine granulated. A fair inquiry was reported from nearby territory, with beet sugars said to be offered in outlying districts at below cane prices.

DIXIE GAS PFD. MOVES UP

Further strength in Blaw Knox Steel marked the opening of the Pittsburgh Stock Exchange today with the shares moving up in the early dealings to 105, an advance of 10 points in the last week. Several small-lot trades were made on the way up, but the aggregate volume was small, indicating the scarcity of the issue around these levels.

Blaw Knox has not as yet issued its statement for 1926, but the report is expected shortly and anticipation of a favorable showing is partly responsible for the current rise in the shares. There is also gossip of a probable increase in the dividend rate from the present $3 annual basis, but there is no official confirmation of such action being under consideration. The company declared a stock dividend of 10 per cent several weeks ago.

Dixie Gas preferred was another of the high priced issues for which demand was evident. The stock moved up to above 81 as compared with sales early in the week at 80½. Expansion of the gas industry in Dixie's territory is progressing steadily and its business is showing satisfactory increase. Lone Star Gas was rather heavy, but there was no conspicuous selling of the stock.

Carnegie Metals was firm around 23 with the turnover in the stock slightly heavier than the recent average.

CHICAGO BOARD

CHICAGO, Feb. 10.—Activity and lower prices went together early in the corn market today with favorable weather giving an advantage to sellers. Wheat held steady, offerings here being readily absorbed and Liverpool laying stress on smallness of shipments from Australia. Opening ¼c to ⅝c off, corn rallied a little, but then dropped lower than before. Wheat started unchanged to ⅛c decline and kept near to the initial figures. Oats were easy. Provisions likewise tended to sag.

Besides corn belt weather conditions likely to facilitate the movement of the corn crop, friends of higher prices for corn had to contend today with selling pressure from leading operators here who were taking profits. Furthermore, eastern shipping demand was only fair, and word was out that some corn had been booked to come here from the Southwest.

A check-up today on prices at which new Argentine corn is offered showed that Buenos Aires May delivery was 12 cents under February and that no reason was apparent why April shipments of new crop Argentine corn should not sell in Europe 18@20c under present levels of United States corn. The existing price difference at Liverpool on April-May Argentine offers was reported today as approximately 18 cents a bushel under corn from the United States.

STEEL TONNAGE INCREASES

By International News Service.

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—Unfilled tonnage of the United States Steel Corporation increased 302,973 tons in January, according to the monthly report of the corporation, issued at noon. Forward orders on the books of the corporation on January 31 aggregated 4,275,947 tons, against 3,972,874 on December 31, 1927, and 3,800,000 tons on January 31, 1927.

MOVEMENTS OF STOCK PRICES INDECISIVE

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—(AP.)—Price movements in today's stock market were rather indecisive, but the general trend appeared to be downward. Speculative uneasiness over the establishment of a new high record in the volume of brokers' loans appeared to be the chief selling influence, although week-end profit-taking also was a factor. Trading showed a marked falling off in volume.

The increase of 303,273 tons in the January unfilled orders of the United States Steel Corporation, bringing the total to 4,275,947 tons, the largest since March, 1926, was about in line with Wall Street's expectations. Steel common failed to make much response to the announcement, although it was well supported around the 145 level.

Rubbers and oils were under heavy selling pressure as a result of unfavorable trade news. Houston, General Asphalt, common and preferred; United States Rubber first preferred and Goodrich all sold down 3 to nearly 5 points. Dupont and American Railway Express broke 5 points each. Coal and coal-carrying railroad shares also showed a tendency to weakness, presumably in reflection of the unseasonably warm winter.

Bullish operations continued, however, in a few stocks. American Smelting was run up more than 3 points to 180¾ and Vick Chemical climbed nearly 4 points to a new top at 68.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—The cotton market opened easy today at a decline of 6 to 11 points under realizing or liquidation by recent buyers, who were influenced by relatively easy Liverpool cables.

May sold off to 17.75c, a net decline of 12 points, but there was some buying on the failure of early weather reports to show adequate rains in West Texas, and prices rallied on covering to about yesterday's closing figures before the end of the first hour.

General business was quiet, with the market correspondingly sensitive to small orders either way. The official forecast was for further showers in the southern part of West Texas, but good rains are said to be needed in the whole western section.

Private cables reported hedging and liquidation in Liverpool, and that business in cotton cloths with India was poor, but there was a fair demand from China and the continent.

Business became more active and the tone increased in firmness late in the morning on trade buying and covering prompted by the approach of the holiday. Prices made new high ground for the present movement, with May selling up to the 18-cent level and October to 17.70c, or about 10 to 12 points net higher on the active positions. These prices brought in sufficient realizing to check the advance but offerings were light. The market was quiet at midday, with prices showing reactions of 5 to 8 points from the best.

SPORT COMMENT

by JAMES J. LONG

season will consist of the following 12 men: William J. Klem, Charles Rigler, Ernest C. Quigley, Charles B. Moran, William J. (Barry) McCormick, Robert Hart, Charles Pfirman, Frank Wilson, John (Beans) Reardon, Louis Jorda, Sherwood Magee and Albert D. Starks.

It was known that Hank O'Day had retired to a scouting position, leaving a place open for the appointment of Sherwood Magee, onetime Philly star and who led the National League in batting in 1910, but no mention was made of any vacancy provided for the naming of Starks.

A glance at the list will show that McLaughlin has been let go, but whether the failure to announce it was an oversight or the league heads desired to spare his feelings in withholding such an announcement is a matter for conjecture.

McLAUGHLIN holds the distinction of being the only player who ever put Pie Traynor out of a ball game. And that might be cited as one reason showing that McLaughlin sometimes failed to display the common sense expected of a big league umpire, for Pie's only offense in disputing a decision was to say: "Pete, I'm sick and tired of your missing so many plays at third base."

John McGraw.

In the opinion of many local fans, President Heydler could let one or two more of his old arbiters go without seriously weakening the staff.

GIANT bosses are pointing with pride to a record just compiled which shows that over a period of 45 years the New York Club has made the best record in the National League by winning a total of 3,132 games against 2,412 lost for a percentage of .565.

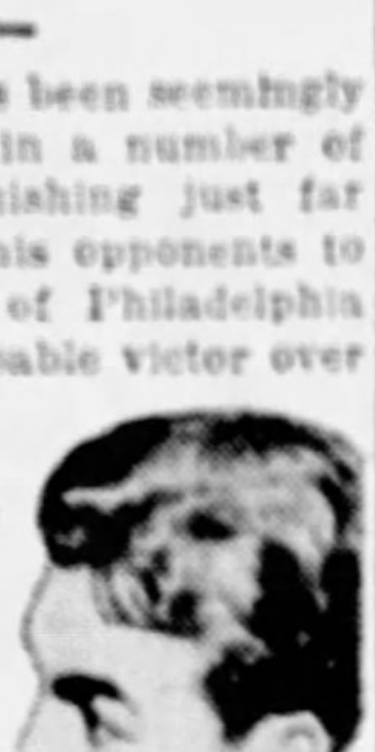
Against Pittsburgh the Giants have won 413 games and lost 380; against St. Louis, won 457 and lost 274; against Philadelphia, won 449 and lost 349; against Cincinnati, won 439 and lost 310; against Brooklyn, won 319 and lost 216; against Boston, won 482 and lost 286; and against Chicago, won 442 and lost 417.

PITTSBURGH, though worsted in the record for all time, has been doing a notable worm-turning act against the Giants. The Bucs have not lost a season's series to the McGrawmen in the last four years, winning three and tying one.

In 1924, the Corsairs won 13 and lost 9, in 1925 they won 12 and lost 10, in 1926 they won 16 and lost six, and last year they broke even in 22 games. In the four years the locals have beaten the Giants 52 times, while losing to them only 36 times. In the preceding five years New York won four season's series from Pittsburgh and got an even break in the other.

That's one jinx the Pirates appear to have routed.

BECAUSE he has been seemingly holding back in a number of his fights and finishing just far enough ahead of his opponents to win, Benny Bass of Philadelphia looks like the probable victor over Tony Canzoneri in New York tonight for the world's featherweight championship.



Tony Canzoneri.

Bass was recognized as the new champion by the Pennsylvania commission and the National Boxing Association some time ago, when he defeated Red Chapman, but the New York commission refused to accept him as the new titleholder until he should meet and defeat Canzoneri, and the debate led to a breaking off of relations between the commissions of Pennsylvania and New York.

If Bass wins tonight, as appears probable from this distance, it will be a moral victory for the Pennsylvania fistic board, but that will not heal the existing breach between the two bodies.

THE sensational bid that is being made for the American three-cushion billiard championship by Allen Hall of St. Louis in the face of the early dope that said he would have no chance against such a strong field as the league presents this year, with Willie Hoppe, Johnny Layton, Augie Kieckhefer, Otto Reiselt and others in line, has been ascribed by some of the critics to luck or the well-known breaks.

But according to the veteran players in the game, Hall, who began the season with five straight wins and has been going at a terrific clip ever since, is winning on his merits. It takes more than luck to beat Hoppe four times and to defeat Layton three times, as Hall has done.

LAYTON himself—and there is no higher authority on three-cushion play—does not hesitate to say that Hall is the most underrated three-cushion player in the game today. Layton insists that Hall knows as much about the angle game as any man in the sport, that it is this knowledge, plus his splendid execution and courage, that has enabled him to keep at the top or near the top since the season opened.

Johnny Layton.

It is more or less of an accident that Hall is in the league at all, as the St. Louis boy, who formerly was Western amateur champion, was taken in only at the last minute, when Gus Copulos, once a Pittsburgh representative, withdrew.

THAT Babe Ruth has a wide edge over Ty Cobb as a baseball player at this late day, but that when in his prime Cobb was superior to all others and the greatest player that the game ever produced, was probably the last opinion on a diamond subject expressed by the late Hughey Jennings.

The last letter written by Jennings was received by a Philadelphia fan in reply to a query just a short time before Hughey's death. The fan had asked:

Ty Cobb.

"Will you please decide an argument. 'A' claims that Babe Ruth is the greatest player in baseball. 'B' claims that Ty Cobb is the greatest. Which is right?"

Jennings answered:

"Ruth is the better player today. He is the better because he gets more hits, more long hits, drives in more runs and is a constant threat to pitchers. He can play the outfield, first base and pitch averagely well for major league competition.

"But if you want to know who was the better player, comparing Cobb and Ruth in their prime, I will answer—Cobb. At the top of his form Cobb was superior to Ruth. Cobb was the best player baseball ever produced. When it came to batting, base-running and fielding he was the best man of all time. And when it came to thinking, no other player ever approached Cobb. He was the superior of Ruth, Wagner and everybody else that ever played ball."

DRAWS FEATURE PALISADE SHOW

Tommy Milton, Toledo battler, who formerly claimed this city as his home, and Tug Phillips, local boxer, couldn't get going in their main bout of 10 rounds at McKeesport last night, and the affair resulted in a draw, and a slow and uninteresting one at that. The crowd did not hesitate to show its disapproval of the slow and tepid action furnished by the fighters.

With the main bout a disappointment, the preliminary boys were forced to furnish the action of the evening. In the 10-round match between Young Rudy of Charleroi and Jack Banty of Wilmerding, another draw resulted, though the action in this bout kept the bugs on the edges of their chairs throughout the greater part of the bout. Banty had to fight an uphill battle to finally force a disagreement of the judges and win Referee Robinson's draw vote.

NOTES of the BOXERS

ANDY TOMOSKY meets Ferdinand Gonzales, a Filipino, in one of three 10-round bouts at Gary, Ind., tonight. Jack Kelly, formerly of McKeesport and now of Gary, boxes Joe Scheelman of Chicago and Jimmy McDemott and Happy Atherton clash in the other events.

Benny Bass should defeat Tony Canzoneri in their 15-round bout for the featherweight title in Madison Square Garden, New York, tonight. Canzoneri is the favorite in the betting, but Bass can display better form than he has in his recent bouts and should be "on" for the battle in defense of his crown.

Willie Davies has a bout pending at Toronto Monday night, February 20. If it does not go through he may meet Midget Wolgast here that night. The proposed Wolgast-Davies show at Motor Square Garden next Monday night fell through and there will be no show in the East End arena that night.

Jack McFarland, Wilkinsburg featherweight, clashes with Jackie Johnston in a 10-round bout at Hamilton, Ont., tonight.

Ukuleddie Owen is the sponsor of an amateur boxing show to be held in the General Logan armory Saturday night of next week for the benefit of the striking miners. He will stage upwards of 10 bouts and will have the best local talent on the program. The show has been sanctioned by the A. A. U.

Jackie Fields and Vince Dundee, brother of Joe, box at Los Angeles next Tuesday night. Mickey Walker is in Los Angeles training for a bout with Cowboy Jack Willis and Paulino Uzcudun and George Godfrey also are there training for their battle.

Louie DeArco, Cleveland featherweight, boxes Johnny O'Keefe, of Columbus, in a 12-round return bout at Columbus tonight. O'Keefe won the former meeting.

Pat Haley and Irish Danny Fagan meet at the Cambria Club in Philadelphia tonight.

Midget Mike O'Dowd of Columbus and Frankie Klick of San Francisco box over the 10-round route in 'Frisco tonight. Joe Lehman and Vigo Doman mix at Los Angeles.

Bobby Burns boxes Al Winkler, Arturo Shekels meets Joey Kaufmann and Benny Schwartz engages Johnny Green in eight-round preliminaries to the Bass-Canzoneri fuss.

Marco Polo, McKees Rocks heavyweight, boxes Babe Farmer in a six-round bout in Brooklyn tomorrow night. Joey LaGrey, Johnstown welterweight, meets Willie Herman in a 10-round bout in New York tonight.

Paul Berlenbach, former light-heavyweight champion, is going back to his first love, the wrestling game, and will make his re-debut on the mat shortly under the management of Jack Curley.

Terry McGovern, Chambersville, Pa., boxer, will be on the sidelines for about four months due to the necessity of undergoing an operation.

BROADWAY FIVE MEETS BUTLER

By JULIUS LEVIN

Striving to remain in the running for the Allegheny County League championship, the Broadway Club will be out to add the crack Butler Veterans of Foreign Wars to its list of victims tonight when the two teams come together on the Broadway floor in Beechview.

Mickey Gross' passers have been working hard for tonight's fray, as they realize they are meeting one of the strongest teams in the loop. The Butler passers have lost two successive games by close scores and they are hopeful of breaking the losing streak tonight. Included in the Butler lineup are Nate Lippe, Shoemaker, Bernlohr, Lefevre and Joe Hartman.

Several new stars have been added to the Broadway lineup for the last games in the second round of the schedule and they are expected to make their Beechview debut against Butler. The usual preliminary game will precede the main attraction.

The Goldensons of the South Side face one of their hardest tests of the season tonight when they clash with the original Duquesne Saltzers, former champions of the West Penn League.

The Saltzers boast one of the finest basketball records ever compiled in this vicinity, having scored 111 victories against only 22 defeats in their long career on the floor.

Although the Goldenson's haven't won a game since dropping from the P. & O. League, they have shown great form and with a share of the breaks should finish on the long end of the score tonight.

Manager Bill Magidson has arranged two preliminary games to precede the main attraction.

DRIBBLES

Duquesne Light scored its fifth successive victory in the second half of the Philadelphia Company League by defeating Equitable Gas last night, 45 to 23.

The famous McKees Rocks Tumblers, leaders in the girls' league, will make their appearance at Fifth Avenue High School next Monday night when they meet the Philadelphia Company girls.

The national duckpin bowling congress to decide the championship of the United States will be held in Baltimore, March 12 to 21. Men and women will compete.

The Haus Recreation girls went down to defeat in a three-game match with the Braddock girls, rolled on the Knight alleys in Wilkinsburg, 1,591 to 1,578. Miss Ludwig of the North Siders was the high scorer of the match with 163. The scores:

SOCCER NEWS

by TOM BIRKS

FANS are wondering just what will happen at that special session scheduled for tomorrow evening, presumably at the Hotel Henry, where two members of the governing body will answer charges brought by local soccer men regarding the conducting of their office.

We wonder whether there will be many technical points stressed that do not mean anything before the session gets under way? That is not the way to get the confidence of fandom in the present controversy. One of the leading members maintains that the governing body has nothing to be afraid of and rather welcomes any probe. If this is true, why should so many obstacles be thrown in the way of a real get-together session that might bring out lots of things.

One thing the last session brought out was a fact long proven in every line of sport, and that is "he that shouts the loudest, says the least." In that room were quite a number of men that had been having the governing body on the pan all season. And always claimed they never had been given a chance to express themselves. This was given at various stages of last Saturday's meeting, but for some reason or other they did not avail themselves of the opportunity.

We would have liked to have read Prof. Guthrie's mind at certain stages of that session. The learned man from Heidelberg sat through the entire session, but if he thought anything, he did not say it. But Guthrie would be an ideal man to bring closer in touch with the governing end of the game.

BUGS BAER Says

BURTON, of Ohio, is soused in tincture of anguish because the House appropriated $55,000 for gas masks.

Mr. Burton was our American inhaler at the Geneva conference, which prohibited the diffusion of poisonous gases in fraternal atrocities.

Geneva is the world's most important city. Until war starts.

Switzerland is the toy center of the universe. But, somehow, Dupont and Krupp seem to get all the contracts for playthings and souvenirs.

ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER.

When we spend fifty-five grand for gas masks we are accused of sour faith by Burton, who played golf with all the peace delegates at Lucerne and assures us there is not a cough in a carload of treaties.

Having assisted in the beating of the sword into the ploughshare, and of the umbrella into a pogo stick, Burton is certain there will never again be war. Or rain.

In addition to the bonus for war masks there is a grand prize of $368,000,000 for the training of reserve officers and other domestic military reprisals.

America is in the same fix as the old fire horse. We have got all our harness on. But we don't know where the fire is.

The diplomat in his heart may say there is no war. The Geneva protocol is a splendid bit of penmanship, but we have never lamped any monuments to handwriting experts.

We want those gas masks for the same reason that Burton wants his goloshes in Ohio. The roads are nice today, but you can never tell what the river will do.

And fifty-five thousand is a small appropriation for gas masks for the Army. It would be a small one for the subway.

Even Burton could have used one among the perfumed Persian and Turkish diplomats at Geneva.

Few people can realize the horrors of chemical warfare. Until they've tasted army coffee.

Burton and the rest of his peace confreres at Geneva wasted two months haggling over poison gas, liquid flame and explosive germs without once denouncing the use of slumgullion in civilized warfare.

The gas mask should be a unit in every mess kit. It is of more value when scoffing an army meal than when attacking the enemy.

If the purchase of gas masks is evidence of bad faith we request another appropriation to make it worse.

Community Chest Plan Needed in Pittsburgh

Some of the leading social and charity agencies of Pittsburgh are among those which have signified their intention of becoming members of the Welfare Fund, or Community Chest, so-called,

That is one answer to the statement of 42 ministers, several of whom are prominent, that they cannot recommend this form for social agency financing in Pittsburgh,

Under the Community Chest plan donors contribute once a year (paying in installments, if desired) and for all the year and for all charitable organizations, There is no succession of "drives" every few weeks and the "tag day" nuisance is eliminated. There is no duplication of effort, Present chaotic conditions are to be clarified by this modern and efficient way of raising and distributing charity funds,

Among those willing to give the plan a chance to demonstrate the claims made for it of greater economy and efficiency, through the elimination of waste and duplicated effort, are the Associated Charities, American Red Cross, Children's Service Bureau, Federation of Social Agencies, Wood Run Settlement, Public Nursing Association, Pittsburgh Milk and Ice Association,

These big organizations evidently do not fear that their work is to be hampered in any way through the operation of the Welfare Fund, which appears to be an effective way of financing our charity, and aims only at that, and not at administrative policies of the various organizations of which it would be the monetary reservoir,

Another answer to those well-intentioned clergymen, we believe, is that the public demands the Community Chest. Never tiring, of course, in doing what it considers its duty toward our unfortunate, the public, nevertheless, has come to believe that a better way lies in the Community Chest. It would welcome a change,

One of the critics of the Community Chest plan, which was recommended after a 2-year survey, says that it has not worked well in other cities, But no evidence of this "fact" is presented. The available evidence indicates other cities are maintaining the Community Chest plan with enthusiasm and success,

Sixty-nine cities of more than 100,000 population, and many lesser places, have community funds. In four of the largest cities pledges to the charity chest in the last three years have been as follows:

	1926	1927	1928
Cleveland	$4,430,665	$4,445,506	$4,524,880
Detroit	3,050,000	2,974,784	3,400,000
Philadelphia	3,120,785	3,138,462	3,270,355
St. Louis	1,644,331	1,702,107	1,775,000

Merely as an experiment the Community Chest is worthy of a trial. Would it not be better for all to give the plan a chance to demonstrate its worth? If it prove not satisfactory the public will not be slow to discard it.

It is conceivable that some small, worthy charities that now are functioning just as they feel they should, may have fears that their work will suffer under the new plan, but the public has no fear that all will not be taken care of in accordance to their needs under the Community Chest plan. On the other hand the public is not altogether satisfied with the present method, which keeps the hand on the open purse almost constantly throughout the year.

Give the Community Chest plan a chance,

More American Ships To Move More Products

Isolation is alike an asset and a liability. It is an unassailable defensive protection in time of strife. It is a grave menace to trade in time of peace.

America is singularly fortunate among nations in its isolation policy, as fostered by natural geographical conditions and wisely guided by the immutable Monroe Doctrine. But that carefully planned isolation never was intended to be extended to our commercial relations with other lands,

Ships are essential to commerce, and America's potential commerce demands more ships than does that of any other nation, We haven't them, and as a result growth of American enterprise, American business and American products is being stunted,

Rear Admiral Charles P. Plunkett, profound student of international relations, has reiterated time and again his warning to this country that American trade is seriously threatened for lack of ships. And yet nothing has been done about it,

American business has the right to demand adequate facilities for legitimate expansion, and Admiral Plunkett, from his intelligent survey through the years of our national needs, recognizes this. But Admiral Plunkett nor any other single individual cannot bring about the needed change in our shipbuilding policy. It is up to Congress to provide the means,

And it is up to all of us to impress this important fact upon the members of Congress,

"Whether we wish it or not, our country's marvelous productivity propels us toward a dominance of the seas,"

So admonishes Admiral Plunkett,

Admiral Plunkett has the courage of his convictions, praise be. Let Congress show the courage to realize the truth and wisdom of his words.

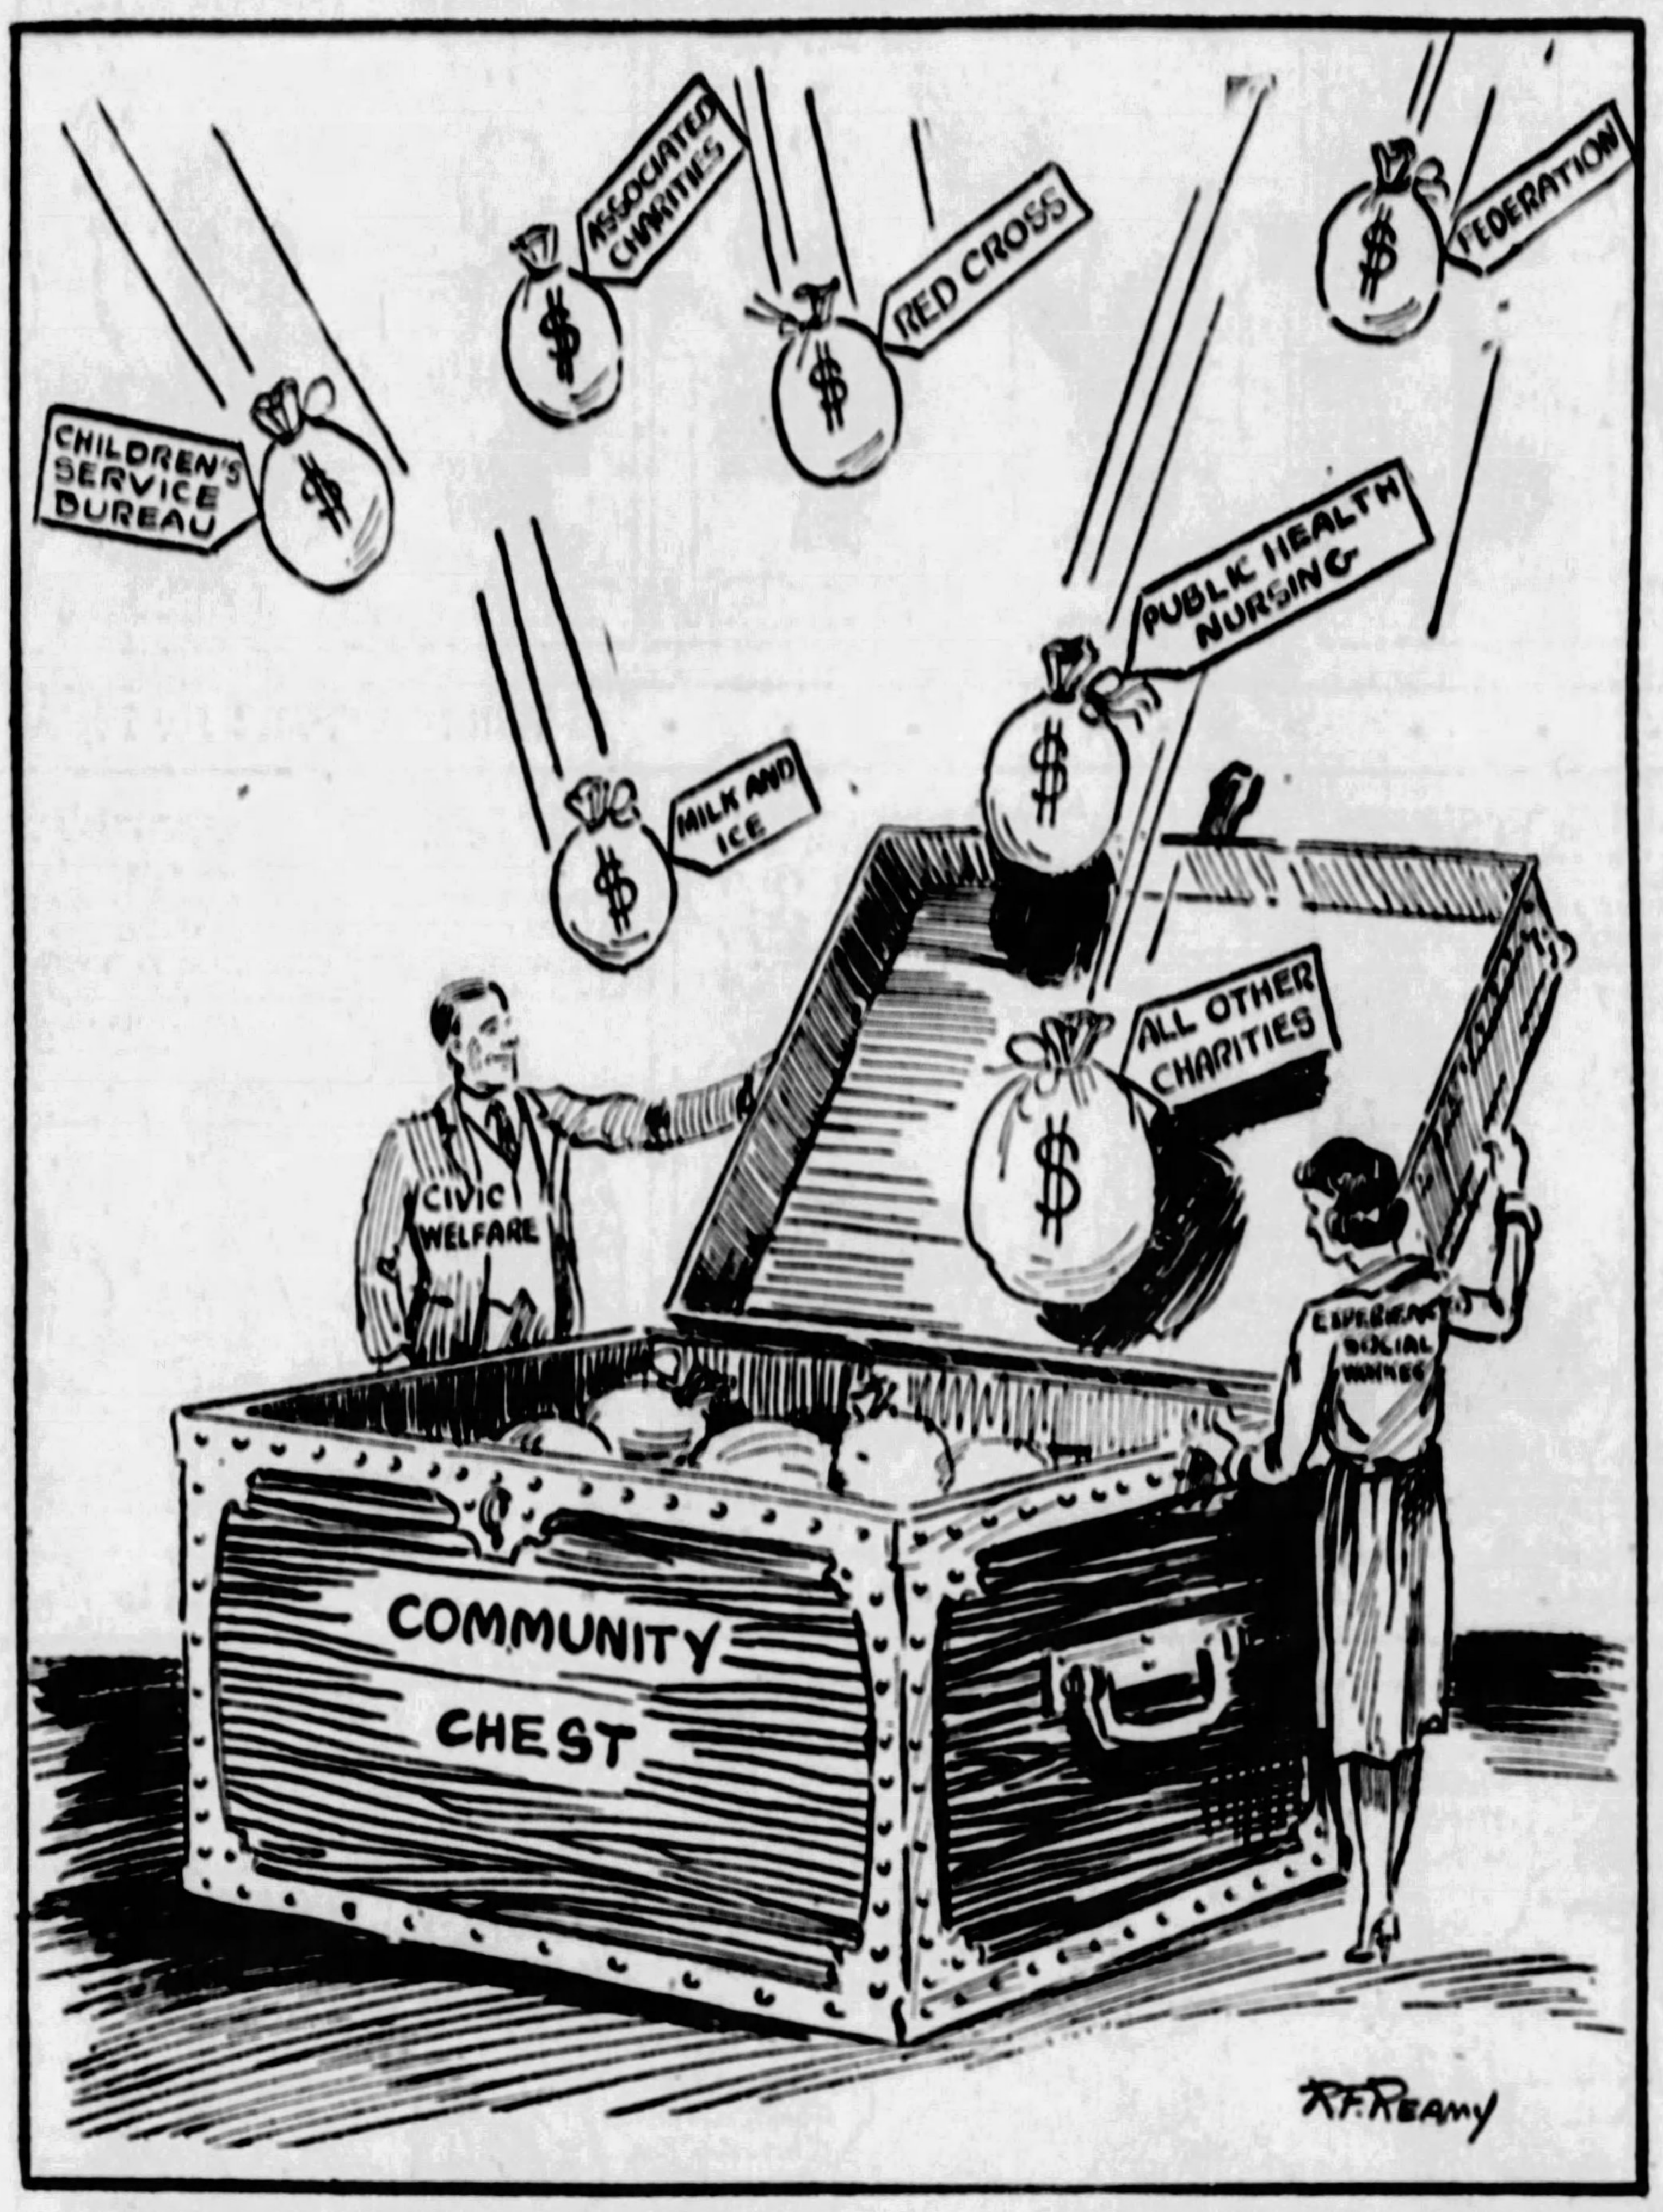
"—WITH CHARITY FOR ALL"



Garrett P. Serviss Says:

Winged Children of the Sun

THE longing for sunlight is felt by all animated nature. How almost agonizing it may become let the sick man's eager watch, after a night of restless tossing, for the first faint morning light on the window pane, be a witness. As the means of travel become more widely distributed, greater and greater numbers follow the annual swing of the sun, going toward the tropics when it declines below the Equator, and returning with it as it climbs back up the ecliptic slope to the north.

But the true slave of the heavenly lamp is the bird, and especially the species of bird called the Arctic tern. Keeping on the American side of the globe, these extraordinary birds migrate twice a year almost from Pole to Pole, the straight distance of their extreme flight being about 11,000 miles each way, between the borders of the Antarctic Continent in the south and the shores of Labrador, Greenland and the Arctic islands of Northeastern America in the north.

Which was their original starting point nobody knows. They may have had their origin in the north, as some ornithologists think, and been driven by geological and meteorological changes to seek a refuge in the Far South, where conditions resembling those of their northern cradle could be found; or the cradle may have been in the south and the adopted home in the north.

At any rate these birds, moved by a mysterious impulse, leave the Antarctic Continent every spring, arriving in the Far North about the middle of June, among haunts and breeding places where they remain until near the end of August, when they once more take flight and return to the other extremity of the globe. Thus their migrations coincide with the declensional movements of the sun. In June, when the sun is nearing its highest northern declination, they arrive in the Arctic, where the long polar day is in full swing and the period of continuous daylight is near its maximum. But as August draws to a close, after the sun has sunk well toward the Equator and the days are noticeably shortening in the north, the terns, moved by a common impulse, start southward and, after spending, it may be, some months on the way, arrive in the Antarctic in time to benefit by the long south polar summer. They have no liking for the heat of the tropics and the Equator, through which, nevertheless, they have to pass twice each year.

December 22, the area of "perpetual day" around the South Pole, attains its greatest diameter, reaching as far as the Antarctic circle. At the pole itself day becomes continuous after September 22, and from that date until December 22 the continuously lighted area spreads outward from the pole. The migrating terns arriving within the Antarctic Circle in the late autumn thus find themselves in continual sunlight. By virtue of its long migrations from one polar circle to the other, the Arctic tern, as William J. Maddox has written, "enjoys more hours of daylight and sunlight than any other animal on the globe. At its northern nesting site the sun never sets during the birds' entire stay, while during two months of their sojourn in the Antarctic they do not see a sunset, and for the rest of the time the sun dips only a little way below the horizon, and broad daylight is continuous. The tern, therefore, has twenty-four hours of daylight for at least eight months in the year, and during the other four months it has considerably more daylight than darkness."

But note this fact, viz. that the tern offsets the length of time that it enjoys daylight with the relative moderateness of the temperature in which it lives. It loves the sun's light rather than sun's heat, yet it seeks no excess, since in the regions of the long polar days the low solar declination excludes extremes of heat, while the presence of the ice and snow insures a stimulating air. But how the young terns, born near the North Pole, must wonder when they follow their parents across the stifling equator!

When Bosses Trouble

A WISE and good boss probably gives the best government, Mussolini, who thinks so, has many admirers.

The trouble comes when the wise and good boss goes and the job is taken over by men not so wise or good.

Popular government has many faults, but the people who are responsible for them pay the penalty and can learn by experience.

Riches and Happiness

YOU are tempted to envy the people you see riding around in beautiful, large cars and who bear other evidence of prosperity, but before you do, study their faces.

You will be surprised at the few happy faces you see.

The few who indicate any real pleasure in life.

The many who look and act bored.

To them there is nothing unusual in the luxuries they possess.

Able to gratify most of their wishes, they have little to anticipate.

One day means little more than another.

Your sphere may be a small one, your circle limited as to friends, your ability to afford pleasure scant, but you really gain much that brings pleasure.

If you had more you might not be nearly so happy.

And isn't happiness a priceless possession?

New York Day by Day

by O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—Thoughts while strolling: A gin-giggly group under a hotel canopy, waiting for a taxi, And it's only 10 a. m. The jovial traffic cop at Forty-ninth and Madison avenue, Georges, the Algonquin headwaiter, Newsboys in curled catnaps between editions, Joe King, the handsome actor,

A spitting of snow, But soon robins will be tugging at worms in the park, Those old men who grease car rails, A piano hoisting and the crowd, Whatever became of Newfoundland dogs? How popular brief cases have become, Wonder if Michael Strange has seen "The Royal Family"?

Street pianos grinding out forgotten hits, Such as "Poor Butterfly," Grantland Rice window shopping, Children in flaming colors, A Chinese driving a taxi, The thick gabble around Grand Central, A woman with swollen eyes, following a handcuffed prisoner,

The shoe shiners with brigand mustachios. Montreal is the new week-end high spot. The Belmont—an old hotel but a majestic manner. Rarely see an optician who doesn't wear glasses. The old fellow who sells atheist tracts, wearing a skull cap and smoking a long cherry-wood pipe.

The austerity of the library lions. A lost child screams—and a corner congests. No city answers so quickly to a cry of distress. Noon parading garment workers—like the run of a loom. Old men with beards. Young men with marcels. And girls with saucy indifference.

That shop selling dead butterfly ornamentations. Push cart edibles—hot potatoes on a stick, parboiled and salted watermelon seeds, giant pretzels and licorice water. The pale, interesting Eva Le Gallienne. A pollparrott and a puppy asleep in a dog store window.

Japanese importing stores with a cathedral eloquence. The Little Church Around the Corner and the usual patches of wedding rice on the sidewalk. The Martha Washington Hotel, for women only. The silk district. And the stroll ends.

Mob psychology plays a big part in New York's real estate development. Two fashionable centers have sprung up in out-of-the-way neighborhoods with the old trick of the sheep tumbling after the bellwether. This is to say, two or three reigning celebrities took up their residence in the new district, and the crowd that could afford it followed. In some cases celebrities have almost been given their homes so as to lure others.

* * *

Hotels, too, opening for an appeal to high-class patronage, have often provided free accommodations to those notables who would accept the hand-out. Thus it is hoped others of prominence might be attracted.

* * *

With the marriage of Big Bill Edwards, New York lost a popular bachelor. This genial 300-pounder has moved in all circles of society. He has been the guest of honor at a street cleaners' ball and led the grand march of a society bal masque at Palm Beach. He has been active in sports since his heroic football days, a consistent first nighter and one of the most graceful dancers at the dance places. If he ever had an enemy no one ever heard of it.

* * *

Incidentally, dance teachers say fat men will rarely attempt to learn dancing, but when they do they are almost invariably more graceful and lighter on their feet than the slim man.

A clerk in a store selling games tells me they have not sold a Mah Jong set in more than six months. And he added he never saw a game pass out of popularity so hurriedly and completely.

A Narcotic Cure?

By DR. FRANK CRANE

The papers one day announced an apparently certain cure for drug addicts,

There are probably 200,000 drug addicts in the United States. New hope comes to them through the discovery of a Hungarian immigrant named A. S. Horovitz. This is not a quack cure nor a money-making investment, but the news of it is contained in the calm professional report of the New York Medical Journal and record.

It has the backing of Dr. Alexander Lambert, once president of the American Medical Association, and Dr. Frederick Tilney, president of the American Neurological Association, who are men of great authority and reputation.

They say they have observed 400 cases which have been treated with this remedy and the results are satisfactory.

The remedy is "a solution of lipoids combined with non-specific proteins and water soluble vitamins," whatever that may mean.

It is said that after administrations varying from 72 hours to three weeks the patients have gone about their business apparently cured.

After a day they achieve peaceful sleep, after two or three days they eat heartily and after four days the craving for "snow" or liquor or choral has left.

The medicine is derived from several members of the vegetable family, such as soy beans and cotton seeds. The proteins come from alfalfa or millet and the vitamins from other plant seeds. It does not contain any morphine, heroin or other habit-forming drugs.

So the effects of it are totally different from the distressing and even horrible influences of other methods. It causes none of those night horrors and insomnia which torment the addict under other treatments.

The patients begin to sleep peacefully the second or third night. In a short time their appetites become excessive and they especially crave sugar. This is remarkable, as almost all drug addicts report a loss of appetite.

Besides this they digest everything they eat, which helps much in the progress toward health.

Under other treatments or cures the patient often becomes hysterical, sometimes maniacal, and attacks his nurses and keepers. Many of the poorer victims commit robbery, assault or murder in order to get the drug. All this now may be avoided.

Developments of this cure will be closely watched by the medical profession.

Perhaps there is no cure for bad habits, including narcotic habits, except the moral cure, a cure which originates in man's moral nature, but physical cures may assist.

Right Angles

By ALEXANDER CAIRNS

With Wife Away

LISTEN, Mr. Man!

Just let your wife stop playing Bridget and go out and play bridge for a full grown week, and you'll get a liberal education in the perplexities of culinary and domestic life.

Better yet, change clothes with her and let her, togged out with cane and cigar, commute to your sinecure for a bunch of days. And do you climb into a skirt and an apron and have your Samson locks bobbed by some Delilah and then be "Queen of the Kitchen" for an interregnum.

At the end of your term of culinary incarceration you might record in your diary (the place where you may be honest), a few conclusions like these:

The husband works from sun to sun but wifie's work is never done. There is no balance to the ledger of her days. She is like the youth who quit the farm because he got tired of hoeing corn all day and milking cows all night. The word darn is a mild expression of what the wife does to the socks and stockings after the day is done. And every nook and corner of the house is a voice calling her to get busy.

It is hard to set a Delmonico table with a Calaban purse. Banquet beverages don't drop with the rain, and tidbits and niceties aren't deliever gratis with the morning paper. It is easy to spend more for a city dinner with cover charge than would feed the wife and posterity for a day. And yet the grocer and the butcher have the bill habit and have never advocated forcible feeding as a means of clearing their shelves.

It is not conducive to the beauty of the cook's spiritual contour to have her consort late for meals sans reason or care. Especially if he has the oratory of a boor and growls at cold potatoes and leathery toast, and raises Gehenna if meals are late. The cook appreciates punctuality and a wolverine appetite and a dinner smile and a little bouquet of kindly words about the ambrosial repast.

Nor is it very conducive to the longevity of domestic joy for his lordship to grow cocktail feathers and turn night owl while love tormented with worry waits sleeplessly at home for the sound of the prodigal feet. Unless your marriage was a misalliance and your wife was a golddigger and married a meal ticket, your companionship is more to her than the bedazzlements of royalty or the frippery of plutocracy. And how slowly the clock hands move when they pass the schedule hour!

You say, "the woman's place is in the home," and the wife says, "the husband's place is in the home," and both are right. Parenthood is a company, not an individual. That play-work of child companionship is imperative on father, too, and no women ever lived who could fill up the measure of a father's obligation. The Lares and Penates, domestic gods of the home, will not brook without retribution the neglect of the children.

Try it, Mr. Man, and then finish this chapter!
